Reciprocities in the Nonfiction Novel John Russell, 2000 Nonfiction novels have usually been associated with the new journalism writers of the 1960s such as Tom Wolfe Norman Mailer and Truman Capote Yet this form has long commanded a key position in the literary canon as John Russell now reveals Russell identifies eleven major works not usually thought of as nonfiction novels such as Isak Dinesen's Out of Africa and E E Cummings's The Enormous Room to create a new definition of the genre He shows that journalistic writing is characterized by a reporter's proprietary stance which undermines reciprocity with subjects while true nonfiction novels feature greater reciprocity and also employ such techniques as circular narrative and bricolage Reciprocities in the Nonfiction Novel contributes to ongoing explorations of literary forms and offers wise commentary on how writing about real life can become art Improvising Out Loud Jeff Corey, 2017-05-16 Jeff Corey 1914

Knowledge and Time Hans Primas, 2017-05-23 This is a unique volume by a unique scientist which combines conceptual formal and engineering approaches in a way that is rarely seen Its core is the relation between ways of learning and knowing on the one hand and different modes of time on the other Partial Boolean logic and the associated notion of complementarity are used to express this relation and mathematical tools of fundamental physics are used to formalize it Along the way many central philosophical problems are touched and addressed above all the mind/body problem Completed only shortly before the death of the author the text has been edited and annotated by the author's close collaborator Harald Atmanspacher
