Managerial Uses of Accounting Information Joel Demski, 2008-05-29 The second edition reflects Dr Demski's experience teaching to undergraduates masters and doctoral students He emphasizes economic fundamentals as the guiding foundation coupled with an artful application of those fundamentals This applies to product costing decision making and evaluation art Dr Demski also removed a great deal of traditional minutiae in order to keep this theme in constant focus This thematic approach in his experience works in dramatic fashion and stands in sharp contrast to more traditional presentations of this material

Strategy David Faulkner, 2002 This is the most comprehensive collection to date on all aspects of strategy The articles selected here discuss key themes including different conceptions of strategy such as the classical rational models of Porter the empirical emergent emphasis of Mintzberg and the competence based models of Grant and others the relationship between strategy and other subjects including economics and organizational studies scenario planning networks strategic groups and knowledge and other key new developments the implications of globalization and international management key strategic decisions including diversification and mergers and acquisitions With a new introduction by the editor and an extensive index this collection is an invaluable reference tool and teaching aid

Organizational Determinants of Budgetary Influence and Involvement Noah P. Barsky, 2013-10-11 Drawing on network theory from the organizational sociology literature this book examines issues related to which organizational factors determine how employees influence the budgeting process Data were collected from managers who participate in the budgeting process at a major apparel manufacturer Social network analysis was employed to measure how the structure of the network of managers affects the budgeting process The results show that budgetary influence is structurally determined and resides with managers holding central positions in the organizational network Thus while formal procedures determine which employees are involved in budgeting activities only centrally positioned managers actually influence budgetary outcomes The findings indicate that influence not involvement is the key to empowerment in the budgeting process This research suggests that researchers and practitioners should be aware of an organization's social structure when examining a participative budgeting process The difference between formal designs and actual influence is indicative of a rhetoric reality gap which can impair the effectiveness of management control systems Advances in Accounting Behavioral Research Khondkar E. Karim, 2024-10-28 The chapters collected in Volume 27 include Budgetary Participation Family Business Environment and Auditor Judgment CSR as Insurance IRS Job Characteristics Model Early Job Attainment of Accounting Majors Fairness in Cost Allocation and Work of Special Agents of the IRS Using the Job Characteristics Model Handbooks of Management Accounting Research 3-Volume Set Christopher S.
