

control over them but in the case of physical and financial factors, management can accurately predict the input-output relationship and can vary the factors it choose in order to achieve desired rate of production. In dealing with the employees, however, an intangible factors of will or freedom of choice is introduced and workers can increase or decrease their productivity as they choose. Thus human quality gives rise to the need for productive motives.

Motivation is the process of steering a person's inner drives and actions towards certain goals and committing his energies to achieve these goals. It involve a chain reaction starting with felt needs, resulting in motives which give rise to tension which census action towards goals. It is the process of stimulating people to strive willingly towards the achievement of organizational goals. Motivation may be defined as the work a manager performs in an order to Induced subordinates to act on the desired manner by satisfying their needs and desires. Thus motivations is concerned with how behaviour gets started, is energized, sustained and directed.
