Sociology Of The Future Theory Cases And Annotated Bibliography:

Sociology of the Future Wendell Bell, James Wau, 1971-10-12 Concerns itself with the future of sociology and of all social science The thirteen authors among them Wendell Bell Kai T Erikson Scott Greer Robert Boguslaw James Mau and Ivar Oxaal are oriented toward a redefinition of the role of the social scientist as advisor to policymakers and administrators in all major areas of social concern for the purpose of studying and shaping the future This book contains research strategies for such futurologistic study theories on its merits and dangers as well as an annotated bibliography of social science studies of the future

The Sociology of the Future Wendell Bell, 1973 Elgar Encyclopedia of Environmental Sociology Christine Overdevest, 2024-04-12 The Elgar Encyclopedia of Environmental Sociology serves as a repository of insight on the complex interactions challenges and potential solutions that characterize our shared ecological reality Presenting innovative thinking on a comprehensive range of topics expert scholars researchers and practitioners illuminate the nuances complexities and diverse perspectives that define the continually evolving field of environmental sociology

The De Gruyter Handbook of Automated Futures Vaike Fors, Martin Berg, Meike Brodersen, 2024-09-23 How does automation affect us our environment and our imaginations What actions should we take in response to automation Beyond grand narratives and technology driven visions of the future what more can automation offer With these questions in mind The De Gruyter Handbook of Automated Futures provides a framework for thinking about and implementing automation differently It consolidates automated futures as an inter and transdisciplinary research field embedding the imaginaries interactions and impacts of automation technology within their social historical societal cultural and political contexts Promoting a critical yet constructive and engaging agenda the handbook invites readers to collaborate with rather than resist automation agendas It does so by pushing the agenda for social science humanities and design beyond merely assessing and evaluating existing technologies Instead the handbook demonstrates how the humanities and social sciences are essential to the design and governance of sustainable sociotechnical systems Methodologically the handbook is underpinned by a pedagogical approach to staging co learning and co creation of automated futures with rather than simply for people In this way the handbook encourages readers to explore new and alternative modes of research fostering a deeper engagement with the evolving landscape of automation

Evidence in Action between Science and Society Sarah Ehlers, Stefan Esselborn, 2022-07-15 This volume is an interdisciplinary attempt to insert a broader historically informed perspective into current political and academic debates on the issue of evidence and the reliability of scientific knowledge The tensions between competing paradigms different bodies of knowledge and the relative hierarchies between them are a crucial element of the historical and contemporary dynamics of scientific knowledge production The negotiation of evidence is at the heart of this process Starting from the premise that evidence constitutes a central but also essentially contested concept in contemporary knowledge based societies this volume focuses on how evidence is generated and applied in practice in other words on evidence in action The contributions analyze and compare different evidence practices within the field of science and technology how they interlink with different forms of power their interaction with and impact on the legal and political domain and their relationship to other more heterodox forms of evidence that challenge traditional notions of evidence In doing so this volume provides much needed context and historical background to contemporary debates on the so called post truth society Evidence in Action is the perfect resource for all those interested in the relationship between science technology and the role of knowledge in society Chapter 6 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license

Reframing the Early Childhood Curriculum Jane M. Page, 2000 Argues that pre school children have a less apprehensive view of the future than adolescents and that an effective programme in the early years can counteract the difficulties youths experience

The Time Dimension T. K. Das, 1990-04-17 This is the first comprehensive bibliography of temporal scholarship research on the subject of time and the phenomenon of time itself As the author notes in his introduction the nature of research insights on the subject of time is difficult to comprehend within the confines of any specific discipline since relevant materials are scattered throughout the literature in numerous scholarly fields By bringing together the most significant published works in a wide variety of disciplines this unique compendium enables scholars and researchers to look beyond their own particular area of expertise when selecting appropriate resource materials Throughout the focus is on the time dimension itself as a problematic or researchable phenomenon rather than on narrow topics such as time management time series analysis or forecasting Organized by discipline the work begins with an initial chapter that lists general works on the time dimension Nineteen chapters then list works in particular disciplines ranging from anthropology and culture to biology economics futures studies history linguistics management studies psychology and more The final chapter lists miscellaneous entries which could not be categorized into any of the specific disciplinary headings Within each chapter entries are arranged alphabetically by author or editor Nearly all sources are from scholarly journals and books

Hermeneutics, History, and Technology Armin Grunwald, Alfred Nordmann, Martin Sand, 2023-06-01 For better and worse the future is often conceived in technological terms Technology is supposed to meet the challenge of climate change or resource depletion And when one asks about the world in 20 or 100 years answers typically revolve around AI genome editing or geoengineering There is great demand to speculate about the future of work the future of mobility Industry 4.0 and Humanity 2.0 The humanities and social sciences science studies and technology assessment respond to this demand but need to seek out a responsible way of taking the future into account This collection of papers interviews debates grew out of disagreements about technological futures speculative ethics plausible scenarios anticipatory governance and proactionary and precautionary approaches It proposes Hermeneutic Technology Assessment as a way of understanding ourselves through our ways of envisioning the future At the same time a hermeneutic understanding of technological projects and prototypes allows for normative assessments of their promises Is the future an object of design This question can bring together and divide policy makers STS scholars social theorists and philosophers of history and it will interest also the scientists and engineers who labor under the demand to deliver that future

Reframing the Early Childhood Curriculum Jane Page,2002-01-04 Pre school children have fundamentally different attitudes towards the future and attendant notions of time and space For this reason early childhood professionals are optimally placed to lay important foundations for young children s long term development Children s flexibility of thought their positive and constructive outlook on life their sense of the continuity of time their creativity and imagination and their sense of personal connection with time and the future are all qualities that should be recognized and addressed in early childhood educational programmes as a means of counteracting the difficulty youths experience in knowing what to expect in their future lives and coming to understand their roles in shaping them Reframing the Early Childhood Curriculum offers fresh insight into examining futurists and early childhood theorists thinking of the relevance of planning for children s long term needs in early childhood identifying the skills attitudes and outlooks required to assist young children attending early childhood programmes in their long term growth and development exploring the means through which these skills attitudes and outlooks can be achieved in curriculum frameworks through specific goals and learning experiences against the background of youth and young children s views of the future

Modernisms Jean-Michel Rabaté,Angeliki Spiropoulou,2021-10-21 Examining the ways in which modernism is created within specific historical contexts as well as how it redefines the concept of history itself this book sheds new light on the historical mindedness of modernism and the artistic avant gardes Cutting across Anglophone and less explored European traditions and featuring work from a variety of eminent scholars it deals with issues as diverse as artistic medium modernist print culture autobiography as history writing avant garde experimentations and modernism s futurity Contributors examine both literary and artistic modernism combining theoretical overviews and archival research with case studies of Anglophone as well as European modernism which speak to the current historicizing trend in modernist and literary studies

An Anthropology of Futures and Technologies Débora Lanzeni,Karen Waltrp,Sarah Pink,Rachel C. Smith,2022-12-30 This book examines emerging automated technologies and systems and the increasingly prominent roles that each plays in our lives and our imagined futures It asks how technological futures are being constituted and the roles anthropologists can play in their making how anthropologists engage with emerging technologies within their fieldwork contexts in research which seeks to influence future design how to create critical and interventional approaches to technology design and innovation and how a critical anthropology of the way that emerging technologies are experienced in everyday life circumstances offers new insights for future making practices In pursuing these questions this book responds to a call for new anthropologies that respond to the current and emerging technological environments in which we live environments for which thinking critically about the possible plausible and impossible futures are no longer sufficient Taking the next step this book asserts that anthropology must now propose alternative ways rooted in ethnography to approach and engage with what is coming and to contest dominant narratives of industry policy and government and to respond to our contemporary context through a public vocal and interventional approach The Study of the Future, 1977 Anthropologies and Futures Juan Francisco Salazar, Sarah Pink, Andrew Irving, Johannes Sjöberg, 2020-05-15 Anthropology has a critical practical role to play in contemporary debates about futures This game changing new book presents new ways of conceptualising how to engage with a future oriented research agenda demonstrating how anthropologists can approach futures both theoretically and practically and introducing a set of innovative research methods to tackle this field of research Anthropology and Futures brings together a group of leading scholars from across the world including Sarah Pink Rayna Rapp Faye Ginsburg and Paul Stoller Firmly grounded in ethnographic fieldwork experience the book's fifteen chapters traverse ethnographies with people living with HIV AIDS in Uganda disability activists in the U S young Muslim women in Copenhagen refugees in Milan future makers in Barcelona planning and land futures in the UK the design of workspaces in Melbourne rewilding in the French Pyrenees and speculative ethnographies among emerging communities in Antarctica Taking a strong interdisciplinary approach the authors respond to growing interest in the topic of futures in anthropology and beyond This ground breaking text is a call for more engaged interventional and applied anthropologies It is essential reading for students and researchers in anthropology sociology cultural studies design and research methods Future-Minded Magda Osman, 2014-03-11 What drives us to make decisions Future Minded explores the psychological processes of agency and control If you've ever wondered why we think of coincidences as matters of fate rather than the result of the laws of probability this book provides the answer From memory and reasoning to our experiences of causality and consciousness it unpicks the mechanisms we use on a daily basis to help us predict plan for and attempt to control the future Future Minded Features a wealth of real world examples to help you engage with this fast developing area Provides clear analysis of psychological experiments and their findings to explain the evidence behind the theory Thought provoking and highly topical Future Minded is fascinating reading for psychology students studying cognition or consciousness and for anyone interested in understanding how we try to determine the future Future Matters Barbara Adam, Chris Groves, 2007 Future Matters concerns contemporary approaches to the future how the future is known created and minded In a social world whose pace continues to accelerate the future becomes an increasingly difficult terrain While the focus of social life is narrowing down to the present the futures we create on a daily basis cast ever longer shadows Future Matters addresses this paradox and its deep ethical implications It locates contemporary approaches to the future in a wider sociological and historical framework of practices traces differences and continuities and shows how contemporary practices of futures construction make taking responsibility for futures all but impossible Imagined Futures Max Saunders, 2019-10-22 This study provides the first substantial history and analysis of the To Day and To Tomorrow series of 110 books published by Kegan Paul Trench and Trübner and E. P. Dutton in the USA from 1923 to 1931 in which writers chose a topic described its present and predicted its future. Contributors included J. B. S. Haldane, Bertrand Russell, Vernon Lee, Robert Graves, Vera Brittain, Sylvia Pankhurst, Hugh MacDiarmid, James Jeans, J. D. Bernal, Winifred Holtby, Andr  Maurois and many others. The study combines a comprehensive account of its interest history and range with a discussion of its key concerns, tropes and influence. The argument focuses on science and technology not only as the subject of many of the volumes but also as method especially through the paradigm of the human sciences applied to other disciplines and as a source of metaphors for representing other domains. It also includes chapters on war, technology, cultural studies and literature and the arts. This book aims to reinstate the series as a vital contribution to the writing of modernity and to reappraise modernism's relation to the future, establishing a body of progressive writing which moves beyond the discourses of post-Darwinian degeneration and post-war disenchantment, projecting human futures rather than mythic or classical pasts. It also shows how, as a co-ordinated body of futurological writing, the series is also revealing about the nature and practices of modern futurology itself. Building the Post-Pandemic University Mark A.

Carrigan, Hannah, Moscovitz, Michele, Martini, Susan L. Robertson, 2023-07-01. This timely book offers a detailed multidisciplinary view on the radical changes in higher education caused by the COVID-19 pandemic. Chapters carefully investigate how the pandemic led to massive disruption in the sector, examining the contentious politics involved and various managerial and policy changes that stemmed from this unprecedented crisis. Lands of the Future Echi Christina Gabbert, Fana Gebresenbet, John G. Galaty, G nther Schlee, 2021-01-15. Rangeland forests and riverine landscapes of pastoral communities in Eastern Africa are increasingly under threat. Abetted by states who think that outsiders can better use the lands than the people who have lived there for centuries, outside commercial interests have displaced indigenous dwellers from pastoral territories. This volume presents case studies from Eastern Africa based on long-term field research that vividly illustrate the struggles and strategies of those who face dispossession and also discredit ideological false modernist tropes like backwardness and primitiveness.
