Somalia Peter D. Little, 2003 In the wake of the collapse of the Somali government in 1991 a second or informal economy based on trans border trade and smuggling is thriving While focusing primarily on pastoral and agricultural markets Peter D Little demonstrates that the Somalis are resilient and opportunistic and that they use their limited resources effectively While it is true that many Somalis live in the shadow of brutal warlords and lack access to basic health care and education Little focuses on those who have managed to carve out a productive means of making ends meet under difficult conditions and emphasizes the role of civic culture even when government no longer exists Exploring questions such as Does statelessness necessarily mean anarchy and disorder Do money international trade and investment survive without a state Do pastoralists care about development and social improvement This book describes the complexity of the Somali situation in the light of international terrorism *African Studies Association annual meeting. Forthcoming Books Rose Army, 2003 Party Systems and Cleavage Structures in Southern Africa Jürgen Langhanns, 2014-04-29 For the interaction of society and political parties within the electoral system in southern Africa it is necessary to systematically investigate the social structures cleavage analysis and measure the success or failure of political parties against the backdrop of the election programmes manifesto research The focus of this research is the six polyarchies of Botswana Malawi Mozambique Namibia Zambia and South Africa In countries with the voting system of proportional representation neither coalition governments nor alternative government parties have ruled since 1990 In countries with a majoritarian voting system either coalitions have formed a government or one party has remained unchallenged for decades The research results show that the previous electoral outcomes are the reflection of the cleavage structure and there are indicators in the societies examined that can meet the theoretical expectations of democratic societies in the future In part I the theoretical framework for the cleavage analysis and party analysis is established which applies for the six case studies of part II The societies are examined in terms of eight cleavages their extension and their political relevance The cleavages are related to the settlement area the occupation the income distribution the religion the ethnicity race the language heritage the educational level and citizenship the proportion of foreigners In the context of the electoral system political parties represent the social interest Their goals are recorded as contents of the manifesto which can be used for Wordscores to compare the political parties on the policy domains Freedom and democracy Political system Economy Welfare and quality of life Fabric of Society and Social Groups Each domain is described by two contrasting definitions which are used for aggregating Left Right categorisation of the parties The regional results in the comparative study part III define the categories Left Right and Liberal of political parties The qualitative comparative analysis QCA is used to define the content of the left wing right wing and liberal political parties in the context of Southern Africa At the same time the contents of the definitions are factors in the success of parties in Southern Africa Parties with right wing content are found mainly among the government parties and parties with politically left wing or liberal content are mainly opposition parties The Politics of Economic Regionalism David Francis, 2017-11-01 This title was first published in 2001 The primary objective of this book is to provide an analytical understanding of the nature dynamics and complexity of the politics of economic regionalism through the prism of Sierra Leone in the Economic Community of West African States ECOWAS The book also discusses the following issues the evolution of economic regionalism in West Africa and the conceptual framework for analysis the expansion of the economic regionalism developments within the West Africa sub region with that of the transformation of the global economy and international political system political economic and security developments within ECOWAS and the civil war in Sierra Leone
