The Information-poor in America Thomas Childers, Joyce A. Post, 1975 Poor People and Library Services Karen M. Venturella, 2015-11-16 In 1996 nearly 40 million United States citizens were reported to be living in poverty This enormous number set in conjunction with the rapid growth in demand for more information technology presents librarians with a wrenching dilemma how to maintain a modern facility while increasing services to the economically disadvantaged Karen Venturella has gathered a diverse group of librarians and facilitators including Khafre Abif head of Children s Services for the Mount Vernon Public Library in New York Wizard Marks who directs the Chicago Lake Security Center in its mission to improve the area Lillian Marrero who has concentrated on providing services to the Spanish speaking population Kathleen de la Pena McCook director of the School of Library and Information Science at the University of South Florida and 15 others to find strategies for dealing with the current crisis of disparity These writers address both the theoretical issues of ensuring access to information regardless of ability to pay and the practical means for meeting the needs of low income populations Appendices include the ALA s Policy on Library Services to Poor People The Library Bill of Rights and a listing of poverty related organizations Winning America Marcus G. Raskin, Chester W. Hartman, 1988 Articles on every significant domestic and international policy issues accompanied by platform proposals including Ron Dellums and Daniel Lindheim on defense Vincente Navarro on health care Ruth Brandwein on family policy Heidi Hartmann on pay equity for women and John Conyers on crime Reading Workplace Dynamics Vanessa Irvin, Bharat Mehra, 2024-08-01 Reading Workplace Dynamics offers a renewed ethos for public librarianship synthesizing frontline practitioner outcomes with scholarship via a blend of chapters presenting innovative and bold testimony on ways in which COVID 19 forever changed public librarianship

Digital Poverty Hernan Galperin, Judith Mariscal, 2007 Examines the problem of inadequate access to information and communication technology ICT and the need to develop appropriate pro poor ICT policies Shows how market reforms have failed to ensure that the benefits of the Information Society have spread across the region Shaping the Network Society Douglas Schuler, Peter Day, 2003-01-01 How computer professionals and communities can work together to shape sociotechnical systems that will meet society s challenges Information and computer technologies are used every day by real people with real needs The authors contributing to Shaping the Network Society describe how technology can be used effectively by communities activists and citizens to meet society s challenges In their vision computer professionals are concerned less with bits bytes and algorithms and more with productive partnerships that engage both researchers and community activists These collaborations are producing important sociotechnical work that will affect the future of the network society Traditionally academic research on real world users of technology has been neglected or even discouraged The authors contributing to this book are working to fill this gap their theoretical and practical discussions illustrate a new orientation research that works with people in their natural social environments uses common language rather than rarefied academic discourse and takes a pragmatic perspective The topics they consider are key to democratization and social change They include human rights in the global billboard society public computing in Toledo Ohio public digital culture in Amsterdam civil networking in the former Yugoslavia information technology and the international public sphere historical archaeologies of community networks technobiographical reflections on the future libraries as information commons and globalization and media democracy as illustrated by Indymedia a global collective of independent media organizations

InfoWorld ,1983-10-31 InfoWorld is targeted to Senior IT professionals Content is segmented into Channels and Topic Centers InfoWorld also celebrates people companies and projects Latin American Cyberculture and Cyberliterature Claire Taylor,Thea Pitman,2007-12-01 This collection of critical essays investigates an emergent and increasingly important field of cultural production in Latin America cyberliterature and cyberculture in their varying manifestations including blogs and hypertext narratives collective novels and e mags digital art and short Net films Highly innovative in its conception this book provides the first sustained academic focus on this area of cultural production and investigates the ways in which cyberliterature and cyberculture in the broadest sense are providing new configurations of subjects narrative voices and even political agency for Latin Americans The volume is divided into two main sections The first comprises eight chapters on the broad area of cyberculture and identity formation preservation including the development of different types of cybercommunities in Latin America While many of the chapters applaud the creative potential of these new virtual communities identities and cultural products to create networks across boundaries and offer new contestatory strategies they also consider whether such phenomena may risk reinforcing existing social inequalities or perpetuate conservatism The second section comprises six chapters and an afterword that deal with the nature of cyberliterature in all its many forms from the cyber cultural legacies of writers such as Julio Cortázar and Jorge Luis Borges to traditional print literature from the region that reflects on the subject of new technology to weblogs and hypertext and hypermedia fiction proper The 21st-Century Black Librarian in America Andrew P. Jackson,Julius Jefferson Jr.,Akilah S. Nosakhere,2012-04-12 This collection of poignant essays covers a multiplicity of concerns for the 21st century Black librarian and embodies compassion and respect for the provision of information an act that defines librarianship The essays written by Black librarians in public academic state Conserving America's Neighborhoods Robert Yin,2013-03-09 Over the years I have conducted numerous neighborhood studies alternately focusing on specific geographic areas public programs and types of citizen actions Because most of these efforts were done on a project by project basis it did not readily occur to me that these separate investigations also represented an aggregate statement about American neighborhoods the continuing and complex relationship between public policy and neighborhood life A suggestion by Lloyd Rodwin the senior editor for this series provided the opportunity to reexamine the various manuscripts and to select and in some cases considerably edit those bearing most on this overall theme Thus each of the chapters in this book is a commentary on the potential uses of public policy for preserving the most cherished aspect of contemporary neighborhoods the social life within them In some cases the policy actions may have only an indirect effect on neighborhoods For instance a whole portion of the book is devoted to the role of research in understanding neighborhood conditions public policy is relevant because research these days has itself become a public policy enterprise In other cases the policy effects are direct and pervasive the support of citizen organizations the delivery of neighborhood services and the provision of timely and relevant information to residents I do not know whether the relationship between public policy and neighborhoods is the same or as intimate outside the United States
