Wickman, 2018-09-20 Snowshoe Country is an environmental and cultural history of winter in the colonial Northeast closely examining indigenous and settler knowledge of snow ice and life in the cold Indigenous communities in this region were more knowledgeable about the cold than European newcomers from temperate climates and English settlers were especially slow to adapt To keep surviving the winter year after year and decade after decade English colonists relied on Native assistance borrowed indigenous winter knowledge and followed seasonal diplomatic protocols to ensure stable relations with tribal leaders Thomas M Wickman explores how fluctuations in winter weather and the halting exchange of winter knowledge both inhibited and facilitated English colonialism from the 1620s to the early 1700s As their winter survival strategies improved due to skills and technologies appropriated from Natives colonial leaders were able to impose a new political ecology in the greater Northeast projecting year round authority over indigenous lands The Cadottes Robert Silbernagel, 2020-05-13 The Great Lakes fur trade spanned two centuries and thousands of miles but the story of one particular family the Cadottes illuminates the history of trade and trapping while exploring under researched stories of French Ojibwe political social and economic relations Multiple generations of Cadottes were involved in the trade usually working as interpreters and peacemakers as the region passed from French to British to American control Focusing on the years 1760 to 1840 the heyday of the Great Lakes fur trade Robert Silbernagel delves into the lives of the Cadottes with particular emphasis on the Ojibwe French Canadian Michel Cadotte and his Ojibwe wife Equaysayway who were traders and regional leaders on Madeline Island for nearly forty years In The Cadottes A Fur Trade Family on Lake Superior Silbernagel deepens our understanding of this era with stories of resilient remarkable people Can Life Prevail? Pentti Linkola, 2011 With the train of civilization hurtling at ever increasing speed towards self destruction the most pressing question facing humanity in the 21st century is that of the preservation of life itself Can Life Prevail provides a radical yet firmly grounded perspective on the ecological problems threatening both the biosphere and human culture With essays covering topics as diverse as animal rights extinction deforestation terrorism and overpopulation Can Life Prevail makes the lucid challenging writing of Linkola available to the English speaking public for the first time By decimating its woodlands Finland has created the grounds for prosperity We can now thank prosperity for bringing us among other things two million cars millions of glowing electronic entertainment boxes and many unneeded buildings to cover the green earth Surplus wealth has led to gambling in the marketplace and rampant social injustice whereby the common people end up contributing to the construction of golf courses five star hotels and holiday resorts while fattening Swiss bank accounts Besides the people of wealthy countries are the most frustrated unemployed unhappy suicidal sedentary worthless and aimless people in history What a miserable exchange Pentti Linkola Kaarlo Pentti Linkola was born in Helsinki Finland in 1932 Having spent most of his life working as a professional fisherman he now continues to lead a simple existence in the country A renowned figure in Finland Linkola has published numerous books and essays on environmentalism since the 1960s Today he is among the foremost exponents of the philosophy of deep ecology
