Art History for Filmmakers Gillian McIver, 2017-03-23 Since cinema's earliest days literary adaptation has provided the movies with stories and so we use literary terms like metaphor metonymy and synecdoche to describe visual things But there is another way of looking at film and that is through its relationship with the visual arts mainly painting the oldest of the art forms Art History for Filmmakers is an inspiring guide to how images from art can be used by filmmakers to establish period detail and to teach composition color theory and lighting The book looks at the key moments in the development of the Western painting and how these became part of the Western visual culture from which cinema emerges before exploring how paintings can be representative of different genres such as horror sex violence realism and fantasy and how the images in these paintings connect with cinema Insightful case studies explore the links between art and cinema through the work of seven high profile filmmakers including Peter Greenaway Peter Webber Jack Cardiff Martin Scorsese Guillermo del Toro Quentin Tarantino and Stan Douglas A range of practical exercises are included in the text which can be carried out singly or in small teams Featuring stunning full color images Art History for Filmmakers provides budding filmmakers with a practical guide to how images from art can help to develop their understanding of the visual language of film Film-makers Art Haig P. Manoogian, 1966-01-21 Film Makers on Film Making Harry M. Geduld, 1971 The Film-maker's Art Haig P. Manoogian, 1974 Film Art Phenomena Nicky Hamlyn, 2019-07-25 Alongside the commercial cinema of narrative and spectacle there has always been another practice call it avant garde experimental or artists film as opposed to art cinema It is this work that Nicky Hamlyn himself an acclaimed film maker in the alternative tradition investigates in Film Art Phenomena The work takes its cue from modern trends in other artforms notably painting and sculpture This is film making that emphasises the nature of its apparatus and medium in order to bring about a critical inquisitive state of mind in the viewer It deconstructs anatomises and reimagines what film images are it builds new machines it recreates the setting of cinema or expands into new kinds of performance and exhibition It often has a political dimension urging audiences to make a free and active response not a passive consumerist one Hamlyn's major new study treats artists film conceptually in order to explore key categories that connect different works and film makers from framing to digital media installation to interactivity point of view to sound In so doing he considers the work of Stan Brakhage Malcolm Le Grice and Michael Snow as well as younger artists such as Karen Mirza and Brad Butler Jennifer Nightingale and Colin Crockatt among many others Film Art Phenomena is a crucial intervention in debates about the modes of film making that diverge from and oppose the mainstream Reel Rebels: the London Film-Makers' Co-Operative 1966 to 1996 Joy I. Payne, 2015-07-17 The London FilmMakers Cooperative was founded in 1966 by a group of artists who sought to explore the possibilities of the moving image whilst maintaining autonomy over the production distribution and exhibition of their work Although their films were not overtly political artists nevertheless expressed their political attitudes by creating nonnarrative films thereby rejecting conventional narrative structures associated with mainstream commercial cinema which they perceived as supporting the dominant ideology in society A return to narrative in the 1980s coincided with the introduction of British Art Cinema and the art house films of Derek Jarman Peter Greenaway and Sally Potter all of whom made experimental films in the early days of the London Co op
