Richardson, William Henry Chaloner, 1996 Readings in Renaissance Women's Drama S. P. Cerasano, Marion Wynne-Davies, 2002-01-31 Readings in Renaissance Women's Drama is the most complete sourcebook for the study of this growing area of inquiry It brings together for the first time a collection of the key critical commentaries and historical essays both classic and contemporary on Renaissance women's drama Specifically designed to provide a comprehensive overview for students teachers and scholars this collection combines this century's key critical essays on drama by early modern women by early critics such as Virginia Woolf and T S Eliot specially commissioned new essays by some of today's important feminist critics a preface and introduction explaining this selection and contexts of the materials a bibliography of secondary sources Playwrights covered include Joanna Lumley Elizabeth Cary Mary Sidney Mary Wroth and the Cavendish sisters Utopian and Science Fiction by Women Jane L. Donawerth, Carol A. Kolmerten, 1994-07-01 This collection speaks to common themes and strategies in women's writing about their different worlds from Margaret Cavendish's seventeenth century Blazing World of the North Pole to the menless islands of the French writer Scudery to the eighteenth and nineteenth century utopias of Shelley and Gaskell and science fiction pulps finishing with the more contemporary feminist fictions of Le Guin Wittig Piercy and Michison It shows that these fictions historically speak to each other and together amount to a literary tradition of women's writing about a better place Aphra Behn: A Secret Life Janet Todd, 2013-09-19 All women together ought to let flowers fall upon the tomb of Aphra Behn for it was she who earned them the right to speak their minds said Virginia Woolf Yet that tomb in Westminster Abbey records one of the few uncontested facts about this Restoration playwright poet novelist and spy the date of her death 16 April 1689 For the rest secrecy and duplicity are almost the key to her life She loved codes making and breaking them writing her life becomes a decoding of a passionate but playful woman Janet Todd draws on documents she has rediscovered in the Dutch archives and on Behn's own writings to tell a story of court diplomatic and sexual intrigue and of the rise from humble origins of the first woman to earn her living as a professional writer Aphra Behn's first notable employment was as a Royal spy in Holland she had probably also spied in Surinam It was not until she was in her thirties that she published the first of the 19 plays and other works which established her fame though not riches among her good sweet honey candied readers Many of her works were openly erotic indeed as frank as anything by her friends Wycherley and Rochester Some also offered an inside view of court and political intrigues and Todd reveals the historical scandals and legal cases behind some of Behn's most famous fictions Attending to Women in Early Modern England Betty Travitsky, Adele F. The Matter of Revolution John Rogers, 2018-09-05 John Rogers here addresses the literary and ideological consequences of the remarkable if improbable alliance between science and politics in seventeenth century England He looks at the cultural intersection between the English and Scientific Revolutions concentrating on a body of work created in a brief but potent burst of intellectual activity during the period of the Civil Wars the Interregnum and the earliest years of the Stuart Restoration Rogers traces the broad implications of a seemingly outlandish cultural phenomenon the intellectual imperative to forge an ontological connection between physical motion and political action

Protestantism, Politics, and Women in Britain, 1660-1714 Melinda Zook, 2013-04-07 This compelling new study examines the intersection between women religion and politics in the late seventeenth and early eighteenth century in Britain It demonstrates that what inspired Dissenting and Anglican women to political action was their concern for the survival of the Protestant religion both at home and abroad

Susanna Wesley Susanna Wesley, 1997-06-26 Susanna Wesley long celebrated in Methodist mythology as mother of the movement's founders now takes place as a practical theologian in her own right This collection of her letters spiritual diary and longer treatises only one of which was published in her lifetime shows her to be more than the nurturing mother of Wesleyan legend It also reveals her to be a well educated woman in conversation with contemporary theological philosophical and literary works Her quotations and allusions include Locke Pascal and Herbert as well as a number of now forgotten theologians In some of her work one can distinguish doctrinal and spiritual leanings such as Arminianism and Christian perfection that would later find wide expression in the spread of Methodism Further her writings demonstrate her readiness for conscience's sake to stand up to the men in her life father husband and sons and the three incarnations of English Protestantism they represented respectively Puritanism the Established Church and the new Methodist movement Tracing these incidents in her letters and diaries a reader can begin to understand how spirituality even an otherwise conservative one in rather restrictive times can serve to empower the voice of women

Women, Space and Utopia 1600-1800 Nicole Pohl, 2017-05-15 The first full length study of women's utopian spatial imagination in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries this book explores the sophisticated correlation between identity and social space The investigation is mainly driven by conceptual questions and thus seeks to link theoretical debates about space gender and utopianism to historiographic debates about the gendered social production of space As Pohl's primary aim is to demonstrate how women writers explore the complex gender politics of space specific attention is given to spaces that feature widely in contemporary utopian imagination Arcadia the palace the convent the harem and the country house The early modern writers Lady Mary Wroth and Margaret Cavendish seek to recreate Paradise in their versions of Eden and Jerusalem the one yearns for Arcadia the other for Solomon's Temple Margaret Cavendish and Mary Astell redefine the convent as an emancipatory space dismissing its symbolic meaning as a confining and surveilled architecture The utopia of the country house in the work of Delarivier Manley Sarah Scott and Mary Hamilton will reveal how women writers resignify the traditional metonym of the country estate The study will finish with an investigation of Oriental tales and travel writing by Ellis Cornelia Knight Lady Mary Montagu Elizabeth Craven and Lady Hester Stanhope who unveil the seraglio as a location for a Western specifically masculine discourse on Orientalism despotism and female sexuality and offers their own utopian judgment
