Racism Without Racists Eduardo Bonilla-Silva, 2010 This edition includes a chapter examining the Obama mystery the election of a black President even though racial progress has stagnated in the country since the 1980s Bonilla Silva argues that this development is not a breakthrough in race relations but a continuation of racial trends in the last 40 years including the sedimentation of color blind racism as the dominant ideology in the nation

Lyrical Iowa, 1966 Experiencing 'Flow' in Jazz Performance Dr Elina Hytönen-Ng, 2013-08-28 The term flow refers to experiences where the musician moves into a consciousness in which time seems to be suspended and perception of reality is blurred by unconscious forces An essential part of the jazz tradition which often serves as the foundation of the musician s identity flow is recognised within the greater jazz community as a critical factor in accomplished musicianship Flow as a concept is so deeply embedded in the scene that these experiences are not generally discussed It contributes to the musicians work motivation providing a vital level of satisfaction and accomplishment The power of the experience consciously or unconsciously has given rise to the creation of heroic images in which jazz musicians are seen as being bold yet vulnerable strong and masculine but still capable of expressing emotions In this discourse musicians are pictured as people constantly putting themselves on the line exposing themselves and their hearts to one another as well as to the audience Heroic profiles are richly constructed within the jazz scene and their incorporation into narratives of flow suggests that such images are inseparable from jazz It is thus unclear how far the musicians are simply reporting personal experience as opposed to unconsciously perpetuating a profoundly internalised mythology Drawing on eighteen interviews conducted with professional jazz musicians from around the world Elina Hytönen-Ng examines the fundamentals of the phenomenon of flow in jazz that has led to this genre's popularity. Furthermore, she draws on how flow experiences are viewed and constructed by jazz musicians, the meanings they attach to it, and the quality of music that it inspires. Third Culture Kids (Ettie Zilber, 2009) The concept of Third Culture Kids (TCKs), children who follow their globetrotting parents around the world, is not a new one and has been widely studied. However, there is one specific group of TCKs who have until now been largely ignored: EdKids, the children of international school educators. In this new work, Dr. Ettie Zilber brings together all the material she has collected over many years of research on this unique group and allows them to voice their own opinions, feelings, and stories for the first time. Spanning a long career in education, Dr. Ettie Zilber has served at international schools and other educational centers in the US, Israel, Singapore, Spain, Guatemala, and China; served on the boards of ECIS and AISH; presented and published on cross-cultural themes; and served as an Adjunct Professor for Lehigh University and Endicott College, teaching courses in Comparative Education and Intercultural Communication. I Feel Precious to God (Beverly Hyles, 1988-02) A Dictionary of Catch Phrases (Eric Partridge, 2003-09-02) An abridged version of Eric Partridge's Dictionary of Catch Phrases, concentrating on those phrases in current use in the English-speaking world.
