Skilled Labourer 183:

Cassier's Engineering Monthly, 1916 Trade and Jobs in Europe Mathias Dewatripont, André Sapir, Khalid Sekkat, 1999-08-05 In the last 25 years Europe has experienced a reduction in growth and an explosion in unemployment At a time when this and the continuing existence of the welfare state are top of the European agenda it has become increasingly popular to blame the globalization of the world economy for current problems This book provides the first comprehensive set of studies on the impact of trade with developing countries on the European labour market It argues that the evidence does not point to trade with developing countries as a major cause of European unemployment Instead technological change and domestic policy choices are the main causal factors As a result the contributors argue against protectionist trade policies whose benefits to employment would be limited at best but whose risk to world growth due to trade wars is immense The next ten years are a critical period for European integration and expansion Trade and Jobs in Europe will be of crucial importance to all those at the heart of the current debate advisers policy makers and researchers alike Census of England & Wales, 1921 ... Great Britain. Census Office, 1924 Hours of Labour in Industry International Labour Office, 1925 Census of England & Wales, 1921 ...: Carmarthen. 1924 Great Britain. Parliamentary Papers Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons, 1906 Sessional Papers Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons, 1906 Labour in War Time George Douglas Howard Cole, 1915 Diversities of Innovation Ulrich Hilpert, 2019-04-02 Innovation is often understood exclusively in terms of the economy but it is definitely a result of human labour and ingenuity and of the relationships among individuals and social groups Some societies and governmental structures are clearly more successful than others they act in divergent ways fostering innovation and employment and they utilize varied opportunities from different fields of research from new products and from their educational systems Thus innovation varies fundamentally between countries and public policies in matters such as energy technology environmental technologies facing climate change and advancing conditions of life can be determined according to different societies needs This volume brings together a range of world experts to compare countries and continents and help develop a fuller picture of innovations and their social basis It will be of interest to researchers in regional studies and economics as well as labour unions practitioners and policy makers Report, 1913 The Political Economy of Sugar Production in Colonial Kenya Godriver Wanga-Odhiambo, 2016-07-29 This book describes the Asian agency in sugar production in colonial Nyanza and additionally examines the Asian initiative and the development of commercial cane farming in Central Nyanza It provides a different perspective on the Asian initiative in agriculture by showing how Asians were involved in sugarcane farming and how production of sugar in colonial Nyanza was eventually made possible by Asian capital This study relies mainly on primary sources secondary sources and oral interviews The archival sources were derived from the Kenya National Archives The primary materials included annual reports of the Department of Agriculture District annual reports Provincial reports monthly intelligence reports colonial officials correspondence and correspondence from East Africa India National Congress Oral interviews were also conducted to verify some information while the secondary sources were used to supplement the sources This work is unique first due to its extensive use of archival sources as most of these archival sources have not been used by other scholars in the field Secondly it deals with all parts of the sugar production process it shows the connection to the current sugar situation in Kenya and also provides a framework in which to understand the persistent insufficiency in Kenya's sugar industry This work provides an important contribution to Kenyan economic history

Resources in Education, 1980-07 Globalization of Labour Markets Olga Memedovic, A. Kuyvenhoven, Willem T.M. Molle, 2013-03-11 To the classical driving forces of migration such as poverty oppression and war yet another is being added globalization With the increasing economic interdependence between countries migration has become one of the important links Many less developed countries LDCs accept migration of their workers to developed countries DCs because it reduces the pressure on unemployment and remittances increase the capital inflow to the country On the other hand some of the DCs see migration as a threat to their employment and system of social security Participants of the Second Annual Workshop of the Network EU LDC Trade and Capital Relations gave a broad view of the problem which both DCs and LDCs are facing in connection with the globalization of labour markets This volume consists of 10 chapters by scholars from the European Union EU and LDCs Each paper is discussed in terms of its policy relevance by a policy maker as well as by an academic specializing in the field In the opening chapter we aim to do justice to the discussion during the Workshop in Rotterdam in May 1995 at which preliminary versions of all chapters were presented Edited versions of the interventions by the policy makers and experts are included as far as possible after the chapters The opinions expressed in this volume are those of the authors and not necessarily those of their organizations
