The Fivesquare City James Dougherty, 1980 The City Andrew Lees, 2015 The City A World History tells the story of the rise and development of urban centers from ancient times to the twenty first century It begins with the establishment of the first cities in the Near East in the fourth millennium BCE and goes on to examine urban growth in the Indus River Valley in India as well as Egypt and areas that bordered the Mediterranean Sea Athens Alexandria and Rome stand out both politically and culturally With the fall of the Roman Empire in the West European cities entered into a long period of waning and deterioration But elsewhere great cities among them Constantinople Baghdad Chang an and Tenochtitl n thrived In the late Middle Ages and the Early Modern period urban growth resumed in Europe giving rise to cities like Florence Paris and London This urban growth also accelerated in parts of the world that came under European control such as Philadelphia in the nascent United States As the Industrial Revolution swept through in the nineteenth century cities grew rapidly Their expansion resulted in a slew of social problems and political disruptions but it was accompanied by impressive measures designed to improve urban life Meanwhile colonial cities bore the imprint of European imperialism Finally the book turns to the years since 1914 guided by a few themes the impact of war and revolution urban reconstruction after 1945 migration out of many cities in the United States into growing suburbs and the explosive growth of megacities in the developing world

Cities of God Graham Ward, 2002-01-04 Cities of God traces urban culture of north America and Western Europe during the 1970s to ask how theology can respond to the postmodern city Since Harvey Cox published his famous theological response to urban living during the mid 1960s very little has been written to address this fundamental subject Through analyses of contemporary film architecture literature and traditional theological resources in Augustine and Gregory of Nyssa Graham Ward lays out a systematic theology which has the preparation and building of cities as its focus This is vital reading for all those interested in theology and urban living City P.D.
