Durkheim's Suicide W.S.F. Pickering, Geoffrey Walford, 2002-09-26 Durkheim's book on suicide first published in 1897 is widely regarded as a classic text and is essential reading for any student of Durkheim's thought and sociological method This book examines the continuing importance of Durkheim's methodology The wide ranging chapters cover such issues as the use of statistics explanation of suicide anomie and religion and the morality of suicide It will be of vital interest to any serious scholar of Durkheim's thought and to the sociologist looking for a fresh methodological perspective The International Handbook of Suicide and Attempted Suicide Keith Hawton, Kees van Heeringen, 2000-11-21 Recent research in the area of suicidology has provided significant new insights in the epidemiological psychopathological and biological characteristics of suicidal behaviour The International Handbook of Suicide and Attempted Suicide is the first book to bring together this expertise and translate it into practical guidelines for those responsible for policy issues and for those involved in the treatment and prevention of suicidal behaviour Leading international authorities provide a truly comprehensive and research based reference to understanding treating and preventing suicidal behaviour They explore concepts and theories which best guide work within this field and detail key research which has supported conceptual developments preventive interventions and clinical treatment No self respecting worker in deliberate self harm and suicide prevention either clinical or research can afford to be without access to this comprehensive handbook possession and regular use may well become a marker of serious involvement in the subject This is the most comprehensive up to date informative and well written source of information on suicide and suicidal behaviour an invaluable work of reference which will be essential for clinicians and researchers for many years to come Andrew Sims Emeritus Professor of Psychiatry St James's University Hospital Leeds UK British Journal of Psychiatry Internal Migration In Sri Lanka And Its Social Consequences Robert N. Kearney, 2019-04-08 This book probes features of internal migration in Sri Lanka and some of the social and political consequences of these population shifts It examines the aspects of societal upheavals related to internal migration unbalanced sex ratios rising rates of suicide and increased ethnic conflict National Library of Medicine Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), Political Violence Against Americans 2001 , Middle East and North Africa Economic Monitor, October 2016 Devarajan, Shantayanan ,Mottaghi, Lili ,2016-08-23 The year 2016 appears to be one of the toughest for the Middle East and North Africa MENA region as their governments face serious policy challenges The biggest challenge for oil exporters is managing their finances and diversification strategies with oil below 45 a barrel Fiscal consolidation in a difficult sociopolitical environment and spillovers from conflicts are creating challenges for oil importers as well Real GDP growth in MENA for 2016 is projected to fall to its lowest level since 2013 2 3 percent lower than last year s growth by half a percentage point and about one percentage point lower than predicted in April 2016 It is clear that the disappointing performance of the MENA economies and possibly the global economy is partly due to the rise of terrorist attacks and spread of violent extremism In this report we attempt to shed light on the underlying causes of this phenomenon by applying an economic perspective to the demand for and supply of violent extremists Looking at a dataset on foreign fighters joining Daesh we find that the factors most strongly associated with foreign individuals joining Daesh have to do with a lack of inclusion economic social and religious in their country of origin Promoting greater inclusion therefore could not only bring down the level of violent extremism but it could improve economic performance in the MENA region

Suicide: A Global Perspective Maurizio Pompili,2012-09-19 In the year 2000 approximately one million people died from suicide a global mortality rate of 16 per 100 000 or one death every 40 seconds In the last 45 years suicide rates have increased by 60% worldwide Suicide is now among the three leading causes of death among those aged 15 44 years both sexes these figures do not include suicide attempts up to 20 times more frequent than completed suicide Suicide worldwide is estimated to represent 1 8% of the total global burden of disease in1998 and 2 4% in countries with market and former socialist economies in 2020 Although traditionally suicide rates have been highest among the male elderly rates among young people have been increasing to such an extent that they are now the group at highest risk in a third of countries in both developed and developing countries Mental disorders particularly depression and substance abuse are associated with more than 90% of all cases of suicide however suicide results from many complex sociocultural factors and is more likely to occur particularly during periods of socioeconomic family and individual crisis situations e g loss of a loved one employment honour The economic costs associated with completed and attempted suicide are estimated to be in the billions of dollars One million lives lost each year are more than those lost from wars and murder annually in the world It is three times the catastrophic loss of life in the tsunami disaster in Asia in 2005 Every day of the year the number of suicides is equivalent to the number of lives lost in the attack on the World Trade Center Twin Towers on 9 11 in 2001 Everyone should be aware of the warning signs for suicide Someone threatening to hurt or kill him herself or taking of wanting to hurt or kill him herself someone looking for ways to kill him herself by seeking access to firearms available pills or other means someone talking or writing about death dying or suicide when these actions are out of the ordinary for the person Also high risk of suicide is generally associated with hopelessness rage uncontrolled anger seeking revenge acting reckless or engaging in risky activities seemingly without thinking feeling trapped like there s no way out increased alcohol or drug use withdrawing from friends family and society anxiety agitation unable to sleep or sleeping all the time dramatic mood changes no reason for living no sense of purpose in life Table 1 Understanding and helping the suicidal individual should be a task for all Suicide Myths How to Help the Suicidal Person Warning Signs of Suicide Myth Suicidal people just want to die Fact Most of the time suicidal people are torn between wanting to die and wanting to live Most suicidal individuals don t want death they just want to stoop the great psychological or emotional pain they are experiencing Listen Accept the person s feelings as they are Do not be afraid to talk about suicide directly Ask them if they developed a plan of suicide Expressing suicidal feelings or bringing up the topic of suicide Giving away prized possessions settling affairs making out a will Signs of depression loss of pleasure sad mood alterations in sleeping eating patterns feelings of hopelessness Myth People who commit suicide do not warn others Fact Eight out of every 10 people who kill themselves give definite clues to their intentions They leave numerous clues and warnings to others although clues may be non verbal or difficult to detect Remove lethal means for suicide from person s home Remind the person that depressed feelings do change with time Point out when death is chosen it is irreversible Change of behavior poor work or school performance Risk taking behaviors Increased use of alcohol or drugs Social isolation Developing a specific plan for suicide Myth People who talk about suicide are only trying to get attention They won t really do it Fact Few commit suicide without first letting someone know how they feel Those who are considering suicide give clues and warnings as a cry for help Over 70% who do threaten to commit suicide either make an attempt or complete the act Express your concern for the person Develop a plan for help with the person Seek outside emergency intervention at a hospital mental health clinic or call a suicide prevention center Myth Don t mention suicide to someone who s showing signs of depression It will plant the idea in their minds and they will act on it Fact Many depressed people have already considered suicide as an option Discussing it openly helps the suicidal person sort through the problems and generally provides a sense of relief and understanding Suicide is preventable Most suicidal individuals desperately want to live they are just unable to see alternatives to their problems Most suicidal individuals give definite warnings of their suicidal intentions but others are either unaware of the significance of these warnings or do not know how to respond to them Talking about suicide does not cause someone to be suicidal on the contrary the individual feel relief and has the opportunity to experience an empathic contact Suicide profoundly affects individuals families workplaces neighbourhoods and societies The economic costs associated with suicide and self inflicted injuries are estimated to be in the billions of dollars Surviving family members not only suffer the trauma of losing a loved one to suicide and may themselves be at higher risk for suicide and emotional problems Mental pain is the basic ingredient of suicide Edwin Shneidman calls such pain psychache 1 meaning an ache in the psyche Shneidman suggested that the key questions to ask a suicidal person are Where do you hurt and How may I help you If the function of suicide is to put a stop to an unbearable flow of painful consciousness then it follows that the clinician's main task is to mollify that pain Shneidman 1 also pointed out that the main sources of psychological pain such as shame guilt rage loneliness hopelessness and so forth stem from frustrated or thwarted psychological needs These psychological needs include the need for achievement for affiliation for autonomy for counteraction for exhibition for nurturance for order and for understanding Shneidman 2 who is considered the father of suicidology has proposed the following definition of suicide Currently in the Western world suicide is a conscious act of self induced annihilation best understood as a multidimensional malaise in a needful individual who defines an issue for which the suicide is perceived as the best solution Shneidman has also suggested that that suicide is best understood not so much as a movement toward death as it is a movement away from something and that something is always the same intolerable emotion unendurable pain or unacceptable anguish Strategies involving restriction of access to common methods of suicide have proved to be effective in reducing suicide rates however there is a need to adopt multi sectoral approaches involving other levels of intervention and activities such as crisis centers There is compelling evidence indicating that adequate prevention and treatment of depression alcohol and substance abuse can reduce suicide rates School based interventions involving crisis management self esteem enhancement and the development of coping skills and healthy decision making have been demonstrated to reduce the risk of suicide among the youth Worldwide the prevention of suicide has not been adequately addressed due to basically a lack of awareness of suicide as a major problem and the taboo in many societies to discuss openly about it In fact only a few countries have included prevention of suicide among their priorities Reliability of suicide certification and reporting is an issue in great need of improvement It is clear that suicide prevention requires intervention also from outside the health sector and calls for an innovative comprehensive multi sectoral approach including both health and non health sectors e g education labour police justice religion law politics the media Middle East Review, 1984 Urban Battle Fields of South Asia C. Christine Fair, 2005-02-09 Military operations in urban areas are among the most complex challenges confronting the U S Army Compared to a number of other nations the Army has relatively less experience operating in this environment To that end this monograph analyzes sustained campaigns of urban terrorism in Sri Lanka India and Pakistan identifying key innovations of the militant organizations It also details the three states responses to the threats noting successful as well as unsuccessful efforts The Middle East and South Asia 2017-2018 Seth Cantey, 2017-08-25 This volume is designed to place in context the passionate controversies and emotional attachments of the two billion people who live study work love and die in the Middle East and South Asia Understanding these regions means more than annually updated details of the governments politics cultures and economies of the twenty four nations and assorted territories Special chapters address significant issues of continuing international importance including access to water the role of oil and the 2011 Arab spring Both regions after all contain types of people misunderstood and often intensely disliked by others Where religion intrudes on politics the Afghan Taliban oppose educating girls Hindu fanatics rampage in India Iranian militiamen shoot demonstrators Islamic extremists impose sharia and Jewish Ultra Orthodox send women to the back of the bus readers bombarded with superficial news bites and slanted reporting might never sense the other accomplishments of these same societies Islamic charities and societies bring relief to the impoverished Israel's scholars win Nobel prizes and most Indians cherish long standing religious toleration The author of this volume attempts to let the reader draw conclusions from the evidence

Suicide Protest in South Asia Simanti Lahiri, 2014-04-03 The radical act of suicide protest is undertaken by social movement participants in order to demand a particular previously articulated political outcome This book examines the history and impact of suicide protest which has been increasingly used as a protest tactic since World War II adding to a growing area of research on the ability of certain actions to impact policy in favour of movement goals The book offers a combination of historical and contemporary cases analysis from South Asia where different iterations of this tactic have been used extensively throughout the latter half of the twentieth century including the use of fasting to the death self immolation and deliberate drowning Focussing on the success or failure of a particular action relevant to the movement's broader mobilization strategy the author examines the internal impact this has on the movement and the mechanisms by which suicide as a form of protest evolves Providing a unique contribution to the field of comparative politics political violence and social movement studies this book will be of interest to scholars working on political science sociology and South Asian studies

Suicidal Behaviour in the Asia-Pacific Region Lee Peng Kok, Wen-Shing Tseng, 1992 In addition to various biological and psychological factors sociocultural factors have a tremendous impact on suicidal behaviour It is therefore possible to examine patterns of suicidal behaviour as observed in various sociocultural environments Asia and Pacific societies have many unique features history culture geographic background and recent economic development This book examines and compares for the first time suicidal behaviour among the various societies in these regions which include Japan Korea mainland China Taiwan Hong Kong the Philippines Thailand Singapore Malaysia Indonesia and Hawaii This volume should be of value to health professionals and administrators mental health workers employers as well as the general public

The International Handbook of Suicide Prevention Rory C. O'Connor, Jane Pirkis, 2016-09-14 The International Handbook of Suicide Prevention 2nd Edition presents a series of readings that consider the individual and societal factors that lead to suicide it addresses ways these factors may be mitigated and presents the most up to date evidence for effective suicide prevention approaches An updated reference that shows why effective suicide prevention can only be achieved by understanding the many reasons why people choose to end their lives Gathers together contributions from more than 100 of the world's leading authorities on suicidal behavior many of them new to this edition Considers suicide from epidemiological psychological clinical sociological and neurobiological perspectives providing a holistic understanding of the subject

Describes the most up to date evidence based research and practice from across the globe and explores its implications across countries cultures and the lifespan Far Eastern Economic Review ,1984-10 Seminars in General Adult Psychiatry George Stein,Greg Wilkinson,2007-04 This second edition of Seminars in General Adult Psychiatry provides a highly readable and comprehensive account of modern adult psychiatry Key features of the first edition that have been retained are the detailed clinical descriptions of psychiatric disorders and historical sections to give the reader access to the classic studies of psychiatry as well as the current evidence Additional topics covered here for the first time include liaison psychiatry psychosexual medicine clinical epidemiology and international and cultural psychiatry Clinical management is given due prominence with extensive accounts of modern drug management cognitive therapy the main psychosocial approaches and current guidelines such as those published by the National Institute for Health and Care Excellence An essential text for trainees studying for their MRCPsych this book is also a one stop reference work for established practitioners providing comprehensive coverage of the whole of adult psychiatry
