The Darkness Manifesto Johan Eklöf, 2024-02-13

How much light is too much light Satellite pictures show our planet as a brightly glowing orb and in our era of constant illumination light pollution has become a major issue The world's flora and fauna have evolved to operate in the natural cycle of day and night But in the last 150 years we have extended our day and in doing so have forced out the inhabitants of the night and disrupted the circadian rhythms necessary to sustain all living things including ourselves In this well researched and surprisingly lyrical The New Statesman UK book Swedish conservationist Johan Eklöf urges us to appreciate natural darkness its creatures and its unique benefits He ponders the beauties of the night sky traces the errant paths of light drunk moths and the swift dives of keen eyed owls and shows us the bioluminescent creatures of the deepest oceans As a devoted friend of the night Eklöf reveals the startling domino effect of diminishing darkness insects dumbfounded by streetlamps failing to reproduce birds blinded and bewildered by artificial lights and bats starving as they wait in vain for insects that only come out in the dark For humans light induced sleep disturbances impact our hormones and weight and can contribute to mental health problems like chronic stress and depression The streetlamps floodlights and neon signs of cities are altering entire ecosystems and scientists are only just beginning to understand their long term effects The light bulb long the symbol of progress and development needs to be turned off career income and capital and repeat the false allegations covering the truth with a press gag The man and it could be you entrusts his safety and future to lawyers who had spent 35 million of public money seeking redress for thousands of other who had claimed the same their lives have been forever ruined by these drugs That claim was so conducted it was never heard Supported by all experts the same lawyers advise there is no claim and put him on the scrap heap of life Is there something sinister afoot You read and judge and vote He fights back only to find that the law is very much a closed shop The reader is given a fascinating insight to the real workings of our Legal Establishment to the very top in the House of Lords Finally you are given something judges and lawyers have always denied each of us the right to judge lawyers and their system and the judges who protect them About the Author Simon Kaberry was born in Leeds in December 1948 After schooling elsewhere he was admitted a solicitor in 1974 and returned to his native city in 1980 where he set up and ran his own legal practice This is his true story of the workings of our legal establishment today Book Extract They say that life is what you make of it Others say that is not so it is much more what happens to you in it Events over which you have no control such determine the path of your life and you can only respond to them as best one can The account which follows is of life in England today subjected to its lawyers rules It is not fiction I wish it were Any event to which I was not a party is based upon reasoned assumptions from known facts Had these events not happened to me I would have said this could not happen yet it could happen to you How would you cope If wrong should befall you or your family you would seek redress in accordance with the law You would put your trust in it and in the lawyers You would look to that word justice a concept which ordinary people see as right and truth sometimes retribution sometimes compensation To do that you would look to our judges our trustees of justice to hear the evidence fairly then judge and order As a democracy we elect those entrusted to govern Each five years at least we have the right to change that government the legislature and executive if it fails us lets us down or does not answer our needs they know that However the third part of democratic life is the Judiciary Our Judges are not elected and self regulate as such they know they are not accountable to us The system has evolved this way over centuries It is one of the few jobs for life appointed from within their own answerable only to its self regulation and covered by a powerful omerta Any system whereby those who control it are unanswerable is open to abuse deceit and cover up at the public s expense It can ruin anyone s life and we are powerless
