Beaver, John Wright, 2009-05-07 Over the past two centuries many aspects of criminal behavior have been investigated Finding this information and making sense of it all is difficult when many studies would appear to offer contradictory findings The Handbook of Crime Correlates collects in one source the summary analysis of crime research worldwide It provides over 400 tables that divide crime research into nine broad categories Pervasiveness and intra offending relationships Demographic factors Ecological and macroeconomic factors Family and peer factors Institutional factors Behavioral and personality factors Cognitive factors Biological factors Crime victimization and fear of crime Within these broad categories tables identify regions of the world and how separate variables are or are not positively or negatively associated with criminal behavior Criminal behavior is broken down into separate offending categories of violent crime property crime drug offenses sex offenses delinquency general and adult offenses and recidivism Accompanying each table is a description of what each table indicates in terms of the positive or negative association of specific variables with specific types of crime by region This book should serve as a valuable resource for criminal justice personnel and academics in the social and life sciences interested in criminal behavior Ethnomethodology and the Human Sciences Graham Button,1991-08-30 Through its empirical inquiries into the ordered properties of social action this text demonstrates how ethnomethodology provides a radical respecification of the foundations of the human sciences an achievement that has often been misunderstood

Criminology Jayne Mooney,2019-12-06 To confront the challenges criminologists face today and to satisfactorily critique the theories on which criminology is founded we need to learn from the past To do this we must give context to both theorist and theory Written from a critical perspective this book brings criminological theory to life It presents the core theories of criminology as historical and cultural products and theorists as producers of culture located in particular places writing in specific historical periods and situated in precise intellectual networks and philosophical controversies This book illustrates that theory does not arise out of the blue and highlights the importance of understanding how and why ideas emerge at certain points in time why they gained currency and the influence that they have had It follows the trajectory of criminology from pre Enlightenment society through to the present day and the proliferation of criminological thinking It explores Setting the Stage for the Emergence of Criminology Classicist Criminology The Search for Justice Equality and the Rational Man The Positivist Revolution Physiognomy Phrenology and the Science of Othering Chicago School of Sociology An Explosion of Ideas

Developing a Sociological Criminology Durkheim Du Bois Merton and Tannenbaum Feminism Redressing the Gender Imbalance Confronting the Establishment The Emergence of Critical Criminology From Theoretical Innovations to Political Engagement The Theoretical Foundations of Criminology provides an invaluable contribution to the growing conversation about criminology's origin story and the level that this is grounded in the idiosyncrasies of the North Atlantic world and its historical development This book will be invaluable reading to students and academics engaged in studies of criminology and criminal justice

Women Criminals Vickie Jensen, 2011-11-10 A unique two volume study that examines female crime and the women who commit it The two volume Women Criminals An Encyclopedia of People and Issues addresses both key topics and key figures in women's crime. The first volume provides topical essays about areas critical to the understanding of female criminals such as the definition of women's crime, explanations of women's criminality, ethnic and age diversity in female criminals and responses of the criminal justice system. The second volume comprises biographical entries profiling women who are obviously criminals such as Aileen Wuornos and Myra Hindley and also women who were victims of circumstance, unjust laws or narrowly applied definitions of crime such as Rosa Parks, Harriet Tubman and Sophie Scholl. In addition to highlighting the breadth of women's criminality, these portraits provide a holistic, multifaceted understanding of the dynamics of women's crime and why it occurs, connecting the individual stories to the larger social scientific perspectives. Care has been taken to include the women's own voices and perspectives where possible and to address the intentions and reasoning of the system that responded to their criminality.

Developmental Psychopathology, Volume 2 Dante Cicchetti, Donald J. Cohen, 2006-03-31. Developmental Psychopathology Second Edition contains in three volumes the most complete and current research on every aspect of developmental psychopathology. This seminal reference work features contributions from national and international expert researchers and clinicians who bring together an array of interdisciplinary work to ascertain how multiple levels of analysis may influence individual differences, the continuity or discontinuity of patterns and the pathways by which the same developmental outcomes may be achieved. This volume addresses theoretical perspectives and methodological.

At the Threshold S. Shirley Feldman, Glen R. Elliott, 1990. Presents the findings of the Carnegie Foundation study on adolescence, an interdisciplinary synthesis of research into the biological, social and psychological changes occurring during this key stage in the life span. Focuses on the contexts of adolescent life: social and ethnic, family and school, leisure and work.

Risks and Problem Behaviors in Adolescence Richard M. Lerner, Christine M. O'Hanessian, 2014-02-04. The articles in this volume illustrate how development is propelled by the bidirectional relations that occur between the person and all levels of the context. The authors argue that adolescent life is embedded in a complicated developmental system involving multiple features of the individual: e.g. biology, emotions, personality and cognition and the multiple levels of his or her social ecology: e.g. peers, family, school, the workplace and the public policy and legal systems that structure and impact behavioural opportunities for and the actions of adolescents. These articles have important implications for the design of interventions aimed at adolescent problem behaviours.
