The Dreamatics Michelle Cuevas, 2023-09-12 In this exhilaratingly original novel, a fantastical theatre and its troupe perform a young girl's dreams until nightmares take over. Will one devoted stagehand be able to bring joy back into the spotlight? Have you ever awakened from a dream and thought what was THAT? A platypus waddling through my school while singing the word farfanoogle. Well, that dream was performed by a dream theatre, and this is the story of one such place. The Lunarian Grand Theatre is a magical theatre with a mind of its own, often redecorating on a whim or making it snow from the rafters. The theatre's troupe call themselves the Dreamatics, and together they grow sets from seeds, sew costumes that can change an actor's shape, and each night when a girl named Luna goes to sleep, they produce her spectacular dreams: dreams of memories, family, and her beloved dog Murph. But when something devastating happens in Luna's waking life, the theatre falls under new management in the form of the Bad Dreams. Now it's up to a loyal stagehand named Dormir and the Dreamatics to put things right and restore balance in their world, and in Luna's. Go behind the scenes of your dreams in this enchanting novel full of cozy magic, humor, and wonder. FROM ATHENS TO PAKAKURA NIKOS PETOUSIS, 2012-01-06 This book tells the story of a Greek boy Nikos Petousis, born in 1936 in Athens, Greece, his subsequent journey to New Zealand as a teenager, and his successful life here. Nikos lived through both WW2 and the Greek Civil War in his hometown. He endured bombing, seeing parts of bodies spread out in front of him, hunger, looking for food in the gutter, cold, walking barefoot through the snow, and poverty: five adults living in one room throughout that period. Despite all that, he managed to do well academically, gained a place at an engineering school, and graduated at the age of 19. By coincidence, a New Zealand soldier from Pakakura, Ernie Clark, had fought in Greece during WW2, got left behind when the New Zealand forces withdrew, and was then sheltered from the Germans by a Greek family in the Peloponnese. The family who sheltered Ernie Clark happened to be relations of Nikos's uncle. Nikos could see no future for himself in Greece, so he decided to leave Greece, and Ernie offered to sponsor him in New Zealand. As the story unfolds, it covers the preparations, trip to New Zealand, settling up and downs, and faux pas. Nikos started the New Zealand Greek Society, helping other Greeks who had come to New Zealand, and fostering friendship between the two nationalities. Nikos later set up his own engineering firm, fabricating machinery he had designed, and he started exporting machinery. He travelled extensively through Europe, both East and West, Asia, and the United States in his drive to win exports for New Zealand. When he retired, he accepted the position of Honorary Consul for Greece in Auckland, and has continued to foster relationships between the two countries. A particularly exciting event he arranged was the farewell to the New Zealand Olympians before the team set off for the Greek Olympic Games. At times, the
