Fred Howard

The First To Fly Aviations Pioneer Days:

The First to Fly; Aviation's Pioneer Days Sherwood Harris, 1970 The 1910 Los Angeles International Air Meet Kenneth E. Pauley, 2009 America's first international air meet was held January 10-20 1910 in Los Angeles on a mesa called Dominguez Hill situated 13.5 miles south of the plaza at the pueblo of Los Angeles. Enthusiasm for aviation grew after the first international air meet in 1909 in Rheims France where American aviator Glenn H. Curtiss won three prestigious speed prizes and 36,000 francs. An even more spectacular air meet which would also invigorate the local economy was promoted for Los Angeles. Businessman Dick Ferris, the Los Angeles Merchants and Manufacturers Association and the Los Angeles Examiner collaborated to make it possible. Most Americans had never seen the newfangled machines that soared in the skies. Initially skeptical, they soon were awed. So began America's love affair with aviation. The air meet influenced aviation in Southern California and transportation worldwide into the 21st century.

The American Aviation Experience Tim Brady, 2000 This book is designed to be a primary text for courses in aviation history and development and aviation in America. The seventeen chapters in The American Aviation Experience: A History range chronologically from ancient times through the Wright brothers through both world wars culminating with the development of the U.S. space program. Contributors also cover balloons and dirigibles, African American pioneers in aviation and women in aviation. These essayists, leading scholars in the field, present the history of aviation mainly from an American perspective. The American Aviation Experience includes 335 black and white photographs, two maps, and an appendix on Leonardo da Vinci and the Science of Flight.

Master of Airpower David Mets, 2009-04-02 A valuable and long overdue biography of one of America's greatest soldiers. Parameters: The story of Gen. Carl Spaatz's life is more than a biography of one of America's great military leaders. It is a history of the development of airpower and a fascinating inside look at the long, difficult struggle to win autonomy for the U.S. Air Force. Spaatz earned his wings in 1918 when flying was a new and dangerous occupation; aviation school mortality rates were 18 percent. After gaining experience as a fighter pilot during the Great War, he became one of the Air Corps' top pursuit commanders during the 1920s. During the 1930s, he moved over to bombers just as modern long-range aircraft were coming into service. As a senior bomber commander, Spaatz significantly influenced the emerging strategic bomber doctrine. By the time of the outbreak of the Second World War, Spaatz was one of America's most experienced aviators. He was at the helm of the evolution of the new American military strategic airpower doctrine, which proved to be a decisive factor in World War II. After the Allied victory, planning and launching an independent Air Force would occupy Spaatz for the remainder of his career. Today's Air Force bears his indelible stamp. Tooey Spaatz was a low-profile leader who was known for his open mind and pragmatic approach and who was influential in a quiet, forceful way. Possessed of absolute integrity, even when his beliefs were unpopular, he pressed them at the risk of his career.

Pate, 2011-10-13 Named after Mexican War general William Jenkins Worth Fort Worth began as a military post in 1849 More than a century and a half later the defense industry remains Fort Worth s major strength with Lockheed Martin s F 35s and Bell Helicopter s Ospreys flying the skies over the city Arsenal of Defense Fort Worth s Military Legacy covers the entire military history of Fort Worth from the 1840s with tiny Bird s Fort to the massive defense plants of the first decade of the twenty first century Although the city is popularly known as Cowtown for its iconic cattle drives and stockyards soldiers pilots and military installations have been just as important and more enduring in Fort Worth s legacy Although Bird s Fort provided defense for early North Texas settlers in the mid nineteenth century it was the major world conflicts of the twentieth century that developed Fort Worth s military presence into what it is today America s buildup for World War I brought three pilot training fields and the army post Camp

During World War II headquarters for the entire nation's Army Air Forces Flying Training Command came to Fort Worth. The military history of Fort Worth has been largely an aviation story, one that went beyond pilot training to the construction of military aircraft. Beginning with Globe Aircraft in 1940, Consolidated in 1942, and Bell Helicopter in 1950, the city has produced many thousands of military aircraft for the defense of the nation. Lockheed Martin, the descendant of Consolidated, represents an assembly plant that has been in continuous existence for over seven decades. With Lockheed Martin, the nation's largest defense contractor, Bell, the largest helicopter producer, and the Fort Worth Naval Air Station Joint Reserve Base, Federal Medical Center, Carswell, the reservist's training pattern for the nation, Fort Worth's military defense legacy remains strong. Arsenal of Defense won first place in the Press Women of Texas Communications Contest 2012.

Reconsidering a Century of Flight Janet Rose Daly Bednarek, Roger D. Launius, 2003. Contains twelve essays in which leading aerospace historians consider the role of aviation in the twentieth century, exploring topics related to innovation and the technology of flight, civil aeronautics, and government policy, aerial warfare, and aviation in the American imagination.

Orville's Aviators John Carver Edwards, 2009-04-22. The six pioneers profiled here were promising graduates of the Wright Brothers School of Aviation, which flourished in Ohio from 1910 to 1916. These airmen fairly represent their 113 fellow alumni in their all-consuming love of flying. The pilots are Arthur L. Welsh, a Russian immigrant who rose to become Orville Wright's chief instructor; Howard Warfield Gill, heir to an international tea dynasty; Archibald Freeman, whose flour bag bombing of Boston Harbor won him attention as an early exponent of the supremacy of air power; Grover Cleveland Bergdall, whose promise as a pilot quickly soured; George A. Gray, whose marriage resulted in an extraordinary husband and wife exhibition team; and Howard Max Rinehart, aerial mercenary, international racing competitor, Wright test pilot, South American explorer, and co-owner of one of America's premier charter services.
