relating to both the region as a whole and the two main issues analysed Gulf Security and the Arab Israeli Conflict The contributors then go on to discuss the implications of these developments for Western policymaking The volume makes four key contributions First it examines the subject matter from a truly transatlantic perspective with all chapters adopting a bi or multilateral approach taking into account the views from both the US and individual European countries or the EC EU collectively Second the book takes a long term view covering a series of crises and developments over the past six decades Third it has a systematic structure with the predominantly chronological order of the chapters being geared towards depicting trends and evolutions with regard to the key themes of the book Finally the book builds bridges between historians and political scientists analysts as well as between experts of transatlantic relations and Middle East scholars This book will be of great interest to students of transatlantic relations the Middle East US foreign policy European politics international history and IR in general Daniel M ckli is a Senior Researcher at the Center for Security Studies CSS ETH Zurich He is also the editor of CSS Analyses in Security Policy Victor Mauer is Deputy Director and Head of Research of the Center for Security Studies CSS ETH Zurich and Lecturer in the Department of Social Sciences and Humanities at ETH Zurich

Palgrave Advances in Cold War History Geraint Hughes,2006-05-31 This innovative collection deals with the ideational cultural political and strategic aspects of the multifaceted Cold War Drawing on the work of numerous established scholars and experts this volume combines knowledge of the subject with key intellectual trends that have been developed over recent years United States, Western Europe and Military Intervention Overseas Christopher Coker,2016-01-12 Sharing

Security M. Chalmers,2016-04-30 Sharing Security is a unique and comprehensive study of a key yet often neglected feature of modern international society It begins by assessing how political theory can contribute to an understanding of international burdensharing It then analyses in turn why some Western states contribute more than others to common defences the European Union budget and overseas development aid It highlights the particular burdensharing problems involved in global regimes focusing on the UN s continuing financial crisis and the costs of combating global warming It argues that today s burdensharing disparities continue to be shaped by the particular character of the international settlement at the end of the Second World War Grand Designs and Visions of Unity Jeffrey Glen Giauque,2003-04-03 In the late 1950s against the unfolding backdrop of the Cold War American and European leaders began working to reshape Western Europe They sought to adapt the region to a changing world in which European empires were rapidly disintegrating Soviet influence was spreading and the United States could no longer shoulder the entire political and economic burden of the West yet hesitated to share it with Europe Focusing on the four largest Atlantic powers Britain France Germany and the United States Jeffrey Giauque explores these early stages of European integration Giauque uses evidence from newly opened international archives to show how a mix of cooperation and collaboration shaped efforts to unify postwar Europe He examines the grand designs each country developed to advance its own interests specific plans for collaboration or accord and the reactions of the other Atlantic powers to these proposals Competing national interests not only derailed many otherwise sound plans for European unity Giauque says but also influenced such nascent European institutions as the Common Market the antecedent of today's European Union Indeed beyond examining the origins of the European community this comparative study provides insight into national attitudes and aspirations that continue to shape European and American policies today

Architects of Delusion Simon Serfaty, 2008 The commencement of war in Iraq in 2003 was met with a variety of reactions around the globe In Architects of Delusion Simon Serfaty presents a historical analysis of how and why the decision to wage war was endorsed by some of America's main European allies especially Britain and opposed by others especially France and Germany Tony Blair George W Bush Jacques Chirac and Gerhard Schroeder were Serfaty argues the architects of one of the most serious crises in postwar transatlantic relations These four heads of state were the victims not only of their personal delusions but also of those of the nations they led They all played the hand that their countries had dealt them the forceful hand of a righteous America the principled acquiescence of a faithful Britain the determined intransigence of a quarrelsome France and the ambiguous new way of a recast Germany Serfaty's deft interweaving of the political histories and cultures of the four countries and the personalities of their leaders transcends the Europe bashing debate sparked by the Iraq invasion He contends that not one of these four leaders was entirely right or entirely wrong in his approach to the others or to the issues before and during the war For the resulting wounds to heal though and for the continuity of transatlantic relations he reminds us that the United States and France must end their estrangement France and Britain must resolve their differences Germany must carry its weight relative to both France and Britain and the United States must exert the same visionary leadership for the twenty first century that it showed during its rise to preeminence in the twentieth century
