The Mercy of Allah is a humorous satirical novel on the methods by which the merchant Mahmoud rises from humble beginnings to massive wealth The setting in a fictionalized Middle East provides deeply Catholic author Hilaire Belloc a far off land in which to attack what he saw as the rapacious nature of the British businessmen industrialists and bankers of his day Each episode of Mahmoud's life satirizes greed from small frauds and outright theft to market manipulation money printing and funding both sides in a long war Mahmoud justifies all his dealings as simply the way things are For Allah in his inscrutable choice frowns on some and smiles on others The first he condemns to contempt anxiety duns bills courts of law sudden changes of residence and even dungeons the second he gratifies with luxurious vehicles delicious sherbet and enormous houses such as mine First published in 1922 this satire fits into Hilaire Belloc's growing advocacy for the economic and social philosophy of distributism It was selected as one of four books by Belloc for Arnold Bennett and Frank Swinnerton's influential Literary Taste How to Form It This book is part of the Standard Ebooks project which produces free public domain ebooks The Mercy of Allah: Essay Hilaire Belloc,2020-12-17
