Gordon Whitman,2018-01-16 Stand Up How to Get Involved Speak Out and Win in a World on Fire A society that actively combats racism treats climate change as a serious threat and ensures that all people have a living wage and a decent life for themselves and their families is not a progressive pipe dream Victories are being won every day all over the country But they didn t happen just by clicking donate on a website Gordon Whitman says that fundamental change demands forming the kind of face to face relationships that have sustained every social movement in history For two decades Whitman has been working with PICO National Network to equip tens of thousands to fight racial discrimination and economic injustice He brings that experience to this book describing five kinds of conversations that enable people to create organizations that can successfully overcome the forces of oppression and reaction The first conversation to have is with ourselves to make sure we re clear about our purpose and in it for the long haul Then we need to share the personal story of how we came to this point with others there is no more powerful way to connect They in turn will share their stories and then we can have the third conversation about becoming a team This team reaches out to people they know to talk about their concerns and priorities building a broad base of supporters Then with our base at our back we can have that final conversation directly confronting the powers that be Of course this isn t as simple as it sounds Appropriately enough Whitman uses stories his own and others to illustrate how best to handle these conversations and to show how they work together to build a movement We can t just sit on the sidelines sharing angry social media posts or signing online petitions We need to get directly involved reach out knock on doors and bring our whole selves to the table if the changes our country so desperately need are ever going to come Farley v. Farley, 278 MICH 361 (1936) ,1936 83 Yuletide Protector Lisa Mondello,2009-12-01 Her ex husband wants her dead Daria Carlisle can hardly believe it Detective Kevin Gordon insists it s true and that it s his fault that her ex is still at large Which means it s his responsibility to make sure Daria stays safe So when Daria stubbornly refuses to run scared Kevin takes on the role of yuletide protector He knows firsthand that Daria s ex means business And with Christmas coming the determined cop intends to give Daria the holiday celebration she deserves safe and sound by his side forever The Room at the End of the Hall Bette Ann Moskowitz,2013-02-11 In this first person narrative Bette Ann Moskowitz tells what it is like to be a volunteer long term care ombudsman and how with thirty six hours of training she entered the unfamiliar world of a nursing home to advocate for its almost three hundred residents She brings the reader along as she learns the ropes makes mistakes and meets tragic and beautiful people struggling for their lives When she becomes assistant coordinator of the program she gets an even broader view of institutional life advocacy and old age Problems are big and small a man discharged for having a sexual relationship with a fellow resident residents not getting evening snacks an intelligent resident with mental health problems fighting to be a partner in her own care Author of DO I KNOW YOU A Family s Journey Through Aging and Alzheimer s Moskowitz says advocating for the old and disabled in long term care can be a transgressive act We often oppose the authorities by standing up for the one with two different shoes against the Suits Sometimes we don t know enough We have access but little power Yet an ombudsman may be the only thing standing between the resident and disaster In addition to shedding light on this unheralded and important volunteer health care worker THE ROOM AT THE END OF THE HALL raises questions about how America and Americans go about the business of old age and how old age itself is changing as the baby boomer generation enters it The Code of Cuenca James F.
