Arlene B. Hirschfelder, Martha Kreipe de Montañó, 2008-04-21 an excellent overview of past and present Native American life Library Journal Best research tool Lingua Franca Wide ranging authoritative and timely here is an illuminating portrait of America's Native peoples combining information about their history and traditions with insight into the topics that most affect their lives today From the upheaval of first contacts to the policies of removal to contemporary issues of self determination this useful sourcebook provides information on all aspects of Native American life The Native American Almanac outlines topics of particular interest such as the history of Native white relations the location and status of Native American tribes religious traditions and ceremonies language and literature and contemporary performers and artists and includes dozens of useful reference features such as Maps of tribal areas historical conflicts and present day reservations A detailed chronology of significant events Names and addresses of hundreds of organizations concerned with Native American affairs A listing of Native American landmarks museums and cultural centers from coast to coast More than 100 black and white photographs and drawings Visit us online at <http://www.mgr.com>

Women Ethnographers and Native Women Storytellers Susan Berry Brill de Ramírez, 2015-11-19 This book focuses on the collaborative work between Native women storytellers and their female ethnographers and or editors but the book is also about what it is that is constitutive of scientific rigor factual accuracy cultural authenticity and storytelling signification and meaning Regardless of discipline academic ethnographers who conducted their field work research during the twentieth century were trained in the accepted scientific methods and theories of the time that prescribed observation objectivity and evaluative distance In contradistinction to such prescribed methods regarding the ethnographic work conducted among Native Americans it turns out that the intersubjectively relational work of women both ethnographers and the Indigenous storytellers with whom they worked has produced far more reliably factual historically accurate and tribally specific Indigenous autobiographies than the more scientifically objective approaches of most of the male ethnographers This volume provides a close lens to the work of a number of women ethnographers and Native American women storytellers to elucidate the effectiveness of their relational methods Through a combined rhetorical and literary analysis of these ethnographies we are able to differentiate the products of the women's working relationships By shifting our focus away from the surface level textual reading that largely approaches the texts as factually informative documents literary analysis provides access into the deeper levels of the storytelling that lies beneath the surface of the edited texts Non Native scholars and editors such as Franc Johnson Newcomb Ruth Underhill Nancy Lurie Julie Cruikshank and Noel Bennett and Native storytellers and writers such as Grandma Klah Mar a Chona Mountain Wolf Woman Mrs Angela Sidney Mrs Kitty Smith Mrs Annie Ned and Tiana Bighorse help us to understand that there are ways by which voices and worlds are more and less disclosed for posterity The results vary based upon the range of factors surrounding their production but consistent across each case is the fact that informational accuracy is contingent upon the the degree of mutual respect and collaboration in the women's working relationships And it is in their pioneering intersubjective methodologies that the work of these women deserves far greater attention and approbation A

Diné History of Navajoland Klara Kelley, Harris Francis, 2019-10-22 For the first time a sweeping history of the Din that is foregrounded in oral tradition Authors Klara Kelley and Harris Francis share Din history from pre Columbian time to the present using ethnographic interviews in which Navajo people reveal their oral histories on key events such as Athabaskan migrations trading and trails Din clans the Long Walk of 1864 and the struggle to keep their culture alive under colonizers who brought the railroad coal mining trading posts and finally climate change The early chapters based on ceremonial origin stories tell about Din forebears Next come the histories of Din clans from late pre Columbian to early post Columbian times and the coming together of the Din as a sovereign people Later chapters are based on histories of families individuals and communities and tell how the Din have struggled to keep their bond with the land under settler encroachment relocation loss of land based self sufficiency through the trading post system energy resource extraction and climate change Archaeological and documentary information supplements the oral histories providing a comprehensive investigation of Navajo history and offering new insights into their twentieth century relationships with Hispanic and Anglo settlers For Din readers the book offers empowering histories and stories of Din cultural sovereignty In short the authors say it may help you to know how you came to be where and who you are Son of Old Man Hat. Jacobs, 2009-07-01 In the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries indigenous communities in the United States and Australia suffered a common experience at the hands of state authorities the removal of their children to institutions in the name of assimilating American Indians and protecting Aboriginal people Although officially characterized as benevolent these government policies often inflicted great trauma on indigenous families and ultimately served the settler nations larger goals of consolidating control over indigenous peoples and their lands White Mother to a Dark Race takes the study of indigenous education and acculturation in new directions in its examination of the key roles white women played in these policies of indigenous child removal Government officials missionaries and reformers justified the removal of indigenous children in particularly gendered ways by focusing on the supposed deficiencies of indigenous mothers the alleged barbarity of indigenous men and the lack of a patriarchal nuclear family Often they deemed white women the most appropriate agents to carry out these child removal policies Inspired by the maternalist movement of the era many white women were eager to serve as surrogate mothers to indigenous children and maneuvered to influence public policy affecting indigenous people Although some white women developed caring relationships with indigenous children and others became critical of government policies many became hopelessly ensnared in this insidious colonial policy Goffman and Social Organization Greg Smith, 2002-11-01 Erving Goffman is considered by many to have been one of the most important sociologists of the post war era His close observation of everyday life and his concern with the ways in which people play roles and manage the impressions they present to each other led to his pioneering creation of a new dramaturgical perspective for sociology His later analysis explored the field of deviance and many of his works in this area are now considered as sociological classics including Asylums The Presentation of the Self in Everyday Life and Stigma This collection brings together many of today s leading sociologists to pursue and build upon the diverse aspects of Goffman s legacy The contributors present chapters on key topics of Goffman s work Issues covered include mental illness and institutionalism the incorporation of literary intertexts in Goffman s writings Goffman s relationship to ethnomethodology the singularity of Goffman's ethnography Ranging from his critique of institutionalization to his understanding of the minute details of face to face interaction this collection reveals the richness of Goffman's own work as well as his contribution to sociology today and will be essential reading for students and academics alike
