

PEER PRESSURE

Peer pressure is the influence exerted by a peer group, encouraging individuals to change their attitudes, values, or behaviors to conform to group norms.

OVERVIEW

Peer pressure occurs due to a desire to fit in with a peer group. It can be both positive, promoting healthy habits or behaviors, and negative, leading to risky or harmful activities. While typically associated with adolescents, peer pressure can affect individuals of any age group as it fundamentally involves the human desire to be accepted and belong within a social context.

EXAMPLE

- Academic performance: Friends can motivate each other to study harder and achieve better grades.
- Fashion trends: Young people can feel pressure to conform to current styles or trends popular within their friend group.
- Environmental consciousness: Peers can influence each other to adopt eco-friendly habits like recycling.
