The musical score is written for Violin and Piano. It begins with a key signature of one flat (B-flat) and a common time signature (C). The tempo is marked 'Allegro moderato'. The score is divided into four systems. The first system shows the Violin playing a melody of eighth notes, while the Piano provides a harmonic accompaniment. The second system continues this pattern. The third system introduces a more active bass line in the Piano. The fourth system concludes the piece with a final cadence. Dynamics such as mf, f, and fp are used to indicate volume changes. The score is numbered 5, 9, and 12 at the beginning of the second, third, and fourth systems respectively.

reappraises the image of Skalkottas with which we are often presented The main focus of the book however is on Skalkottas s twelve note compositional processes since these characterize the majority of his output and are neither well known nor fully understood Part II presents the structural and technical features of his twelve note technique particularly the different types of sets and their manipulation and his approach to musical forms Part III consists of analytical case studies of several works presented chronologically which thus provide a diachronic framework within which Skalkottas s dodecaphonic compositional development can be more effectively viewed This book underlines Nikos Skalkottas s importance as a composer with a distinctive artistic personality whose work contributed to the development of twelve note compositional practice and who deserves a more significant position within the Western art music canon than that to which he is often assigned
