Gas Food Lodging. 101+ min. Arrow Video c/o MVDvisual. 1992. Blu-ray UPC 760137187783. $34.95. Rated: R.

Abandoned by her husband, single mom Nora (Brooke Adams) waitresses in a tiny New Mexico town, struggling to raise her teen daughters—movie-matinee dreamer Shade (Independent Spirit Award-winning Fairuza Balk) and cheekily guy-focused Trudi (Lone Skye)—while trying to find a little romance herself. Writer-director Allison Anders, very loosely adapting Richard Peck's YA novel Don't Look and It Won't Hurt, offers an amusingly affecting look at a nontraditional family living on the margins. Spiffed up in HD, this new edition also boasts making-of reflections.

Memoir of War. 127+ min. In French w/English subtitles. Music Box Films. 2017. DVD UPC 751778951185. $29.95. Rated: R.

In Nazi-occupied France, Resistance member and budding writer Marguerite Duras (Mélanie Thierry) flirts with a French collaborator (Benoît Magimel) to determine the fate of her captive husband. Based on the famous author's semiautobiographical novel La Voleur ("The Pain"), Emmanuel Finkiel's adaptation effectively relies on voice-over narration and subjective cinematic techniques to tell a personal story of perseverance in the face of crushing uncertainty. Complicating matters is Duras's affair with a fellow Resistance fighter, creating conflict about her loyalty.

The Official Story. 115+ min. In Spanish w/ English subtitles. Cohen Media Group. 1985. DVD UPC 741952839798. $19.99. Blu-ray UPC 741952839897. $25.99. Rated: R.

High school teacher Alicia (Norma Aleandro) gradually learns that her five-year-old adopted daughter was illegally procured by her government-official husband (Roberto Ibarra). Knowing their child was stolen by murderous state militiamen during Argentina's military dictatorship (1976–83), Alicia experiences a political and personal awakening. Finding the girl's natural grandmother helps assuage her guilt in Luis Puenzo's (Old Gringo) soul-bugging tragedy—an Oscar winner given a meticulous restoration and supplemented by a four-part interview with its maker.

Some Like It Hot. 2 discs. b/w. 121+ min. Criterion Collection. 1959. DVD ISBN 9781681435213. $29.95; 1-disc Blu-ray ISBN 9781681435206. $39.95.

On the lam with an all-female band after witnessing a mob hit, cross-dressing musicians Joe (Tony Curtis) and Jerry (Jack Lemmon) both fall for sexy singer Sugar Kane (Marilyn Monroe) in Billy Wilder's classic slapstick comedy. Made for Hollywood indie United Artists, Hot snubbed warring Production Code rules with its cleverly uproarious treatment of gender bending and sexual orientation. Restored to its lustrous black-and-white origins, this supplement-laden release sports an archival interview with Curtis, who offers priceless production stories. [See Trailers, L/ 10/1/18.]

Who We Are Now. 99+ min. FilmRise c/o MVDvisual. 2018. DVD UPC 760137132196. $19.95; Blu-ray UPC 760137169888. $24.95.

After ten years in prison, an embittered single mother (Julianne Nicholson) works with a public defender (Jimmy Smits), and later his more idealistic protégé (Emma Roberts), in a custody battle with the boy's legal guardians—her possessive sister and brother-in-law. A sympathetic hookup buddy-cum-boyfriend (Zachary Quinto) coping with PTSD ends up providing welcome support. Writer/director Matthew Newton's raw and discomfiting story of a defeated woman struggling to regain a sense of worth, dignity, and, most of all, the child she holds dear feels all too real.

with the discussion. Some of these men begin to see Khan in a different light, with several calling her friend. VERDICT This powerful, moving film is a must-see for all audiences.—Stephen L. Hupp, West Virginia Univ. Parkersburg Lib.

End of Life. 91 min. John Bruce & Pawel Wojasik, dist. by Grasshopper Film, www.grasshopperfilm.com. 2017. DVD $375; digital site license $450; DVD + DSL $475. rance

Having trained as doula, who accompany the dying, the filmmakers document the last years of five people facing death, including Ram Dass, the spiritual teacher who was instrumental in introducing the teachings of the Maharajji to the West. For the most part, the camera focuses on these individuals, often as they speak about their experiences. Their conditions vary: some are more coherent than others; some fully aware, others drifting in and out of reality; none seeming to fear death but approaching it with reflection. While Ram Dass speaks about what life will be like after death, none offer a particularly religious view. The directors at times appear in the film as they help or talk to the dying person, but this is never intrusive. VERDICT A moving portrait of dying (the actual moment of death is not shown), as viewers are made privy to this phase of life in a most intimate way and are almost challenged to consider how they would approach death or help another approach that state.—Augustine J. Curley, Newark Abbey, NJ

SCIENCE & TECHNOLOGY

Reminiscence Therapy Favorite Things. 5 programs. Metanally, www.metanally.com. 2018. DVD $64.99 per pack; streaming available. Public performance. www.metanally.com Each of the five Library Packs in this collection (Summer, Spring, Winter, Autumn, and Patriotic) consist of one DVD containing four to six categories and a set of flashcards and activity cards that can be used together or separately as conversation starters. Activity cards suggest topics, while pictorial flash cards provide visual conversation starters. The DVDs (running from 91 to 106 minutes from the menu), with their continuous, soothing background music, work equally well as springboards for topic-specific discussions and continuous slide shows. Sturdy cards (activity and flash) crafted from thick, glossy, double-sided paper share the DVD's clear, bright, true colors; excellent contrast; and large, in-focus photos. Items are boxed separately in their own plastic case before being stored together inside a larger container; most libraries will need to repackage for standard media shelving. Libraries using a hanging bag system or interlocking nonprint with print materials could handle the packaging as is. Libraries can purchase the materials without the larger shell. VERDICT Excellent memory prodders and conversation starters, these items provide flexible, professional resources for those working with dementia and memory-impaired patients. They will be of interest to elder-care facilities, activity directors, and those supporting home caregivers. [Additional collections—e.g., Farms, Cars, Dogs, Signs—are available on the producer's website.—Ed.]—Laurie Selwyn, formerly with Grayson Cty. Law Lib., Sherman, TX

Samek,2017-07-06 Between 1967 and 1974 a number of librarians came together to push for change in the American Library Association They soon prompted a majority of the profession to examine their role in the dissemination and preservation of culture and to ask basic questions about the terrain that the profession defends A particular concern was the limitations to intellectual freedom if any that might arise in the pursuit of other perhaps equally worthy goals The questions raised by this advocacy group were based on a relatively new concept of librariansly social responsibility that was partly an outgrowth of the civil rights and antiwar agitation of the period and partly a continuation of the proud traditions of the alternative press movement in the United States The resulting dissension and turmoil exposed an inherent discrepancy not only between the rhetoric of ideals within the profession and the reality of practice but between librarians as agents of change librarians having a social agenda and professional neutrality or the provision of information for all sides without taking sides These conflicts have never been resolved The reader will find in this book a fully researched presentation of the years of ferment

Robert S. Freeman, David M. Hovde, 2003-02-10 With today's technology anyone anywhere can access public library materials without leaving home or office one simply logs on to the library's website to be exposed to a wealth of information. But one of the concerns that arises is the lack of access for groups isolated by socioeconomic, geographical, or cultural factors. This problem is not a new one. For almost two centuries public libraries and other organizations have been trying to bring library services to isolated populations. This book is a collection of fourteen essays examining the contributions of librarians, educators, and organizations in the United States who have endeavored to bring library services to groups that previously did not have access. There are three sections: Benevolent and Commercial Organizations, Government-Supported Programs, and Innovative Outreach Services. The essays discuss reading materials for two centuries of rural Louisianians, shipboard libraries for the American Navy and merchant Marine, library outreach to prisoners, the Indiana Township Library Program, tribal libraries in the lower forty-eight states, open-air libraries, electronic outreach, and the use of radio in promoting the Municipal Reference Library of the City of New York, to name just a few of the essay topics. Transnational Library Relations

It is suitable for library students. Wild Blessings

Hilary Holladay, 2012-05-16 This book offers the first full-length study of Lucille Clifton's poetry, drawing on a broad knowledge of the American poetic tradition and African American poetry. In addition to a new preface written after Clifton's death in 2010, this updated edition includes an epilogue that discusses the poetry she published after 2004. Page 4 of cover. Ezra Pound

Betsy Erkkila, 2011-03-03 No one better symbolizes the course of modern literature than Pound. From the dreaminess and aestheticism of his early poems to his Imagist and Vorticist manifestos to the formally experimental method and mythic engagement with history in The Cantos, Pound marks the path that modern and postmodern poetry would follow. This collection provides a documentary record of the reviews of Ezra Pound's work in contemporary journals and newspapers, an introduction that traces the public outrage and controversy that characterized Pound's reception, and checklists of all known reviews of Pound's work. Most of the major poets and critics of the twentieth century reviewed Pound's work, including T. S. Eliot, Ford Maddox Ford, William Carlos Williams, and Edmund Wilson. Their multiple, perplexed, and sometimes hostile responses to his work provide a rich record of the struggles that marked the emergence of modern and contemporary poetry and poetics. Library Information Technology and Networks
