Crichlow, Patricia

Northover, Giusti-Cordero, 2018-09-26 Essays that examine globalization's effects with an emphasis on the interplay of race and rurality as it occurs across diverse geographies and peoples. Issues of migration, environment, rurality, and the visceral politics of place and space have occupied center stage in recent electoral political struggles in the United States and Europe, suffused by an antiglobalization discourse that has come to resonate with Euro-American peoples. Race and Rurality in the Global Economy suggests that this present fractious global politics begs for closer attention to be paid to the deep-rooted conditions and outcomes of globalization and development. From multiple viewpoints, the contributors to this volume propose ways of understanding the ongoing processes of globalization that configure peoples and places via a politics of rurality in a capitalist world economy and through an optics of raciality that intersects with class, gender, identity, land, and environment. In tackling the dynamics of space and place, their essays address matters such as the heightened risks and multiple states of insecurity in the global economy, the new logics of expulsion and primitive accumulation, dynamics shaping a new savage sorting, patterns of resistance and transformation in the face of globalization's political and environmental changes, the steady decline in the livelihoods of people of color globally, and their deepened vulnerabilities and the complex reconstitution of systemic and lived racialization within these processes. This book is an invitation to ask whether our dystopia in present politics can be disentangled from the deepening sense of white fragility in the context of the historical power of globalization's raced effects.

Someone Knows My Name: A Novel Lawrence Hill, 2008-11-17 Winner of the Commonwealth Writers Prize. Wonderfully written, populated by vivid characters and rendered in fascinating detail. Nancy Kline, New York Times Book Review. Kidnapped from Africa as a child, Aminata Diallo is enslaved in South Carolina but escapes during the chaos of the Revolutionary War. In Manhattan, she becomes a scribe for the British, recording the names of blacks who have served the King and earned their freedom in Nova Scotia. But the hardship and prejudice of the new colony prompt her to follow her heart back to Africa, then on to London, where she bears witness to the injustices of slavery and its toll on her life and a whole people. It is a story that no listener and no reader will ever forget. Published in Canada as The Book of Negroes and the basis for the award-winning BET miniseries of the same name.
