Suing The Press Libel And The Media:

Suing the Press Rodney A. Smolla, 1987 From Carol Burnett vs The National Enquirer to William Westmoreland vs CBS lawsuits against the media have made their own headlines in recent years This spirited account offers a close look at these attacks on the press and what they reveal about American culture the legal system and libel law and the way the press operates Why Rodney Smolla asks have so many people people as various as Ralph Nader Clint Eastwood Lillian Hellman and Jerry Falwell taken to suing the press Are they mainly interested in money vengeance or the restoration of honor Is the press under fire because it has grown too arrogant Are Americans becoming too thin skinned too devoted to self image How important is the protection of reputation and privacy in American society To shed light on these and other issues Smolla examines both individual lawsuits and broader themes involving the economics of media litigation the cultural forces that affect libel judgments and the special problems posed by particular types of expression such as fictional works The media outlets discussed are as varied as the personalities initiating the suits from The Washington Post and The New York Times to Penthouse and Hustler Always lively and provocative this book reveals much about the media s shortcomings and virtues as well as the American character itself The Law of Public Communication, 11th Edition William E. feel good about your image and public presentation of self These include the legal actions against invasion of privacy libel and intentional infliction of emotional distress With these laws came the phenomenon of personal image litigation individuals suing to vindicate their image rights Laws of Image tells the story of how Americans came to use the law to protect and manage their images feelings and reputations In this social cultural and legal history Samantha Barbas ties the development of personal image law to the self consciousness and image consciousness that has become endemic in our media saturated culture of celebrity and consumerism where people see their identities as intertwined with their public images The laws of image are the expression of a people who have become so publicity conscious and self focused that they believe they have a right to control their images to manage and spin them like actors politicians and rock stars Blogger or Journalist?

Evaluating What Is the Press in the Digital Age Tracy Brown, 2012-12-15 From the Introduction The days of relying on the newspaper delivery boy to deliver information to households are long over The Internet and mobile phone technologies have changed how information is gathered and delivered in ways that can t be overstated They have allowed people worldwide to gather share and access news as it s happening The Internet and sites such as Facebook and YouTube have made it possible for anyone to reach a broad global audience and for anyone with a computer to be a news provider There is an enormous amount of content available online on just about any topic Viewers and readers must weed through this information to find sources that they trust and that they can rely on in the same way that people read their daily paper or watch their favorite television news broadcast The difference is the people who write for newspapers or television news are journalists people whose job it is to research and deliver news to the public When you go online you find content from lots of different people many of whom are not actual journalists but interested citizens who want to share information with the public much like journalists do These non journalists include writers of blogs and producers of independent news stories people who are not working for official media outlets like established news channels or publications Here we will look at the differences between journalists and this new breed of news providers We will discuss what professional standards journalists must follow that bloggers are not bound to as well as what laws protect journalists but do not offer the same protection for non journalists Also discussed will be the roles different types of news providers serve in society and how our definition of journalism is changing The purpose is to help consumers of online news better understand where the news they read is coming from what news they can trust how to tell the difference between fact and opinion and how to put together everything they read to form their own ideas about current events and then perhaps even to share their ideas in their own online publications or blogs Press Freedom in Contemporary Asia Tina Burrett, Jeffrey Kingston, 2019-11-05 This book analyzes the constraints on press freedom and the ways in which independent reporting and reporters are at risk in contemporary Asia to provide a barometer of democratic development in the region Based on in depth country case studies written by academics and journalists and some who straddle both professions from across the region this book explores the
