China and Japan in the Russian Imagination, 1685-1922 Susanna Soojung Lim,2013-03-05 Throughout the centuries as Russia strove to build itself into an imperial power equal to those in the West China and Japan came to occupy a special place in Russians view of the orient Never colonised by Russia or the West China and Japan were linked not only to the greatest of Russian imperial fantasies but also conversely to a deep sense of insecurity regarding Russia s place in the world a sense of insecurity which deepened as China and Japan began to modernise in the later nineteenth century Drawing on a wide range of works by Russian writers and thinkers Lim sets out how Russian perceptions of China and Japan were formed from Muscovy s first contacts with China in the late seventeenth century through to the aftermath of Russia s defeat by Japan in the early twentieth century The Dawn of a New Age Eugene Rabinowitch,1963 A collection of essays reflecting the authors views on science and the implications of nuclear age after the dropping of the atomic bomb in 1945 Alliance of the Colored Peoples Joseph Calvitt Clarke,2011 A detailed examination of Ethiopian Japanese relations from their beginnings in the interwar period through the Italo Ethiopian War of 1935 6 drawing on Japanese Russian Italian French and English sources With the Japanese posing as the leader of the world s colored peoples before World War II many Ethiopians turned to Japan for inspiration By offering them commercial opportunities by seeking their military support and by reaching out to popular Japanese opinion Ethiopians tried to soften the stark reality of a stronger Italy encroaching on their country Europeans feared Japan s growing economic and political influence in the colonial world Jealously guarding its claimed rights in Ethiopia against all comers among Italy's reasons for going to war was the perceived need to blunt Japan's commercial and military advances into Northeast Africa. Meanwhile throughout 1934 and the summer of 1935 Moscow worked hard and in ways contrary to its claimed ideological imperatives to make Collective Security work. Ethiopia was a small price to pay Italy for cooperation against Nazi Germany in Austria and Imperial Japan in China. Yellow Japanese and black Ethiopian collaboration before the war illuminates the pernicious and flexible use of race in international diplomacy. In odious terms Italians used race to justify their actions as defending western and white civilization. The Japanese used race to explain their tilt toward Ethiopia. The Soviets used race to justify their support for Italy until late 1935. Ethiopia used race to attract help and colored peoples worldwide rallied to Ethiopia's call. J. Calvitt Clarke III is Professor Emeritus of History at Jacksonville University, Florida.

India and China in the Colonial World Madhavi Thampi, 2017-07-06 India and China in the Colonial World brings together thirteen essays by eminent Indian and Chinese scholars as well as young researchers who look at the multidimensional interaction between the two countries. This interaction was of many kinds and took place at various levels. This volume casts new light on some of the problems that have confronted the relations between India and China as new states and in doing so challenges stereotyped images of this relationship. The major areas of India-China relationships covered in this book include some aspects of the situation during and after World War II. Some papers such as those on the importance of Shanghai in Sino-Indian trade, the presence of the Chinese community in India and Indians in China, Indian fighters in the Taiping Rebellion, Gandhi and the Chinese in South Africa and ties between south west China and north east India during World War II present the findings of new research. Others such as those pertaining to India-China relations in the period such as the opium trade, the controversial visit of Rabindranath Tagore to China and the complexity of Subhash Chandra Bose's position with relation to both China and Japan have been put in a new light. The essays in this book are particularly relevant as they help to understand the relationship between India and China in the context of a historical perspective.

New Century, Same Shit: The First Decade , Understanding Creative Users of ICTs David Kurt Herold,Harmeet Sawhney,Leopoldina Fortunati,2013-09-13 The disjuncture between the design intent of the developers of ICTs and the needs of the users has often led to surprising use of new technologies as users have refused to become mere agents of the designers Individual users have adopted their own uses of ICTs based on the complex webs of relations and meanings in which they function as social actors Instead of adjusting these webs to new ICTs they have fit the ICTs into their pre existing social webs often resulting in imaginative and creative uses of new technologies not envisaged by the original designers The contributions in this volume provide studies of such integrations of ICTs into the lives of human users and demonstrate that such uses should not be regarded as faulty or mistaken merely because they fail to meet the expectations of the original designers of the ICTs Instead human users should be given precedence over ICTs and the creative uses of universal technologies by individual users should be emphasised and studied so as to move towards a better understanding and appreciation of the integration of ICTs into human lives This book was originally published as special issue of The Information Society The Literary Digest ,1893 Dawn of a New Era Maurice Ashley,1974 Traces milestones in history from the founding of the order of St Francis in 1290 to the defeat of the Ottoman Turks in 1402 The Reform Advocate ,1904 Report to Congress of the U.S.-China Economic and Security Review Commission U.S.-China
