Smoke Screen Womens Smoking And Social Control:

Smoke Screen Lorraine Greaves, 1996 Smoking can help form and maintain identity often in keeping with oppressive cultural images of women Smoking can make women compliant and unhealthy but tobacco industries continue to expand female markets across the world Smoke Screen looks at the range of ways in which tobacco affects women the evolution of cultural pressures on women s smoking the meanings of smoking to women the uses of smoking for women the benefits for societies of keeping women smoking and the impact of health and tobacco policy on women s smoking prevention and cessation Women and Smoking, 2001 The second report from the U S Surgeon General devoted to women and smoking Includes executive summary chapter conclusions full text chapters and references Tobacco Control, An Issue of Nursing Clinics Nancy L. York, 2012-03-28 This issue of Nursing Clinics includes the following topics Nursing interventions for smoking cessation tobacco cessation clinics Cessation strategies for pregnant and postpartum mothers Evidence based cessation strategies and policies for college age smokers Evidence based cessation strategies for rural communities Gender differences and tobacco cessation Optimizing tobacco cessation outcomes Community based participatory research and cessation interventions Use of quit lines for cessation Advocacy and smoke free laws Hookah use in adolescents and adults Chewing tobacco and E cigarettes Playing with Fire (Wisdom for Women Who Smoke) Betty Bryenton, 2004 Playing With Fire is a unique book that explores current issues surrounding the epidemic of smoking among women This is an extremely important topic today because for the first time in our history young women are more likely than men to become smokers Cancer of the lung is now one of the major causes of cancer deaths among women and women now account for more than half the new cases of lung cancer each year The future looks bleak for it is predicted by the World Health Organization that deaths from lung cancer among women will double over the next twenty years This is in addition to the loss optimum health due to smoking Playing With Fire helps to explain the reasons for the current pattern of smoking among women It is the hypothesis of this book that while the lives of women have changed dramatically over the past quarter century the advances that women have made economically and socially have not made our world so much a better place as a more stressful one New roles and responsibilities are layered on top of the older more traditional ones and consequently women are suffering the effects of burnout as never before Cigarette smoking is an effective way of self medicating to alleviate the pain and stress of our daily lives Playing With Fire is unique in that it takes a compassionate view of women who smoke and challenges them to explore deeper issues in their lives something vitally important in long term smoking cessation The book validates women s experiences and provides them with a context for why they feel the way they do which gives meaning to why they smoke While supporting women in their personal choices to smoke or not to smoke it encourages them to seriously consider the risks involved and to consider ways of improving their situation and self care practices The beauty of Playing With Fire is that it does not preach or scold but rather takes readers on a journey of self discovery that will help women to understand their lives and motives for smoking as well as the possibility of personal change and power It is a book that explores the creation of a better world through the individual's acceptance of and love for the self and the adoption of healthy self care practices

The Wounds of Exclusion Colleen Reid, 2017-07-28 This participant observer study chronicles the stories of a group of poor Canadian women their experience with exclusion by health and social service providers and their involvement in a feminist action research project

Can't Buy My Love Jean Kilbourne, 2012-06-26 When was the last time you felt this comfortable in a relationship An ad for sneakers You can love it without getting your heart broken An ad for a car Until I find a real man I'll settle for a real smoke A woman in a cigarette ad Many advertisements these days make us feel as if we have an intimate even passionate relationship with a product But as Jean Kilbourne points out in this fascinating and shocking exposé the dreamlike promise of advertising always leaves us hungry for more We can never be satisfied because the products we love cannot love us back Drawing upon her knowledge of psychology media and women's issues Kilbourne offers nothing less than a new understanding of a ubiquitous phenomenon in our culture The average American is exposed to over 3 000 advertisements a day and watches three years worth of television ads over the course of a lifetime Kilbourne paints a gripping portrait of how this barrage of advertising drastically affects young people especially girls by offering false promises of rebellion connection and control She also offers a surprising analysis of the way advertising creates and then feeds an addictive mentality that often continues throughout adulthood

Transforming Addiction Lorraine Greaves, Nancy Poole, Ellexis Boyle, 2015-04-10 Choice Highly Recommended Read Addiction is a complex problem that requires more nuanced responses Transforming Addiction advances addictions research and treatment by promoting transdisciplinary collaboration the integration of sex and gender and issues of trauma and mental health The authors demonstrate these shifts and offer a range of tools methods and strategies for responding to the complex factors and forces that produce and shape addiction In addition to providing practical examples of innovation from a range of perspectives the contributors demonstrate how addiction spans biological social environmental and economic realms Transforming Addiction is a call to action and represents some of the most provocative ways of thinking about addiction research treatment and policy in the contemporary era

What's Wrong With Addiction Helen Keane, 2013-04-01 This is an impressive work carefully structured researched and written a refreshingly lucid account that is both intellectually stimulating and professionally helpful Janet McCalman Addicts are generally regarded with either pity or grave disapproval But is being addicted to something necessarily bad These attitudes are explicit both in contemporary medical literature and in popular self help texts We categorise addiction as unnatural diseased and self destructive We demonise pleasure and desire and view the addict as physically and morally damaged Helen Keane's thought provoking text examines these assumptions in a new light In asserting that the wrongness of addiction is not fixed or indeed obvious she presents a refreshing challenge to more conventional accounts of addiction She also investigates the notion that people can be addicted to eating love and sex just as they are to drugs and alcohol What's Wrong with Addiction shows that most of our ideas about addiction take certain ideals of health and normality for granted. It exposes strains in our society's oppositions between health and disease, between the natural and the artificial, between order and disorder, and between self and other. Scratching the Surface of Bioethics, 2003-01-01. Is bioethics only about medicine and health care? Law, Philosophy, Social issues. No, on all accounts. It embraces all these and more. In this book, fifteen notable scholars from the North West of England critically explore the main approaches to bioethics and make a scratch on its polished surface.

Anthropology of Tobacco Andrew Russell, 2019-03-04. Tobacco has become one of the most widely used and traded commodities on the planet. Reflecting contemporary anthropological interest in material culture studies, Anthropology of Tobacco makes the plant the centre of its own contentious global story in which, instead of a passive commodity, tobacco becomes a powerful player in a global adventure involving people, corporations, and public health. Bringing together a range of perspectives from the social and natural sciences as well as the arts and humanities, Anthropology of Tobacco weaves stories together from a range of historical, cross-cultural, and literary sources and empirical research. These combine with contemporary anthropological theories of agency and cross-species relationships to offer fresh perspectives on how an apparently humble plant has progressed to world domination and the consequences of it having done so. It also considers what needs to happen if, as some public health advocates would have it, we are seriously to imagine a world without tobacco. This book presents students, scholars, and practitioners in anthropology, public health, and social policy with unique and multiple perspectives on tobacco-human relations.
