The Peoples War Pictures From The Past:

The People's War Robert W. Thurston, Bernd Bonwetsch, 2000 The People's War lifts the Stalinist veil of secrecy to probe an almost untold side of World War II the experiences of the Soviet people themselves Going beyond dry and faceless military accounts of the eastern front of the Great Patriotic War and the Soviet state's one dimensional heroic People this volume explores how ordinary citizens responded to the war Stalinist leadership and Nazi invasion Drawing on a wealth of archival and recently published material contributors detail the calculated destruction of a Jewish town by the Germans and present a chilling picture of life in occupied Minsk They look at the cultural developments of the war as well as the wartime experience of intellectuals for whom the period was a time of relative freedom They discuss women's myriad roles in combat and other spheres of activity They also reassess the behavior and morale of ordinary Red Army troops and offer new conclusions about early crushing defeats at the hands of the Germans defeats that were officially explained as cowardice on the part of high officers A frank investigation of civilian life behind the front lines The People's War provides a detailed balanced picture of the Stalinist USSR by describing not only the command structure and repressive power of the state but also how people reacted to them cooperated with or opposed them and adapted or ignored central policy in their own ways By putting the Soviet people back in their war this volume helps restore the range and complexity of human experience to one of history's most savage periods

The Peoples' War? Alexander Wilson, Richard Hammond, Jonathan Fennell, 2022-11-15 Some 60 million people died during the Second World War millions more were displaced in Europe Africa and Asia The war resulted in the creation of new states the acceleration of imperial decline and a shift in the distribution of global power Despite its unprecedented impact a comprehensive account of the complex international experiences of this war remains elusive The Peoples War offers fresh approaches to the challenge of writing a new history of the Second World War Exploring aspects of the war that have been marginalized in military and political studies the volume foregrounds less familiar narratives subjects and places Chapters recover the wartime experiences of individuals including women children members of minority ethnic groups and colonial subjects whose stories do not fit easily into conventional national war narratives The contributors show how terms used to delineate the conflict such as home front and battle front occupier and occupied captor and prisoner and friend and foe became increasingly blurred as the war wore on Above all the volume encourages reflection on whether this conflict really was a Peoples War Challenging the homogenizing narratives of the war as a nationally unifying experience The Peoples War seeks to enrich our understanding of the Second World War as a global event

The People's Wars Mark Hewitson, 2017 The second of three volumes from Mark Hewitson which explore the experiences of conflict in modern Germany and the resounding impact of these across Europe and the world The People's War takes a new look at the wars of unification and charts the rise of nationalism and the breakdown of the existing state system in the 1850s and 1860s

Maoist People's War and the Revolution of Everyday Life in Nepal Ina Zharkevich, 2019-05-09 By providing a rich ethnography of wartime social processes in the former Maoist heartland of Nepal this book explores how the Maoist People's War 1996-2006 transformed Nepali society Drawing on long term fieldwork with people who were located at the epicentre of the conflict including both ardent Maoist supporters and reluctant rebels it explores how a remote Himalayan village was forged as the centre of the Maoist rebellion how its inhabitants coped with the situation of war and the Maoist regime of governance and how they came to embrace the Maoist project and maintain ordinary life amidst the war while living in a guerilla enclave By focusing on people's everyday lives the book illuminates how the everyday became a primary site of revolution of crafting new subjectivities introducing new social practices and displacing the old ones and reconfiguring the ways that people act in and think about the world through the process of embodied change Creating the people's war Jessica Hammett, 2022-08-02 Why has the people's war been such a durable and attractive myth Creating the people's war examines how civil defence personnel engaged with this narrative during the war and in the following decades to answer this question Civil defence was the most significant voluntary organisation of the Second World War involving millions of men and women of every class generation and locality in Britain This book shows how local communities of civil defence personnel co-developed narratives about the value of their work which challenged hierarchies of war service In their social groups volunteers wrote themselves into the people's war and invested it with meaning creating national identity from the bottom up Community was both central to these representations and vital for their production People's War J. L. S. Girling, 2013-11-05 First published in 1969 The consequences in this book refer to Peking's policy on people's war and to US counter measures and the effect of these in South East Asia The author argues that on the whole China under Communism was a better place for the majority of people than it was under the Kuomintang Contents include Revolution and Intervention in South East Asia Communist Revolts 1948 Sino Soviet Dispute US reaction the Vietnam Commitment China Conditions for Success The Struggle for Vietnam August Insurrection China in Maphilindo Lessons from Malaya and the Philippines Peace and the Tet Offensive War Dog: Fighting Other People's Wars: The Modern Mercenary in Combat Al J. Venter, 2006 As Peking Sees Us: "People's War" in the United States & Communist China's America Policy H. C. Ling, Yuan-li Wu, 1969 Images of "Hua Mulan" in Films of the Past Century Changes of Chinese Social Focus Shown on the Silver Screen Tian Yuan, 2019-11-01 Recounting the Memories of Bangladesh's Liberation War Smruti S. Pattanaik, 2024-02-08 This book encapsulates the creation of Bangladesh with stories of some of those who made it happen from the perspectives of people who fought for recognition of Bangla as one of the state languages of Pakistan those who brought the stories of war to life as it progressed through the Swadhin Bangla Betar Kendro operations by valiant military men sacrifices of Birangonas women of valour whose contribution to the liberation of Bangladesh has often been neglected martyrs who laid down their lives for the birth of the nation and those who worked among the freedom fighters and refugees and kept their morale high The emergence of Bangladesh in 1971 shaped both the nation and its narratives that revolved around partition of the subcontinent earlier in 1947 The history of Bangladesh was rewritten from the people's perspective The struggle of individuals and families who contributed to the liberation of Bangladesh is etched in blood and it is but natural that their perspectives would inform those interested in studying the history of liberation in a larger context More than fifty years have passed since Bangladesh was liberated Yet stories of individual suffering sacrifices and contributions illustrate how people endured the repression inflicted by the Pakistan Army on them and yet fought gallantly Three million were killed 2 million were raped and 10 million became refugees in India Bangladesh's liberation war also represents the struggle of a people to preserve their culture and identity This book captures all these and much more bringing in reminiscences of what 1971 represented to those who contributed directly to the war of liberation The book will be of interest to scholars and researchers of politics and international relations partition studies South Asian studies and refugee and diaspora studies The chapters in this book were originally published in Strategic Analysis

From People's War to People's Rule Timothy J. Lomperis, 2000-11-09 Timothy Lomperis persuasively argues the ironic point that the lessons of American involvement in Vietnam are not to be found in any analysis of the war by itself Rather he proposes a comparison of the Vietnam experience with seven other cases of Western intervention in communist insurgencies during the Cold War era China Indochina Greece the Philippines Malaya Cambodia and Laos Lomperis maintains that popular insurgencies are manifestations of crises in political legitimacy which occur as a result of the societal stresses caused by modernization Therefore he argues any intervention in a people's war will succeed or fail depending on how it affects this crisis The unifying theme in the cases Lomperis discusses is the power of land reform and electoral democracy to cement political legitimacy and therefore deflect revolutionary movements Applying this theory to the ongoing Sendero Luminoso insurgency in Peru Lomperis makes a qualified prediction of that conflict's outcome He concludes that a global trend toward democratization has produced a new era of people's rule

People's War (RLE Modern East and South East Asia) J.L.S. Girling, 2017-09-19 This book first published in 1969 casts a critical eye over the problem of insurgency The author sees insurgency not just as a matter of technique military tactics or organizational skill nor as the result of force and fraud but as people's war the conditions in which the mass of the people become involved voluntarily or otherwise on either side He quotes Nasution's statement The guerrilla movement is only the result not the cause of the problem People's war brings the peasantry hitherto ignorant apathetic or rejected into the political process For war is the continuation of politics by other means In Asia this was essentially a peasant's war arising when peasant grievances interests or demands cannot be met under the existing legitimate but urban or landowner orientated system of rule It shows little understanding to blame outside intervention when peasant and nationalist unrest leads to revolt The Chinese Communists did not owe success to Soviet aid the Vietminh to Chinese assistance or the Vietcong to North Vietnamese intervention The conclusion applies to governments as to insurgents no amount of outside aid can win the war for them if they themselves are incapable and the people on whom they depend for support have no will to fight This book based on first hand experience of the area and on study of original sources offers 1 an analysis of people s war in China Indochina and Vietnam 2 a critique of US policy in Laos and Vietnam and 3 a comparison with counter measures in Malaya the Philippines and Indonesia It is both original and constructive

Military Art of People's War Vo Nguyen Giap, 1970-08 This collection includes the major writings of General Giap who on the evidence of his record as well as his theoretical work has long been recognized as one of the military geniuses of modern times The book includes writings from the 1940s to the end of the 1960s Which People's War? Sonya O.

Rose, 2004-07-01 Which People s War examines how national belonging or British national identity was envisaged in the public culture of the World War II home front Using materials from newspapers magazines films novels diaries letters and all sorts of public documents it explores such questions as who was included as British and what did it mean to be British How did the British describe themselves as a singular people and what were the consequences of those depictions It also examines the several meanings of citizenship elaborated in various discussions concerning the British nation at war This investigation of the powerful constructions of national identity and understandings of citizenship circulating in Britain during the Second World War exposes their multiple and contradictory consequences at the time It reveals the fragility of any singular conception of Britishness even during a war that involved the total mobilization of the country s citizenry and cost 400 000 British civilian lives People's Wars in China, Malaya, and Vietnam Marc Oppen, 2019-11-08 People s Wars in China

Malaya and Vietnam explains why some insurgencies collapse after a military defeat while under other circumstances insurgents are able to maintain influence rebuild strength and ultimately defeat the government The author argues that ultimate victory in civil wars rests on the size of the coalition of social groups established by each side during the conflict When insurgents establish broad social coalitions relative to the incumbent their movement will persist even when military defeats lead to loss of control of territory because they enjoy the support of the civilian population and civilians will not defect to the incumbent By contrast when insurgents establish narrow coalitions civilian compliance is solely a product of coercion Where insurgents implement such governing strategies battlefield defeats translate into political defeats and bring about a collapse of the insurgency because civilians defect to the incumbent The empirical chapters of the book consist of six case studies of the most consequential insurgencies of the 20th century including that led by the Chinese Communist Party from 1927 to 1949 the Malayan Emergency 1948 1960 and the Vietnam War 1960 1975 People s Wars breaks new ground in systematically analyzing and comparing these three canonical cases of insurgency The case studies of China and Malaya make use of Chinese language archival sources many of which have never before been used and provide an unprecedented level of detail into the workings of successful and unsuccessful insurgencies The book adopts an interdisciplinary approach and will be of interest to both political scientists and historians Exhibiting the Past Kirk A. Denton, 2013-12-31 During the Mao era China s museums served an explicit and uniform propaganda function underlining official Party history eulogizing revolutionary heroes and contributing to nation building and socialist construction With the implementation of the post Mao modernization program in the late 1970s and 1980s and the advent of globalization and market reforms in the 1990s China underwent a radical social and economic transformation that has led to a vastly more heterogeneous culture and polity Yet China is dominated by a single Leninist party that continues to rely heavily on its revolutionary heritage to generate political legitimacy With its messages of collectivism self sacrifice and class struggle that heritage is increasingly at odds with Chinese society and with the state's own neoliberal ideology of rapid paced development glorification of the market and entrepreneurship In this ambiguous political environment museums and their curators must negotiate between revolutionary ideology and new kinds of historical narratives that reflect and highlight a neoliberal present In Exhibiting the Past Kirk Denton analyzes types of museums and exhibitionary spaces from revolutionary history museums military museums and memorials to martyrs to museums dedicated to literature ethnic minorities and local history He discusses red tourism a state sponsored program developed in 2003 as a new form of patriotic education designed to make revolutionary history come alive and urban planning exhibition halls which project utopian visions of China's future that are rooted in new conceptions of the past Denton's method is narratological in the sense that he analyzes the stories museums tell about the past and the political and ideological implications of those stories Focusing on official exhibitionary culture rather than alternative or counter memory Denton reinserts the state back into the discussion of postsocialist culture because of its centrality to that culture and to show that state discourse in China is neither monolithic nor unchanging The book considers the variety of ways state museums are responding to the dramatic social technological and cultural changes China has experienced over the past three decades

Advertising and Propaganda in World War II David Clampin, 2014-03-21 The Blitz the period of Nazi bombing campaigns on civilian Britain during World War II was a formative period for British national identity In this groundbreaking book David Clampin looks at the images campaigns and slogans which helped to form the fabled Blitz spirit powerfully echoed in Winston Churchill's speeches Because advertisers attempted to capitalise on war time patriotism Clampin's unique focus on advertising provides a visually rich seam of new information on the everyday war and makes an enormous contribution to the debate on people's experiences of war and nationalism Using a remarkable and hitherto unseen range of primary source material advertisements in the press slogans and posters this work will reshape the contested meanings of the Home Front opening up cultural history discourses on gender and nationalism Advertising and Propaganda in World War II is essential reading for historians of World War II as well as students and scholars of Media Studies and Communication Studies

The People's War Juliet Gardiner, 1991 Reconstructing the Past Sian Nicholas, Tom O'Malley, Kevin Williams, 2013-09-13 Bringing together a team of history and media researchers from across Britain and Europe this volume provides readers with a themed discussion of the range and variety of the media's engagement with history and a close study of the relationship between media history and national identity

Dispatches From the People's

War in Nepal Li Onesto, 2004-11-20 A Maoist revolution has been raging in Nepal since 1996. In 1999 Li Onesto became the first foreign journalist to travel deep into the guerrilla zones. Allowed unprecedented access, she interviewed political leaders, guerrilla fighters, villagers in areas under Maoist control, and relatives of those killed by government forces. Millions in Nepal now live in areas under guerrilla control. Peasants are running grass roots institutions exercising what they call people's power. Li Onesto describes these transformations: the establishment of new governing committees and courts, the confiscation and redistribution of land, new cultural and social practices, and the emergence of a new outlook. Increasingly, the UK and US have directly intervened to provide political and military support to the counterinsurgency efforts of the Nepalese regime. Onesto analyzes this in the context of the broader international situation and the war on terrorism.
