The Early Potters And Potteries Of Maine:

The Early Potters and Potteries of Maine Manlif Lelyn Branin, 1978 Early New England Potters and Their Wares Lura Woodside Watkins, 2011-03-23 This book is the result of more than fifteen years of research The study has been carried on partly in libraries and town records partly by conferences with descendants of potters and others familiar with their history and partly by actual digging on the sites of potteries The excavation method has proved most successful in showing what our New England potters were making at an early period now almost unrepresented by surviving specimens Rockingham Ware in American Culture, 1830-1930 Jane Perkins Claney, 2004 A groundbreaking case study that links social and cultural interpretation with descriptive classification and historical context The Maine History News ,1977 Maine Historical Society Quarterly ,1979 Early Potters and Potteries of New York State William C. Ketchum (Jr.), 1970 Emphasis is on utilitarian pottery American Stonewares Georgeanna H. Greer, 1999 The history of stoneware vessel production in America and Canada is told along with outstanding photographs of over 300 important pieces from the 18th century forward Chapters describe the hand worked method of turning clay into pots common and uncommon forms marks and varieties of decoration the glazes employed and the firing process This classic study is welcome in this new edition with current prices AB Bookman's Weekly ,1988-09 House & Garden ,1921 Historical Archaeology and the Study of American Culture Lu Ann De Cunzo, Bernard L. Herman, 1996 In this volume of essays historical archaeologists and scholars from a variety of other fields explore creative approaches to material culture as a form of cultural expression The essays derived from papers first presented at the 1991 Winterthur Conference emphasize material culture s communicative qualities its roles in social performance the construction of identity and the mediation of interaction and its interpretive limitations A special concern with contexts in their myriad forms resonates throughout the volume The contributors not only describe time and place but they seek the intimate social and symbolic details of human agency in all their diversity The essays reveal how dynamic archaeological thinking can appeal to a broader audience The first section Construction of Context Negotiating Consumer Culture groups six essays that foreground people and their choices in diverse consumer contexts The authors examine the ways that material culture illuminates the cultural dialogues between New England s native peoples and European traders urbane Virginians and their country cousins Southern slaves and their owners agrarian potters and industrial capitalists and nineteenth century Americans and the brokers of consumer culture In the second section In the Active Voice Remaking the American Landscape the attention shifts from people to the land they inhabited and changed Through close reading of multiple data sources at many scales from microscopic pollen grains to urban plans the authors of these four essays trace the remaking of eighteenth and nineteenth century American farms and cities In the third section Working toward Meaning The Scope of Historical Archaeology the authors work outward from the preceding studies directly engaging the reader in the process of reinventing historical archaeology Together with the other contributions to this volume these three concluding essays demonstrate the important place of historical archaeology in the interdisciplinary arena of material culture studies The Early Makers of Handcrafted Earthenware and Stoneware in Central and Southern New Jersey Manlif Lelyn Branin,1988 A comprehensive survey of all the known potteries in central and southern New Jersey from the seventeenth to the nineteenth centuries This study records background information and statistics for each pottery and compares the New Jersey pottery industry with that of other states House Beautiful ,1926 Decorative Arts and Household Furnishings in America, 1650-1920 Kenneth L. Ames,Gerald W. R. Ward,1989 This bibliography of the study of household furnishings used in the United States from the seventeenth century to the early twentieth century contains twenty one sections Each section begins with an essay that outlines the development of scholarship in the files and points toward new directions for research with annotated entries on the most significant works Three chapters present the basic reference tools and surveys of art and architecture These are followed by chapters devoted to such topics as furniture metals including silver and gold pewter and Britannia metal ceramics and glass textiles timepieces household activities and systems and craftsmen and the Arts and Crafts Movement in America Includes an author title index The Antiques Journal ,1979

Domestic Pottery of the Northeastern United States, 1625-1850 Sarah Peabody Turnbaugh,1985 History of American Ceramics Susan R.
