Courting Communities Kathy Glass, 2013-09-13 Courting Communities focuses on the writing and oratory of nineteenth century African American women whose racial uplift projects troubled the boundaries of race nation and gender In particular it reexamines the politics of gender in nationalist movements and black women's creative response within and against both state and insurgent black nationalist discourses. Courting Communities highlights the ideas and rhetorical strategies of female activists considered to be less important than the prominent male nationalists. Yet their story is significant precisely because it does not fit into the pre-established categories of nationalism and leadership bequeathed to us from the past.

Sojourner Truth's America Margaret Washington, 2011-04-21 This fascinating biography tells the story of nineteenth century America through the life of one of its most charismatic and influential characters Sojourner Truth. In an in depth account of this amazing activist Margaret Washington unravels Sojourner Truth's world within the broader panorama of African American slavery and the nation's most significant reform era. Born into bondage among the Hudson Valley Dutch in Ulster County New York Isabella was sold several times married and bore five children before fleeing in 1826 with her infant daughter one year before New York slavery was abolished. In 1829 she moved to New York City where she worked as a domestic, preached, joined a religious commune and then in 1843 had an epiphany. Changing her name to Sojourner Truth she began traveling the country as a champion of the downtrodden and a spokeswoman for equality by promoting Christianity, abolitionism and women's rights. Gifted in verbal eloquence, wit and biblical knowledge Sojourner Truth possessed an earthy, imaginative, homespun personality that won her many friends and admirers and made her one of the most popular and quoted reformers of her times. Washington's biography of this remarkable figure considers many facets of Sojourner Truth's life to explain how she became one of the greatest activists in American history including her African and Dutch religious heritage, her experiences of slavery within contexts of labor, domesticity and patriarchy and her profoundly personal sense of justice and intuitive integrity. Organized chronologically into three distinct eras of Truth's life Sojourner Truth's America examines the complex dynamics of her times beginning with the transnational contours of her spirituality and early life as Isabella and her embroilments in legal controversy. Truth's awakening during nineteenth century America's progressive surge then propelled her ascendancy as a rousing preacher and political orator despite her inability to read and write. Throughout the book Washington explores Truth's passionate commitment to family and community including her vision for a beloved community that extended beyond race, gender and socioeconomic condition and embraced a common humanity. For Sojourner Truth the significant model for such communalism was a primitive prophetic Christianity. Illustrated with dozens of images of Truth and her contemporaries Sojourner Truth's America draws a delicate and compelling balance between Sojourner Truth's personal motivations and the influences of her historical context. Washington provides important insights into the turbulent cultural and political climate of the age while also separating the many myths from the facts concerning this legendary American figure.

Children's Biographies of African American Women Sara C. VanderHaagen, 2018-11-15 A study of how rhetoric has shaped the life stories of African American role models in children's literature. In Children's Biographies of African American Women: Rhetoric, Public Memory and Agency Sara C. VanderHaagen examines how these biographies encourage young readers to think about themselves as agents in a public world Specifically VanderHaagen illustrates how these works use traditional means to serve progressive ends and thereby examines the rhetorical power of biography in shaping identity and promoting public action Drawing on scholarship in rhetoric memory studies and children s literature VanderHaagen presents rhetorical analyses of biographies of three African American women poet Phillis Wheatley activist Sojourner Truth and educator turned politician Shirley Chisholm published in the United States during the twentieth and twenty first centuries VanderHaagen begins by analyzing how biographical sketches in books for black children published during the 1920s represent Wheatley and Truth The study then shifts to books published between 1949 and 2015

VanderHaagen uses a concept adapted from philosopher Paul Ricoeur the idea of the agential spiral to chart the ways that biographies have used rhetoric to shape the life stories of Wheatley Truth and Chisholm By bringing a critical rhetorical perspective to the study of biographies for children this book advances the understanding of how lives of the past are used persuasively to shape identity and encourage action in the contemporary public world VanderHaagen contributes to the study of rhetoric and African American children s literature and refocuses the field of memory studies on children s biographies a significant but often overlooked genre through which public memories first take shape Extremists for Love J. Radical Reconstruction Carol Faulkner,2013-04-19 In this first critical study of female abolitionists and feminists in the freedmen s aid movement Carol Faulkner describes these women s radical view of former slaves and the nation s responsibility to them Moving beyond the image of the Yankee schoolmarm Women s Radical Reconstruction demonstrates fully the complex and dynamic part played by Northern women in the design implementation and administration of Reconstruction policy This absorbing account illustrates how these activists approached women s rights the treatment of freed slaves and the federal government s role in reorganizing Southern life Like Radical Republicans black and white women studied here advocated land reform political and civil rights and an activist federal government They worked closely with the military the Freedmen s Bureau and Northern aid societies to provide food clothes housing education and employment to former slaves These abolitionist feminists embraced the Freedmen s Bureau seeing it as both a shield for freedpeople and a vehicle for women s rights But Faulkner rebuts historians who depict a community united by faith in free labor ideology describing a movement torn by internal tensions The author explores how gender conventions undermined women s efforts as military personnel and many male reformers saw female reformers as encroaching on their territory threatening their vision of a wage labor economy and impeding the economic independence of former slaves She notes the opportunities afforded to some middle class black women while also acknowledging the difficult ground they occupied between freed slaves and whites Through compelling individual examples she traces how female reformers found their commitment to gender solidarity across racial lines tested in the face of disagreements regarding the benefits of charity and the merits of paid employment      Arnt I a Woman Deborah Gray White,1999-02-02 One of those rare books that quickly became the standard work in its field Anne Firor Scott Duke University Living with the dual burdens of racism and sexism slave women in the plantation South assumed roles within the family and community that contrasted sharply with traditional female roles in the larger American society This revised edition of Arnt I a Woman reviews and updates the scholarship on slave women and the slave family exploring new ways of understanding the intersection of race and gender and comparing the myths that stereotyped female slaves with the realities of their lives Above all this groundbreaking study shows us how black women experienced freedom in the Reconstruction South their heroic struggle to gain their rights hold their families together resist economic and sexual oppression and maintain their sense of womanhood against all odds Winner of the Letitia Woods Brown Memorial Book Prize awarded by the Association of Black Women Historians      Reader's Guide to American History Peter J. Radical Spiritual Motherhood Rosetta R. Haynes, 2011-01-01 In this cutting edge work Rosetta R Haynes explores the spiritual autobiographies of five nineteenth century female African American itinerant preachers to discover the ways in which they drew upon religion and the material conditions of their lives to fashion powerful personas that enabled them to pursue their missions as divinely appointed religious leaders Haynes examines the lives and narratives of Jarena Lee 1783 Zilpha Elaw c 1790 Julia Foote 1823 1900 Amanda Berry Smith 1837 1915 and Rebecca Cox Jackson 1795 1871 through an innovative conceptual framework Haynes terms radical spiritual motherhood an empowering identity deriving from the experience of sanctification a kind of spiritual perfection following conversion Drawing upon conventional nineteenth century standards for motherhood radical spiritual motherhood also challenges traditional standards These were women whose religious missions authorized them to preach in public to assume an activist role and to declare sexual autonomy through celibacy They redefined their relationships to the powers that be by becoming instruments of God in a kind of protofeminist gesture Haynes uses historical methods feminist literary theory and liberation theology to investigate the ways these women as reflected especially in their autobiographies employed the idea of motherhood to fashion strong authentic identities as women called to preach the gospel Though radical spiritual motherhood is an identity specifically adopted by free black women the lives and texts of these itinerant preachers retain close ties to those of enslaved black women through the negative cultural stereotypes assigned to both groups To illustrate this connection Haynes analyzes the writings of the preachers within the context of the narratives of former slaves Harriet Jacobs Mary Prince and Sojourner Truth Haynes also links the lineage of radical spiritual motherhood to a modern woman by considering Pauli Murray 1910 1985 the first African American woman and the second African American to be ordained as an Episcopal priest By looking at Murray's intellectual and spiritual development especially her feminist ideologies social activism and espousal of liberation theology Haynes shows that Murray was in fact a modern day radical spiritual mother Pioneering and accessible Radical Spiritual Motherhood marks a turning point in the study of both African American literature and women's studies I Just Keep Talking Nell Irvin Painter, 2024-04-23 A NEW YORK TIMES NOTABLE BOOK From the New York Times bestselling author of The History of White People and Old in Art School a finalist for the NBCC Award comes a comprehensive new collection of essays spanning art politics and the legacy of racism that shapes American history as we know it Throughout her
