Hieroglyph of Time Marianne Shapiro, Renaissance Romance Dr Nandini Das, 2013-05-28 Romance was criticized for its perceived immorality throughout the Renaissance and even enthusiasts were often forced to acknowledge the shortcomings of its dated narrative conventions Yet despite that general condemnation the striking growth in English fiction in the late sixteenth and early seventeenth centuries is marked by writers who persisted in using this much maligned narrative form In Renaissance Romance Nandini Das examines why the fears and expectations surrounding the old genre of romance resonated with successive new generations at this particular historical juncture Across a range of texts in which romance was adopted by the court by popular print and by women Das shows how the process of realignment and transformation through which the new prose fiction took shape was driven by a generational consciousness that was always inherent in romance In the fiction produced by writers such as Sir Philip Sidney Robert Greene and Lady Mary Wroth the transformative interaction of romance with other emergent forms from the court masque to cartography was determined by specific configurations of social groups drawn along the lines of generational difference What emerged as a result of that interaction radically changed the possibilities of fiction in the period

Sir Philip Sidney and Arcadia Joan Rees, 1991 This book rejects the Calvinist and deconstructionist interpretations of Sidney and argues instead for a man of humane and generous sympathies who thought deeply about human experience and the art and function of writing

The Literary Culture of the Reformation Brian Cummings,2002 The Literary Culture of the Reformation examines the place of literature in the Reformation considering both how arguments about biblical meaning and literary interpretation influenced the new theology and how developments in theology in turn influenced literary practices Part One focuses on Northern Europe reconsidering the relationship between Renaissance humanism especially Erasmus and religious ideas especially Luther Parts Two and Three examine Tudor and early Stuart England Part Two describes the rise of vernacular theology and protestant culture in relation to fundamental changes in the understanding of the English language Part Three studies English religious poetry including Donne Herbert and in an Epilogue Milton in the wake of these changes Bringing together genres and styles of writing which are normally kept apart poems sermons treatises commentaries Brian Cummings offers a major re evaluation of the literary production of this intensely verbal and controversial period

Gallery of Clouds Rachel Eisendrath, 2021-05-11 A personal and critical work that celebrates the pleasure of books and reading Largely unknown to readers today Sir Philip Sidney's sixteenth century pastoral romance Arcadia was long considered one of the finest works of prose fiction in the English language Shakespeare borrowed an episode from it for King Lear Virginia Woolf saw it as some luminous globe wherein all the seeds of English fiction lie latent In Gallery of Clouds the Renaissance scholar Rachel Eisendrath has written an extraordinary homage to Arcadia in the form of a book length essay divided into passing clouds The clouds in my Arcadia the one I found and the one I made hold light and color They take on the forms of other things a cat the sea my grandmother the gesture of a teacher I loved a friend a girlfriend a ship at sail my mother These clouds stay still only as long as I look at them and then they change Gallery of Clouds opens in New York City with a dream or a vision of meeting Virginia Woolf in the afterlife Eisendrath holds out her manuscript an infinite moment passes and Woolf takes it and begins to read From here in this act of magical reading the book scrolls out in a series of reflective pieces linked through metaphors and ideas Golden threadlines tie each part to the next a rupture of time in a Pisanello painting Montaigne's practice of revision in his essays a segue through Vivian Gordon Harsh the first African American head librarian in the Chicago public library system a brief history of prose style a meditation on the active versus the contemplative life the story of Sarapion a fifth century monk the persistence of the pastoral image making and thought reading Willa Cather to her grandmother in her Chicago apartment the deviations of Walter Benjamin's scholarly romance The Arcades Project Eisendrath's wondrously woven hybrid work extols the materiality of reading its pleasures and delights with wild leaps and abounding grace

Dazzling Images Alan Hager, 1991 A discussion of Philip Sidney as a creator of fictions a critic and a poet who adopted a variety of personae to teach his readers how they could fool themselves into forgetting who they were both in the context of the psychic inner world and in the outer realm of social position Included in this study are Sidney's court entertainments now known as The Lady of May the Defence of Leicester Defence of Poetry and the Arcadias

English Humanism Joanna Martindale, 2025-04-01 The literature of the English Renaissance demands some attention to the intellectual and educational background which produced it in order to be seen in proper perspective The selection in this book originally published in 1985 both illustrate the intellectual climate of the English Renaissance and exemplify some of its characteristics though not strictly literary products These include education classicism and imitation wisdom and eloquence history and moral philosophy religion and vernacular scripture Erasmus has been given a dominant place in the anthology as the main mediator of humanist ideas to England other authors represented include Castiglione Machiavelli Sir Thomas Elyot Roger Ascham and Ben Jonson This volume charts precisely the debt of English Renaissance literature to Continental Humanism and the classical revival and is a valuable contribution to an understanding of the literature and society of the time
