From Gift to Commodity Hildegard Hoeller, 2012 In this rich interdisciplinary study Hildegard Hoeller argues that nineteenth century American culture was driven by and deeply occupied with the tension between gift and market exchange Rooting her analysis in the period's fiction she shows how American novelists from Hannah Foster to Frank Norris grappled with the role of the gift based on trust social bonds and faith in an increasingly capitalist culture based on self-interest market transactions and economic reason Placing the notion of sacrifice at the center of her discussion Hoeller taps into the poignant discourse of modes of exchange revealing central tensions of American fiction and culture

Staging Spectatorship in the Plays of Philip Massinger Professor Joanne Rochester, 2013-04-28 The playwrights composing for the London stage between 1580 and 1642 repeatedly staged plays within and other metatheatrical inserts Such works present fictionalized spectators as well as performers providing images of the audience stage interaction within the theatre They are as much enactments of the interpretive work of a spectator as of acting and as such they are a potential source of information about early modern conceptions of audiences spectatorship and perception This study examines on stage spectatorship in three plays by Philip Massinger head playwright for the King s Men from 1625 to 1640 Each play presents a different form of metatheatrical inset from the plays within of The Roman Actor 1626 to the masques within of The City Madam 1632 to the titular miniature portrait of The Picture 1629 moving thematically from spectator interpretations of dramatic performance the visual spectacle of the masque to staged readings of static visual art All three forms present a dramatization of the process of examination and allow an analysis of Massinger s assumptions about interpretation perception and spectator response
