Somewhere In The Night Film Noir And The American City:

Somewhere in the Night Nicholas Christopher, 2010-05-11 Film noir is more than a cinematic genre. It is an essential aspect of American culture. Along with the cowboy of the Wild West, the denizen of the film noir city is at the very center of our mythological iconography. Described as the style of an anxious victor, film noir began during the post-war period, a strange time of hope and optimism mixed with fear and even paranoia. The shadow of this rich and powerful cinematic style can now be seen in virtually every artistic medium. The spectacular success of recent neo film noirs is only the tip of an iceberg. In the dead-on nocturnal jazz of Charlie Parker and Miles Davis, the chilled urban landscapes of Edward Hopper and postwar literary fiction from Nelson Algren and William S. Burroughs to pulp masters like Horace McCoy, we find an unsettling recognition of the dark hollowness beneath the surface of the American Dream. Acclaimed novelist and poet Nicholas Christopher explores the cultural identity of film noir in a seamless, elegant, and enchanting work of literary prose. Examining virtually the entire catalogue of film noir, Christopher identifies the central motif as the urban labyrinth, a place infested with psychosis, anxiety, and existential dread in which the noir hero embarks on a dangerously illuminating quest. With acute sensitivity, he shows how technical devices such as lighting, voice over, and editing tempo are deployed to create the film noir world. Somewhere in the Night guides us through the architecture of this imaginary world, be it shot in New York or Los Angeles, relating its elements to the ancient cultural archetypes that prefigure it. Finally, Christopher builds an explanation of why film noir not only lives on but is currently enjoying a renaissance. Somewhere in the Night can be appreciated as a lucid introduction to a fundamental style of American culture and also as a guide to film noir's heyday. Ultimately, though, as the work of a bold talent adeptly manipulating poetic cadence and metaphor, it is itself a superb aesthetic artifact.

Somewhere in the Night Nicholas Christopher, 2006-05-02 Starting with the classic Out of the Past, Christopher takes us on the grand tour of the great film noirs. With style and humor, he identifies the genre's central motif: The city as labyrinth is key to entering the psychological and aesthetic framework of the film noir, and goes on to analyze more than three hundred films from 1940 to the present. Imbuing the language of film with the lyricism so praised in his novels, Christopher draws from his vast knowledge of literature to explore the genre's numerous influences. Although it was a French critic who coined the term film noir, Christopher argues that Americans had been shooting films in the genre years even before the term was invented. Citing cultural, social, and historical influences from all over the world, he effortlessly guides us through the labyrinth. This edition includes a new afterword and expanded filmography, making this bold and thoroughly researched book more relevant and comprehensive than ever.

The Philosophy of Neo-Noir Mark T. Conard, 2007-01-05 A collection of essays exploring the philosophical elements present in Neo Noir films Film noir is a classic genre characterized by visual elements such as tilted camera angles skewed scene compositions and an interplay between darkness and light Common motifs include crime and punishment the upheaval of traditional moral values and a pessimistic stance on the meaning of life and on the place of humankind in the universe Spanning the 1940s and 1950s the classic film noir era saw the release of many of Hollywood s best loved studies of shady characters and shadowy underworlds including Double Indemnity The Big Sleep Touch of Evil and The Maltese Falcon Neo noir is a somewhat loosely defined genre of films produced after the classic noir era that display the visual or thematic hallmarks of the noir sensibility The essays collected in The Philosophy of Neo Noir explore the philosophical implications of neo noir touchstones such as Blade Runner Chinatown Reservoir Dogs Memento and the films of the Coen brothers Through the lens of philosophy Mark T Conard and the contributors examine previously obscure layers of meaning in these challenging films The contributors also consider these neo noir films as a means of addressing philosophical questions about guilt redemption the essence of human nature and problems of knowledge memory and identity In the neo noir universe the lines between right and wrong and good and evil are blurred and the detective and the criminal frequently mirror each other s most debilitating personality traits The neo noir detective more antihero than hero is frequently a morally compromised and spiritually shaken individual whose pursuit of a criminal masks the search for lost or unattainable aspects of the self Conard argues that the films discussed in The Philosophy of Neo Noir convey ambiguity disillusionment and disorientation more effectively than even the most iconic films of the classic noir era Able to self consciously draw upon noir conventions and simultaneously subvert them neo noir directors push beyond the earlier genre s limitations and open new paths of cinematic and philosophical exploration Praise for The Philosophy of Neo Noir Conard can feel confident that these terrific essays will be of interest to film enthusiasts particularly fans of Neo Noir Additionally for those who come to this volume with some background in philosophy not only will they be pleased to find fellow philosophers offering accessible introductions to philosophical thinkers and ideas but they are sure to increase their understanding of noir Neo Noir and many familiar film titles as well as more deeply appreciate the ways in which popular film and television offer wide and varied avenues to doing good philosophy Kimberly A Blessing co editor of Movies and the Meaning of Life Taking up such latter day classics as Chinatown Blade Runner and Memento this volume explores how contemporary filmmakers have taken up the challenge of classic film noir and broadened the genre In this analysis even the pastel shades of South Beach take on a dark coloring in Miami Vice These probing essays locate what is neo in Neo Noir and thus define it as a postmodern genre Paul Cantor author of Gilligan Unbound Pop Culture in the Age of Globalization This collection will serve as a terrific interdisciplinary guide through the chaotic intriguing world of postmodernist thought as it relates to film and philosophy
