The Mixed Methods Reader Vicki L. Plano Clark, John W. Creswell, 2008 In light of the dispersed nature of the mixed methods literature the editors have organized a collection of key discussions and examples of mixed methods research studies in one easy to access location This integrative collection draws from the international literature appearing across diverse research disciplines over the past thirty years

The Female Reader in the English Novel Joe Bray, 2008-09-25 In the second half of the eighteenth century the female reader was a frequent topic of cultural debate and moral concern This book examines the variety of ways in which women read the social world in the late eighteenth and early nineteenth century novel

Reading Ritual Wesley J. Bergen, 2005-05-05 This book draws on a variety of disciplines to undertake a unique analysis of Leviticus 17 Rather than studying the rituals prescribed in Leviticus as arcane historical theological texts of little interest to the modern reader or as examples of primitive rituals that have no parallel in Western society this book provides many points of contact between animal sacrifice rituals and various parts of post modern society Modern rituals such as Monday Night Football eating fast food sending sons and daughters off to war and even the rituals of modern academia are contrasted with the text of Leviticus In addition responses to Leviticus among modern African Christians and in the early church are used to draw out further understandings of how the language and practice of sacrifice still shapes the lives of people This study takes a consciously Christian perspective on Leviticus Leviticus is assumed to be an ongoing part of the Christian Bible The usual Christian response to Leviticus is to ignore it or to claim that all sacrifice has now been superseded by the sacrifice of Jesus This study refutes those simplistic assertions and attempts to reassert the place of Leviticus as a source for Christian self understanding This is volume 417 of JSOTS and volume 9 of Playing the Texts
