

The Skin Senses

- Skin senses are also connected to the somatosensory cortex.
- The skin's sensitivity to stimulation varies tremendously over the body, depending on the number of receptors in each area.

The Skin Senses Dan R. Kenshalo, 1968 Psychology Problem Solver, 1989-01-01 The Problem Solvers are an exceptional series of books that are thorough unusually well organized and structured in such a way that they can be used with any text No other series of study and solution guides has come close to the Problem Solvers in usefulness quality and effectiveness Educators consider the Problem Solvers the most effective series of study aids on the market Students regard them as most helpful for their school work and studies With these books students do not merely memorize the subject matter they really get to understand it Each Problem Solver is over 1 000 pages yet each saves hours of time in studying and finding solutions to problems These solutions are worked out in step by step detail thoroughly and clearly Each book is fully indexed for locating specific problems rapidly For students taking basic and advanced psychology courses Each chapter provides comprehensive explanations and solutions to problems and ends with a series of short questions and answers to help in preparation for exams Also included is a particularly helpful guide to writing experimental reports Study Guide for Psychology, Seventh Edition Richard O. Straub, David G. Myers, 2003-06-20 This new edition continues the story of psychology with added research and enhanced content from the most dynamic areas of the field cognition gender and diversity studies neuroscience and more while at the same time using the most effective teaching approaches and learning tools Art and the Senses Francesca Bacci, David Melcher, 2011-08-04 The senses play a vital role in our health our social interactions and in enjoying food music and the arts The book provides a unique interdisciplinary overview of the senses ranging from the neuroscience of sensory processing in the body to cultural influences on how the senses are used in society to the role of the senses in the arts Culture and the Senses Prof. Kathryn Geurts, 2003-01-09 Adding her stimulating and finely framed ethnography to recent work in the anthropology of the senses Kathryn Geurts investigates the cultural meaning system and resulting sensorium of Anlo Ewe speaking people in southeastern Ghana Geurts discovered that the five senses model has little relevance in Anlo culture where balance is a sense and balancing in a physical and psychological sense as well as in literal and metaphorical ways is an essential component of what it means to be human Much of perception falls into an Anlo category of seselelame literally feel feel at flesh inside in which what might be considered sensory input including the Western sixth sense notion of intuition comes from bodily feeling and the interior milieu The kind of mind body dichotomy that pervades Western European Anglo American cultural traditions and philosophical thought is absent Geurts relates how Anlo society privileges and elaborates what we would call kinesthesia which most Americans would not even identify as a sense After this nuanced exploration of an Anlo Ewe theory of inner states and their way of delineating external experience readers will never again take for granted the naturalness of sight touch taste hearing and smell LIFE SPAN

Experience and Possibility Joseph Mendola, 2021-01-11 Experience and Possibility concerns the modal ontology of experience It investigates the detailed metaphysics of the colors shapes and other concrete properties present in our experience of ordinary concrete objects and also of their spatial and temporal relations It examines their experienced particularity and the nature of their locations and material bits This detailed concern with specific cases reveals many inadequacies of traditional ontology But the central novelty of the book is an intense focus on the modal aspects of such experienced entities and what it reveals about modality in general The reality of such things would involve in surprising ways not merely what would hence be actual but also what would be merely possible This supports a general conception of modality of the possible and the necessary according to which the actual and the possible are locally entwined and involve different types of being The particulars properties and relations we experience involve distinctive forms of modal structure characteristic of specific sorts of universals and irreducible particularities When this experience is not veridical when for instance the color we experience is somewhat misleading about reality it is a puzzle how we have such experience nonetheless Exploration of these forms of modal structure is groundwork for a new account of how our neurophysiology explains such misleading experience how our physical structure delivers such qualia This is sketched for the case of experienced color Its core idea is that the apparent modal structure of things we experience is sometimes due to the actual modal structure of the neurophysiology that constitutes that experience
