Health Care Management Ewan Ferlie, Kathleen Montgomery, Anne Reff Pedersen, 2016 The Oxford Handbook of Healthcare Management offers a variety of current scholarly perspectives which explore important policy developments in health care management on an international basis Towards 2030: Sustainable Development Goal 3: Good Health and Wellbeing. A Sociological Perspective Sangeeta Chattoo, Chimaraoke Izugbara, Andrzej Klimczuk, Magdalena Klimczuk-Kochańska, Piotr Toczyski, Ashwani Kumar, Rubal Kanozia, Grzegorz Piotr Gawron, Ahmad Ozair, 2025-08-26 Building on the Millennium Development Goals the UN Sustainable Development Goals are the cornerstone of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development billed by the UN as An Agenda of unprecedented scope and significance The seventeen ambitious goals which are intended to be reached by 2030 are conceived as integrated indivisible and as balancing the economic social and environmental dimensions of sustainable development They are organized around five core pillars People ending poverty and hunger and ensuring that all human beings can lead fulfilling lives in a healthy and dignified environment Planet protecting the environment while ensuring sustainable use and management of natural resources Prosperity ensuring environmentally sustainable economic growth mutual prosperity and decent work for all Peace building societies that are peaceful just and inclusive and in which human rights and gender equality are respected Partnership strengthening global solidarity to address inequalities within and between countries by focusing on the needs of the most vulnerable This Research Topic addresses third Sustainable Development Goal which is to ensure healthy lives and promote wellbeing for all at all ages Progress toward this goal is measured by a number of individual targets and indicators As highlighted in the UN's most recent SDG progress report the COVID 19 pandemic has heavily impacted progress toward this goal Prior to the pandemic there had been improvements in maternal child health immunization coverage suicide rates and reductions in the incidence of communicable diseases and mortality rates from non communicable diseases The pandemic threatens to reverse or stall much of this progress As of June 2021 the global death toll from COVID 19 stood at 3.7 million with manifold wider ramifications of the disease Ninety per cent of countries are still reporting one or more disruptions to essential health services and available data indicates that the pandemic has shortened life expectancy The pandemic has also severely impacted mental health and increased waiting times for elective health services At the same time it has exacerbated inequalities at the national and international levels including access to vaccines In emerging from the pandemic and mitigating its effects the UN has placed emphasis on expanding universal health coverage and multisectoral coordination for health emergency preparedness as well as improving demographic and epidemiological data This Research Topic will address the third Sustainable Development Goal from a sociological specific perspective It will focus on how social stratification geographical location and culture impact communities health but also on groups specific health problems availability understanding and reception of medications and treatment and the functioning of primary health care as a service aiming to influence and inform policymakers on the development of equal public health policies A specific focus will be dedicated to how disparities in gaining access to health care reproduce important social inequalities in wellbeing and quality of life Due to the COVID 19 pandemic unprecedented health economic and social challenges are threatening lives and livelihoods making the attainment of SDGs much more onerous This call invites contributions in the form of studies reviews and opinion articles from the experts to provide sustainable solutions to achieve SDGs This Research Topic welcomes papers that will provide both theoretical and empirical findings Potential issues include but are not limited to Transformations of social determinants of health including lifestyles and environments Health inequalities and interventions towards their reduction Development of demographic and epidemiological data collecting and processing Advances in the fields of health emergency preparedness and access to universal health coverage Good health and wellbeing through access to clean and green agriculture Improving crop productivity on limited land in the era of climate change and COVID 19 pandemic Application of sustainable practices in agriculture and food sectors Public health and health sector innovations during the pandemic and for the post pandemic period Tensions between national and international health policies in response to global health challenges Role of experts in making law and public policies related to the COVID 19 pandemic e g response and recovery plans programs strategies and funds Innovative co design co creation and co production schemes based on diversity of policy ideas in the environmental policy and health policy Disruptions and challenges for integrated public policies and programs on social environmental and health issues related to delivering social health and care services Opportunities criticism and ethical controversies related to digital social innovation e health plant based innovation food innovation AI ICT and 3D solutions social and service robotics smart environments gerontechnology and welfare technology

Schools and Society Jeanne H. Ballantine,Joan Z. Spade,2011-04-04 Offering a wide array of theoretical perspectives and methods a broad range of resources and both classic and contemporary studies this fully updated Fourth Edition uses the open systems approach to provide readers with a framework for understanding and analyzing the book s disparate topics Edited by Jeanne H Ballantine and Joan Z Spade both of whom actively teach Sociology of Education courses this text includes dozens of readable articles that illustrate major concepts and theoretical perspectives in the field Solving the Health Care Problem Pamela Behan,2012-02-01 The United States is the only industrialized democracy that allows its citizens to go entirely without health care for lack of funds or to be bankrupted by medical bills Author Pamela Behan was confronted by the effects of this policy failure during her previous career as a nurse and with Solving the Health Care Problem she examines how it can be corrected Behan explores American health care policy failure by looking at how two other similar nations Canada and Australia managed to adopt health care protections and compares their stories with events in the United States Behan s systematic comparison of all three nations shows that the factors responsible for these different results center on the responsiveness of each nation s political institutions to its voters In particular Australia s parliamentary system and labor party and Canada s constitutional flexibility and national provincial dynamics proved central to each nation s adoption of national health insurance In contrast similar efforts in the United States became less frequent and less ambitious after they were repeatedly blocked without even coming to a vote These dissimilarities reveal the institutional and class issues that must be addressed for the United States to successfully confront the health care problem Rethinking Obesity Lee F. Monaghan, Emma Rich, Andrea E. Bombak, 2022-05-16 Theoretically informed and empirically grounded Rethinking Obesity invites readers to reconsider the medical and public health framing of population weight gain as a massive global problem epidemic or crisis Attentive to social values scientific uncertainty and possible harms the book furthers critique of the weight centred health paradigm and world war on obesity Building upon existing international literature from critical weight studies fat studies and critical obesity research the book advances scholarship with reference to body politics and health policy epidemiology and obesity science media reporting and weight related stigma The authors resist the common moralised narrative that the overweight majority are lazy gluttonous and personally responsible for their actual or potential ills and the solution ultimately necessitates individual lifestyle change Critique is also extended to seemingly compassionate public health interventions that putatively avoid victim blaming through an appeal to the obesogenic environment a consequence of modern living Empirical case studies are grounded in women s repeated and often frustrating experiences of dieting and schoolgirls encounters with fat pedagogy which challenges dominant obesity discourse Recognising that declared public health crises may become layered and cascade through society this book also includes timely research on the COVID 19 pandemic response amidst concerns about lockdown weight gain heightened risk of infection and death among people deemed overweight and obese Rethinking Obesity interrogates how social injustice is reproduced not only through cruelty but also through seemingly benevolent representations pedagogies and policies Alternative approaches and action ranging from weight inclusive health paradigms to broader social change are also considered when seeking to foster collective hope in crisis times This is valuable reading for students and researchers in medical sociology social and population health sciences physical education critical weight and fat studies and the social dimensions of the body
