Somebody's Heart Is Burning Tanya Shaffer, 2003-05-13 It's my life and if I want to run from it I can quips Tanya Shaffer An incorrigible wanderer Shaffer has a habit of fleeing domesticity for the joys and rigors of the open road This time her destination is Ghana and what results is a transformative year spent roaming the African continent Eager to transcend the limitations of tourism Shaffer works as a volunteer building schools and hospitals in remote villages At the heart of her tale are the profound complex often challenging relationships she forms with those she meets along the way Whether recounting a perilous boat trip to Timbuktu a night of impassioned political debate in Ghana or a fumbled romance in Burkina Faso Shaffer portrays the collision of African and North American cultures with self deprecating humor and clear eyed compassion Filled with warmth candor and an exuberant sense of adventure Somebody's Heart Is Burning raises provocative questions about privilege wealth and the true meaning of friendship

Spellbound Karen Palmer, 2010-10-26 As I attempted to digest stories of spiritual cannibalism of curses that could cost a student her eyesight or ignite the pages of the books she read I knew I was not alone in my skepticism And yet when I caught sight of the waving arms of an industrious scarecrow the hair on the back of my neck would stand on end It was most palpable at night this creepy feeling when the moon stayed low to the horizon and the dust kicked up in the breeze reaching out and pulling back with ghostly fingers There was something to this place that could be felt but not seen With these words Karen Palmer takes us inside one of West Africa s witch camps where hundreds of banished women struggle to survive under the watchful eye of a powerful wizard Palmer arrived at the Gambaga witch camp with an outsider s sense of outrage believing it was little more than a dumping ground for difficult women Soon however she encountered stories she could not explain a woman who confessed she d attacked a girl given to her as a sacrifice another one desperately trying to rid herself of the witchcraft she believed helped her kill dozens of people In Spellbound Palmer brilliantly recounts the kaleidoscope of experiences that greeted her in the remote witch camps of northern Ghana where more than 3 000 exiled women and men live in extreme poverty many sentenced in a ceremony hinging on the death throes of a sacrificed chicken As she ventured deeper into Ghana s grasslands Palmer found herself swinging between belief and disbelief She was shown books that caught on fire for no reason and met diviners who accurately predicted the future From the schoolteacher who believed Africa should use the power of its witches to gain wealth and prestige to the social worker who championed the rights of accused witches but also took his wife to a witch doctor Palmer takes readers deep inside a shadowy layer of rural African society As the sheen of the exotic wore off Palmer saw the camp for what it was a hidden colony of women forced to rely on food scraps from the weekly market She witnessed the way witchcraft preyed on people's fears and resentments Witchcraft could be a comfort in times of distress a way of explaining a crippling drought or the inexplicable loss of a child It was a means of predicting the unpredictable and controlling the uncontrollable But witchcraft was also a tool for social control In this vivid startling work of first person reportage Palmer sheds light on the plight of women in a rarely seen corner of the world
