Graham-Newman Partnership Letters to Shareholders Benjamin Graham, Jerome Newman, This is an independent compilation for investors and analysts It contains unedited letters from the last 12 years of the partnership The Graham Newman Corporation stands as a compelling testament to the principles of value investing pioneered by Benjamin Graham often referred to as the father of value investing Over its three decade existence spanning from 1926 to 1958 the investment partnership delivered an exceptional average annual return of 17% This remarkable performance significantly outpaced the broader market as represented by the Dow Jones Industrial Average DJIA which yielded an average annual return of just 4 7% during the same period To illustrate the magnitude of this outperformance consider the growth of a single dollar invested in 1926 By the time the Graham Newman Corporation was dissolved in 1958 that initial 1 investment had grown to approximately 110 97 In stark contrast a similar 1 investment in the DJIA over the same 30 year timeframe would have only amounted to roughly 3 96 This staggering difference reveals that an investment in Graham Newman Corporation generated returns approximately 28 times greater than a passive investment in the Dow Jones Industrial Average This substantial disparity underscores the effectiveness of Graham and Newman s meticulous approach to security analysis and their focus on identifying undervalued companies Their strategy rooted in fundamental research and a long term perspective enabled them to navigate various market cycles and consistently generate superior returns for their shareholders The historical performance of the Graham Newman Partnership serves as a powerful example of the potential rewards of disciplined value investing and offers valuable insights for investors seeking to achieve long term capital appreciation This collection of shareholder letters chronicles the final twelve years of the Graham Newman partnership These communications show the partnership s investment approach performance and expectations for the future alongside evaluations of specific investments Readers will find discussions on different types of securities such as bonds preferred stock and common stock across industries like railroads utilities and insurance Coleridge and Newman Philip C. Rule, 2004 By examining Samuel Taylor Coleridge s and John Henry Newman s parallel approaches to the central question of Christian apologetics the existence of God Coleridge and Newman The Centrality of Conscience documents more fully than ever before the extent of Coleridge s influence on Newman Both men sought to develop an argument for God s existence by understanding conscience as the moral self awareness that makes us human The study provides fresh readings of three texts by Coleridge and three by Newman The result of these comparative readings is a rhetoric that both informs and invites the reader to personal reflection

Schools for Growth Lois Holzman, 2016-05-06 A passionate deconstruction and reconstruction of learning development and schooling that urges teachers to explore and create new educational opportunities for themselves and their students Schools for Growth Radical Alternatives to Current Educational Models asks the following questions Can we create ways for people to learn the kinds of things that are necessary for functional adaptation without stifling their capacity to continuously create their growth Can schools become environments that support children to perform not only as learners but as developers of their lives This book challenges educators to look at the deeply rooted assumptions about schooling learning and development and urges that the way psychology and education have constructed our conceptions of what it means to teach to learn and to grow may be the most serious impediment to the learning and developing of children Beyond the criticism the author presents an original methodological reformation of what learning and development are as relational activities and then takes readers on a visit to three radical independent school settings Arguing that current educational models have been misguided by scientific psychology the author states that the dominant model of human development actually hinders development Moreover as learning theory has become infused with developmental theory over the past 30 years the overly cognitive manner in which psychologists have come to think about thinking learning and development has become further insinuated into education Both theories learning and developmental fail to recognize the human capacity for relational revolutionary activity and for performance The prevalent mode of education acquisitional learning is grounded in a world view that gives primacy to knowledge and knowing which Holzman believes is inconsistent with ongoing developmental activity The author focuses on developmental learning a social constructionist activity theoretic conception of development which includes a transformation and synthesis of Vygotsky and philosopher Ludwig Wittgenstein She also discusses educational projects that are self conscious attempts to break with key elements of modern epistemology and the dominant psychological paradigm as they are perpetrated in contemporary educational theory and practice Their specific philosophies and practices highlight important methodological issues raised in the attempt to create postmodern schools schools more concerned with growing than knowing The Quotable Newman Dave Armstrong, St. John Henry
