

Dancers

On the stage, they stand alone,
Every move, every tone,
A tale told, a passion shown,
Dance is where their heart is thrown.

Spotlights shine, casting a glow,
On dancers who let emotions flow.
Every leap, every stance,
Is a chapter in the dance.

As curtains fall, applause does echo,
Resonating with passion, every crescendo.
For on that stage, with every glance,
A dancer shares the soul of dance.

Song And Dance Poems:

Song and Dance Alan Shapiro, 2004 Song and Dance Patricia Brooks, 2011-02-05 Song and Dance is in its first section a series of poems that make the case for the return of significant sound and rhythm to contemporary poetry The author feels that in the modern poet's rejection of strict meter and automatic end rhyme we have lost some of poetry's most powerful tools The poems in the following section offer a wide range of styles forms and language in illustration of poetry's infinite variety The book is specifically designed for classroom use at the high school and college levels using its argument and examples to touch off discussion of the role of sound and rhythm in the modern poem The wide range of examples in the Poetry's Variety section give students a stimulating range of styles and voices to spark their interest as they develop their own unique voices The annotated traditional forms being currently written poems avoids the idea that such forms are dead and interesting only from a historical perspective Ultimately the book opens the world of poetry in a way that may engage students by giving poetry a lively and present sense of poetry as a living art Song and Dance HORATIO N. GRANT, 2025-05-22 Delve into the lyrical world of Song and Dance by Horatio N Grant a collection of poems that resonate with the musicality of language and the rhythm of life Published in 1895 this volume captures the spirit of a bygone era inviting readers to experience the grace and charm of late 19th century verse Grant's poems explore themes of love nature and the human condition all interwoven with a delicate sense of melody and movement Each poem is a dance of words a song of the heart offering a timeless appeal to those who appreciate the beauty of traditional poetry This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it This work was reproduced from the original artifact and remains as true to the original work as possible Therefore you will see the original copyright references library stamps as most of these works have been housed in our most important libraries around the world and other notations in the work This work is in the public domain in the United States of America and possibly other nations Within the United States you may freely copy and distribute this work as no entity individual or corporate has a copyright on the body of the work As a reproduction of a historical artifact this work may contain missing or blurred pages poor pictures errant marks etc Scholars believe and we concur that this work is important enough to be preserved reproduced and made generally available to the public We appreciate your support of the preservation process and thank you for being an important part of keeping this knowledge alive and relevant Song and Dance ,1997 A collection of poems about music and dance by such poets as Carl Sandburg Charlotte Zolotow Langston Hughes and Eve Merriam The Beginnings of Poetry Francis Barton Gummere, 2021-11-05 In The Beginnings of Poetry Francis Barton Gummere embarks on an insightful exploration of the origins and evolution of poetic expression tracing its roots from prehistoric traditions to the intricate forms of early literature Gummere's meticulous scholarship is evident in his analysis of linguistic structures thematic elements and the socio cultural contexts that shaped early poetry Employing a blend of critical examination and engaging narrative he reveals the organic relationship between oral traditions and the written word while deftly situating these developments within the broader literary canon Francis Barton Gummere 1862 1932 was a renowned scholar of English philology and literature deeply influenced by his academic background in both classic and contemporary literary studies His dedication to understanding poetry extends beyond mere textual analysis Gummere's passion for language and folklore is reflected in his commitment to capturing the essence of human experience as conveyed through poetic forms This book serves as a testament to his belief that poetry is not merely an art form but a vital aspect of cultural heritage and expression For readers The Beginnings of Poetry is an indispensable resource that illuminates the significance of poetry as an art form and a historical narrative Whether one is a scholar seeking a deeper understanding of early poetic traditions or a general reader intrigued by the power of language Gummere's work provides a profound appreciation of the lyrical roots that connect us all

Flower, Song, Dance David Bowles, 2013-08 In pre Colombian Mexico song and dance were vital components of daily life However all that is left of this vast tradition of lyrical verse are fewer than 200 poems most contained in three codices written just after the Spanish conquest In this new translation David Bowles employs the tools of English verse to craft accessible powerful versions of selected songs from the Aztec and Mayan civilizations striking a balance between the features of the original performance and the expectations of modern readers of poetry With full color illustrations a thorough glossary and insightful introduction Flower Song Dance brings a neglected literary tradition to life for the 21st century

The Song of My Dance and the Dance of My Dreams John A. Theodore, 2009-02 After reading all his works and critically reading his collection of poetry I can say that his poetry can be compared to that of John Keats and William Blake Reading the Epilogue of this book will give you a glimpse of the poetic mind of the poet Theodore Hope that he continues to write poetry till the end of his life His contribution shall always be for the mind of those who search for the truth Going beyond the limits of institutionalised religions he seeks the truth and it gives a sense of the mystery to all his writings It attracts me and gives me a sense of satisfaction He asks the reader Does a raindrop find itself when it falls in the river Are you really present to the life you have On the paths mildly lighted by angels I walk along to see at the end light pure That is exactly his life He lives in a world of dreams and in his own world of ideas He can love like a child and smile like a child Simplicity to the core is his way I built a golden tent and called all my friends of nature to come and rejoice with me like little lambs The gift of imagination is his great strength In his ordinary talks or prepared lectures or preaching in his churches he dances with the steps of a fairy He writes again perceive the soul of beauty in you sustain the imaginative perceptions and wonder like a child To understand his poetry one has to sit and think and get the meaning of the symbols he uses There is always a mystical philosophy in his mind The naked observation of nature dealing with myths visionary ideas romantic ideals faith in the divine power the dignity of natural man and woman spirit and compassion all that you can read here in this bouquet of poems Professor Rudolf Rohr These are poems of depth with imaginative power and quality It is a joy for the mind Jain Jordan It is lyrical and inspiring He draws from the great wisdom traditions and leads his ideas into a culmination of ecstasy Michelle Godson It is an ecstasy of true romance a romance of the soul with the God of love Jeremiah Rosenthal Passion romance God and nature life and its pains innocence and beauty are the constant themes of this poetry It is like the songs of a morning bird singing in your soul Paul Kowalski Tales and Poems of Tonga Ernest Edgar Vyvyan Collocott,1928 The Beginnings of Poetry Francis Barton Gummere,1901 A Concordance to the Poems of Robert Browning Leslie Nathan Broughton,Benjamin Franklin Stelter,1925 Song and Dance Girl Aprill Atkins Cameron,2013-10
