The People Of New East City:

The Changing Middle Eastern City G.H. Blake, R.I. Lawless, 2016-03-22 The Middle East defined here as extending from Morocco to Iran and Turkey to Sudan lies at the crossroads of three continents Africa Asia and Europe With the largest reserves of petroleum in the world its importance is well beyond its physical size and population Rapid urban growth has radically transformed Middle Eastern society in recent decades but the associated problems are incompletely understood This volume first published in 1980 highlights some of the major issues of Middle Eastern urbanisation and provides a comprehensive statement about the current position of research Urban origins and the nature of urban growth are discussed to provide a background to considerations of migration employment housing and retailing The contributors suggest that planning strategies have hitherto proved inadequate with small towns being largely overlooked historic quarters rapidly disappearing and water in short supply Future research into all these problem areas is considered essential but the research must be coordinated and utilised Concentrating on practical problems achievements and challenges for research the contributions in this book specially commissioned from active researchers in the field will prove a valuable guide to recent ideas and developments in the Middle East

Laws of the State of New York New York (State), Colonial Heritage and Urban Transformation in the Global South Christian Ernssten, 2021-10-27 This book traces and analyses the role of heritage in the urban transformation of the city of Cape Town By looking at discourses of heritage and urban design the book shows how Cape Town positions itself as an emerging global city in the context of a series of global events The book points at how a heritage focus on the themes of post colonial and post apartheid reconciliation restitution and memory in the city shifts to a focus on creativity design and the arts Thereby showing how traumatic remnants of colonialism and apartheid are reframed as design challenges Furthermore it argues that the idea of a transformed society is projected into a future time and the chaotic present everyday life is left to its own devices Against this backdrop the book lays out the opportunities for epistemological reset and decolonial reflection on the city's deep histories its embedded injustices and traumas that surfaced
