Problem-Solving Parent Conferences in Schools Dennis J. Simon, 2019-07-31 Problem Solving Parent Conferences in Schools presents a Problem solving Parent Conference PPC model that integrates and applies empirically supported systemic and behavioral intervention strategies to coordinated home school interventions for student behavioral and social emotional concerns Though today s schools seek to further understand student behaviors from ecological and systemic perspectives there are limited resources available on how to effectively collaborate with families a key social environmental context This unique book engages parents and teachers in a five stage protocol towards more effective student support These evidence based change oriented approaches will be essential for graduate students in school psychology school social work and school counseling programs in teacher preparation and in any related course focused on parents and families in school settings Its resources are also critical for mental health practitioners who work with children adolescents families and schools The Journal of Home Economics, 1927 LOST Opportunities Bronwyn Bevan, Philip Bell, Reed Stevens, Aria Razfar, 2012-07-26 Learning in informal settings is attracting growing attention from policymakers and researchers yet there remains at the moment a dearth of literature on the topic Thus this volume which examines how science and mathematics are experienced in everyday and out of school time OST settings makes an important contribution to the field of the learning sciences Conducting research on OST learning requires us to broaden and deepen our conceptions of learning as well as to better identify the unique and common qualities of different learning settings We must also find better ways to analyze the interplay between OST and school based learning In this volume scholars develop theoretical structures that are useful not only for understanding learning processes but also for helping to create and support new opportunities for learning whether they are in or out of school or bridging a range of settings The chapters in this volume include studies of everyday and situated processes that facilitate science and mathematics learning They also feature new theoretical and empirical frameworks for studying learning pathways that span both in and out of school time and settings Contributors also examine structured OST programs in which everyday and situated modes of learning are leveraged in support of more disciplined practices and conceptions of science and mathematics Fortifying much of this work is a leading focus on educational equity a desire to foster more socially supportive and intellectually engaging science and mathematics learning opportunities for youth from historically non dominant communities Full of compelling examples and revealing analysis this book is a vital addition to the literature on a subject with a fast rising profile
