Song Of Love The Letters Of Rupert Brooke And Noel Olivier:

Song of Love Rupert Brooke, Noel Olivier, Pippa Harris, 1991 Rupert Brooke met Noel Olivier in 1908 She was 15 a shy intelligent schoolgirl and he was 20 Their correspondence over the seven years before the poet's death in 1915 is presented in this volume The Olivier Sisters Sarah Watling, 2019-05-08 Margery Brynhild Daphne and Noel Olivier were well educated socially privileged precocious striking scandalous engaging and so closely knit that they were the objects of fascination and admiration both during their lives and long after Here Sarah Watling offers a group portrait of the sisters as they lived and negotiated the turbulent changes of the first half of the twentieth century each one devoted to the other but choosing and pursuing her own extraordinary path After a childhood spent in colonial Jamaica where their father was governor the sisters became members of the Neo Pagan group that gathered around the poet Rupert Brooke in Cambridge and helped orchestrate that group's encounters with Bloomsbury Drawn first to Brynhild's oft remarked upon beauty Brooke ultimately fell in love with the schoolgirl Noel complicating the sisters' relationships for years to come Noel would go on to become a medical doctor during World War I Daphne to set up the first Steiner school in England Watling brings the Olivier sisters from the margins to the main stage of history providing a window onto early feminism wartime progressive politics twentieth century medicine's relationship with women and post war culture A Who's Who cast of famous figures of the period rotates through the book including George Bernard Shaw H G Wells C S Lewis and Rudolf Steiner as well as members of the Bloomsbury group including Virginia Woolf and John Maynard Keynes but at the heart of it is a portrait of sisterhood in all its complexities and in all its personal and political guises This is the first book to focus on the Oliviers themselves and to do their rich story full justice A Guide to the Papers of British Cabinet Ministers 1900-1964 Cameron Hazlehurst, Sally Whitehead, Christine Woodland, 1996 A Guide to the Papers of British Cabinet Ministers 1900 1964 is the revised and expanded edition of a volume published by The Royal Historical Society in 1974 Up to date information on the papers of 323 ministers from the first edition is provided and its scope has increased from 323 ministers to include all Cabinet ministers until the resignation of Sir Alec Douglas Home as Prime Minister in 1964 This Guide is a major research tool and a source of information on the personal papers of British Cabinet ministers Song of Love Rupert Brooke, Noel Olivier, 1991 He was the great English poet of the First World War She was a shy but perceptive teenage schoolgirl The passionate witty and inspiring letters they exchanged never before published will surely be hailed as one of the most romantic of all literary correspondences and as a rich and truthful portrait of Edwardian and Georgian England 32 pages of photos Rupert Brooke, Charles Sorley, Isaac Rosenberg, and Wilfred Owen Lorna Hardwick, Stephen Harrison, Elizabeth Vandiver, 2024-04-22 Rupert Brooke Wilfred Owen Isaac Rosenberg and Charles Sorley all died in the First World War They came from diverse social educational and cultural backgrounds but for all of the writers' engagement with Greek and Roman antiquity was decisive in shaping their war poetry The world views and cultural hinterlands of Brooke and Sorley were framed by the Greek and Latin texts they had studied at school whereas for Owen who struggled with Latin classical texts were a part of his aspirational literary imagination Rosenberg's education was limited but he encountered some Greek and Roman literature through translations and through mediations in English literature The various ways in which the poets engaged with classical literature are analysed in the commentaries which are designed to be accessible to classicists and to users from other subject areas The extensive range of connections made by the poets and by subsequent readers is explained in the Introduction to the volume The commentaries illuminate relationships between the poems and attitudes to the war at the time in the immediate post war years and subsequently They also probe how individual poems reveal various facets of the poetry of unease the poetry of survival and the poetics of war and ecology References to the accompanying online Oxford Classical Reception Commentaries will enable readers to follow up their special interests This volume differs from the shorter volume Greek and Roman Antiquity in First World War Poetry Making Connections in that it covers the whole output of the four poets and not just their war poems

Now All Roads Lead to France: A Life of Edward Thomas Matthew Hollis, 2012-10-22 Winner of the Costa Biography Award a fascinating exploration of one of the twentieth century's most influential poets Edward Thomas was perhaps the most beguiling and influential of the war poets This haunting account of his final five years follows him from his beloved English countryside to the battlefield in France where he lost his life When he met the American poet Robert Frost in 1913 Thomas was tormented by feelings of failure in his work and in his marriage With Frost's encouragement he began writing poem after poem as he finally found the expression for which he had spent his life searching But the First World War put an ocean between them Frost returned to New England while Thomas enlisted and went to fight in France It is these roads taken and not taken that are at the heart of this unforgettable book which culminates in Thomas's tragic death on Easter Monday 1917 Now All Roads Lead to France encompasses an astonishingly creative moment in English literature when London was a battleground for new ambitious writing A generation that included W B Yeats Ezra Pound Robert Frost and Rupert Brooke was making it new vehemently and pugnaciously and this dazzling biography places Thomas firmly in their midst

The Selected Letters of Charles Whibley Damian Atkinson, 2018-06-11 The scholar Charles Whibley was born in 1859 and died in 1930 straddling the end of the Victorian age the new century and the Great War and its aftermath After completing his studies at Cambridge his early journalistic experiences were with the critic poet and editor William Ernest

Jones,2014-11-06 Paragon of youthful beauty romantic symbol of a lost England and precociously gifted poet Rupert Chawner Brooke died in a hospital ship off the Aegean island of Skyros in April 1915 aged just 27 All England mourned his passing But behind the glow of myth lies a darker reality At the height of his promise a disappointment in love triggered a mental and physical collapse that brought his inner complexities to the surface Letters reveal a man who was sexually ambivalent misogynistic anti Semitic and sometimes alarmingly unstable This revised edition of Nigel Jones's admired biography including an account of a previously unknown affair of Brooke's reveals a more conflicted and troubled individual than the gilded Adonis of English literary myth The Bloomsbury Look Wendy Hitchmough,2020-10-02 An in depth study of how
