It explains the dynamics of in-laws relationships taking into consideration normative gender stereotypes and the features of the rule of patrilineal descent which are characterised by Kurds and increase the possibility of domestic co-existence of Kurds in-laws. In the context of the social features of the host countries in which Kurds live this research reveals in what aspects the relationships between immigrant in-laws are different to those whose families are characterised by a bilateral kinship system as is found in Western societies. It reveals how cultural meanings and values they brought with them from their country of origin affect their expectations and experiences with each other in their daily routines considering the challenges that may arise from the collision of new and old patterns in cultural, economic and social domains      On Reckoning Amy Remeikis, 2022-01-26 What happens when the usual political tactics of deflect and dodge are no longer enough? A reckoning. The Guardian's political reporter Amy Remeikis has spoken before about being a survivor of sexual assault but Brittany Higgins going public with her story ripped the curtain back not just on political attempts to deal with real-world issues but also how unsafe women can be even inside the most protected building in the country. Amy didn't expect to see political leaders fumble the moment so completely. And what followed was people taking back the conversation from the politicians. On Reckoning is a searing account of Amy's personal and professional rage taking you inside the parliament and out during one of the most confronting and uncomfortable conversations in recent memory      Don't Marry Me To A Plowman! Patricia Jeffery, 2018-02-06 Popular Western images of Indian women range from submissive brides behind their veils to the powerful active women of Indian politics. In this lively and unique book Patricia and Roger Jeffery present a different perspective on women's lives. Focusing on the mundane rather than the exotic they explore the complex interplay between the power of social structures to constrain individuals and the ways women negotiate these constraints to carve out places for themselves. Based on information collected by the authors during their research in villages in Bijnor District, western Uttar Pradesh, the volume offers eight life histories of Hindu and Muslim women The women s life histories present a variety of class positions and domestic circumstances illustrating many aspects of north Indian village life Interspersed with thematic discussion composed of dialogues episodes and songs the life histories deal with topics of vital concern for women in rural north India the birth of children worries about dowry arranging weddings sexual politics in marriage relationships with inlaws relationships with natal kin and widowhood
