Ethics in Youth Sport Stephen Harvey, Richard Light, 2013 The influence of professional adult sport on youth sport is now a global concern Children are involved in high stakes competitive sport at national and international levels at an increasingly young age In addition the use of sport as a medium for positive youth development by governments and within the community has fuelled ambitious targets for young people s participation in sport at all levels In this important study of ethical issues in and around youth sport leading international experts argue for the development of strong ethical codes for the conduct of youth sport and for effective policy and pedagogical applications to ensure that the positive benefits of sport are optimized and the negative aspects diminished At the heart of the discussion are the prevailing standards and expectations of youth sport in developed societies typically consisting of the development of motor competence the development of a safe and healthy lifestyle and competitive style and the development of a positive self image and good relationship skills The book examines the recommendations emerging from the Panathlon Declaration and the debates that have followed and covers a wide range of key ethical issues including emotional and physical abuse aggression and violence doping and cheating values and norms teaching and coaching integrity management Ethics in Youth Sport is focused on the application of ethical policy and pedagogies and is grounded in practice It assumes no prior ethical training on the part of the reader and is essential reading for all students researchers policy makers and professionals working with children and young people in sport across school community and professional settings

Sports Illustrated, 1961 Routledge Handbook of Coaching Children in Sport Martin Toms, Ruth Jeanes, 2022-12-23 The Routledge Handbook of Coaching Children in Sport

provides a comprehensive and extensive range of critical reflections of key areas impacting on children's sport and coaching up to the age of 16. With coaching-related chapters authored by academic across various disciplines including nutrition, psychology, pedagogy, medicine, youth development and sociology, the text provides detailed reviews of the existing state of research and consideration of the implications of these particular factors upon parents, coaches, administrators and clearly the young people themselves as well as recommendations for future research. This new volume provides in depth investigation to key topics of coaching topics such as Learning and Child Development, Protecting Young Athletes, Talent Identification and Development and Inclusive Coaching and finally introduce a broad array of contextual considerations for coaches from considering professional learning through to coaching in particular contexts. This book is more than simply an academic text and it offers insights that will further inform practice in children's sport coaching. The handbook is relevant for students, UG, PG, researchers, academics, parents, coaches and administrators as well as those interested in children's sport coaching and the related topics therein.

Martin Toms PhD is a senior lecturer/associate professor in the School of Sport Exercise and Rehabilitation Sciences at the University of Birmingham, UK. A former professional sports coach with an MPhil and PhD exploring the sociological issues of young people in junior sport, Martin has been heavily involved in juniors sport all of his adult life. He has published widely and presented extensively around the world on youth sport including working on international projects and for NBGs, Federations and National Governmental organisations. He has gained European and SCUK funding for youth and coaching related projects as well as being involved in international consultancy. He is a co-editor of the European Journal for Sport and Society as well as the current Editor in Chief of the International Journal of Golf Science.

Ruth Jeanes PhD is an associate professor in the Faculty of Education at Monash University, Australia. Ruth's research examines inclusion and exclusion within youth sport, particularly examining how sport can be used to achieve broader social policy objectives targeted at young people. Within this she is particularly interested in the role of coaches in facilitating broader social outcomes for young people. Ruth has published extensively in these areas with over 100 publications across journal articles, book chapters and books. She is widely cited and has been successful in securing extensive funding for her research including two highly competitive Australian Research Council grants.

Protecting the Welfare of Individuals Operating in Organized Sport James L. Rumbold, Ashley Stirling, Louise Davis, James Newman, Andrew J. Higham, 2025-03-26

The issue of welfare in sport has become paramount in recent years. This has led various individuals who operate in sport e.g. the media, professional bodies and researchers to consider aspects such as safeguarding, clean sport, overtraining and the wider ethics surrounding the duty of care of those involved in sport. Focusing greater attention on understanding these aspects is critical given the potentially deleterious effects these aspects may have on the well-being and mental health of individuals who are subjected to wrongdoing in sport. Furthermore, by focusing on safeguarding, clean sport, overtraining and the wider ethics surrounding the duty of care and addressing wrongdoing, it provides a critical opportunity to improve cultures in sport and make this a more prosocial environment for all involved Given the need to promote a prosocial environment in sport as well as the need to address wrongdoing in this context it is unsurprising that some researchers professional bodies and sport organizations have tasked themselves with the protection of individuals in this context To date work has been undertaken to explore how issues concerning the welfare of individuals are understood to consider the impact of the sporting culture on the protection or otherwise of individuals operating in sport and to develop potential interventions which may protect those involved in this context Numerous positive advances have been made to understand and improve the welfare and well being of those involved in sport as well as to raise awareness and education at the micro e g peer to peer meso e g coach athlete coach parent parent athlete exo e g professional leagues national governing bodies and macro system e g media and societal views levels Despite this these advances have not necessarily been well communicated between system levels or across international perspectives Continued efforts are therefore needed to disseminate research findings policy and practice developments in this area Therefore the goal of this research topic is to bring together a collection of papers that are concerned with protecting the welfare of individuals who may operate at varying system levels within organized sport Car and Driver ,2005 Fighting Fans Eric Dunning,2002 This volume considers soccer hooliganism in 14 countries and shows that despite its tendencies to be associated with English culture it has long been a social problem worldwide Soccer the Way the Pros Play Herbin,1980-05-01 This is Japan ,1954
