Pronunciation Instruction in English for Academic Purposes John Hodgetts, 2020-09-04 This book examines the pronunciation goals of teachers course leaders and learners on a ten week UK pre sessional access course particularly with regard to suprasegmental instruction and target of instruction on how these goals are reflected in pronunciation assessment and how teacher goals are informed by their attitudes and beliefs A mixed methods approach including direct observation and semi structured interviews is employed to address the area of enquiry Results show a lack of clarity of course goals Although there is a firm emphasis on suprasegmental instruction in semi structured interviews teachers report a lack of clear course goals and guidance Assessment and practice do not always adhere to a goal of intelligibility and support for teachers in terms of the materials and how they might be exploited seems limited The book concludes with tentative recommendations on how suprasegmental instruction might be facilitated on EAP and other courses

Fluency in Native and Nonnative English Speech Sandra Götz, 2013-03-20 This book takes a new and holistic approach to fluency in English speech and differentiates between productive perceptive and nonverbal fluency The in depth corpus based description of productive fluency points out major differences of how fluency is established in native and nonnative speech. It also reveals areas in which even highly advanced learners of English still deviate strongly from the native target norm and in which they have already approximated to it. Based on these findings, selected learners are subjected to native speakers' ratings of seven perceptive fluency variables in order to test which variables are most responsible for a perception of oral proficiency on the sides of the listeners. Finally, language pedagogical implications derived from these findings for the improvement of fluency in learner language are presented. This book is conceptually and methodologically relevant for corpus linguistics, learner corpus research and foreign language teaching and learning. English in the Netherlands Alison Edwards, 2016-03-18

This volume provides the first comprehensive investigation of the Netherlands in the World Englishes paradigm. It explores the history of English contact, the present spread of English and attitudes towards English in the Netherlands. It describes the development and analysis of the Corpus of Dutch English, the first Expanding Circle corpus based on the design of the International Corpus of English. In addition, it investigates the applicability of Schneider's 2003/2007 Dynamic Model, concluding that this and other such models need to move away from a colonisation-driven approach and towards a globalisation-driven one to explain the continued spread and evolution of English today. The volume will be highly relevant to researchers interested in the status and use of English in the Netherlands. More broadly, it provides a timely contribution to the debate on the relevance of the World Englishes framework for non-native, non-postcolonial settings such as Continental Europe. English Unlimited Intermediate A and B Teacher's Pack (Teacher's Book with DVD-ROM)

Carol Griffiths, 2023-08-08. This edited volume presents eleven empirical papers reporting the existing literature and the results of an original study focusing on EMI English as a medium of instruction in a particular area: Central and Eastern Europe, Western and Southern Europe, Nordic/Baltic countries, Central Asia, the Middle East, East Asia, South East Asia, North Africa, Sub-Saharan Africa, South Asia and Latin America. Each of these different areas tends to have its own ways of dealing with the EMI issue, and these are brought together in a meta-analysis in the final chapter. Implications for the conduct of English as a medium of instruction are drawn both on a chapter-by-chapter basis and also in the meta-analysis. The examination of EMI on a contextual basis is a unique feature of this book, setting it apart from others in the field, which almost
