On the Margins of Realism Ting Luo,2025-03-31 Realism has been endowed with a certain orthodox status as the aesthetic counterpart of China s modernization and studies of Chinese film history have largely accepted a master narrative of realism as the guiding aesthetic of mainland Chinese cinema This book argues however that alternative aesthetics to realism have always existed in Chinese cinema throughout its history from the early silent era to the new century The alternative aesthetics are closely linked to the indigenous Chinese ontology of cinema namely shadowplay yingxi The author presents an alternative account through a close examination of four distinct visual narrative and stylistic devices or themes that recur in different periods of Chinese film history the dream representation the doubling of characters the device of self reflexivity and the allegorical construction of space By considering specific films and scenes as problematic sites where history politics and aesthetics collide this book also seeks to elucidate the relationship between cinema and the multifaceted experiences of Chinese modernity with respect to subjectivity ideology identity and nationality This book will be of interest to scholars and students of Chinese cinemas realism and modernism Green

In the Supreme Court of the State of New York, 1928 Railway Conductors' Monthly, 1928 The Railway Conductor, 1928 Hollywood's Censor Thomas Doherty,2009-03-31 From 1934 to 1954 Joseph I Breen a media savvy Victorian Irishman reigned over the Production Code Administration the Hollywood office tasked with censoring the American screen Though little known outside the ranks of the studio system this former journalist and public relations agent was one of the most powerful men in the motion picture industry As enforcer of the puritanical Production Code Breen dictated final cut over more movies than anyone in the history of American cinema His editorial decisions profoundly influenced the images and values projected by Hollywood during the Great Depression World War II and the Cold War Cultural historian Thomas Doherty tells the absorbing story of Breen s ascent to power and the widespread effects of his reign Breen vetted story lines blue penciled dialogue and excised footage a process that came to be known as Breening to fit the demands of his strict moral framework Empowered by industry insiders and millions of like minded Catholics who supported his missionary zeal Breen strove to protect innocent souls from the temptations beckoning from the motion picture screen There were few elements of cinematic production beyond Breen s reach he oversaw the editing of A list feature films low budget B movies short subjects previews of coming attractions and even cartoons Populated by a colorful cast of characters including Catholic priests Jewish moguls visionary auteurs hardnosed journalists and bluenose agitators Doherty's insightful behind the scenes portrait brings a tumultuous era and an individual both feared and admired to vivid life Hollywood's Image of the South David Ebner, Larry Langman, 2001-09-30 From the 1920s and 1930s when American cinema depicted the South as a demi paradise populated by wealthy landowners glamorous belles and happy slaves through later more realistic depictions of the region in films based on works by Erskine Caldwell Tennessee Williams William Faulkner and Robert Penn Warren Hollywood's view of the South has been as ever changing as the place itself This comprehensive reference guide to Southern films offers credits plot descriptions and analyses of how the stereotypes and characterizations in each film contribute to our understanding of a most contentious American time and place Organized by subjects including Economic Conditions Plantation Life The Ku Klux Klan and The New Politics Hollywood's Image of the South seeks to coin a new genre by describing its conventions and attitudes Even so the Southern film crosses all known generic boundaries including the comedy the women's film the noir and many others This invaluable guide to an under recognized category of American cinema illustrates how much there is to learn about a time and place from watching the movies that aim to capture it Working the System Qiliang He, 2023-01-03 In Working the System Motion Picture Filmmakers and Subjectivities in Mao Era China 1949 1966 Qiliang He inquired into the making of the new citizenry in Mao era China 1949 1976 by studying five preeminent Shanghai based filmmakers These case studies shed light on how individuals subjectivities took shape in the cinematic arena under a new sociopolitical system after 1949 He suggests that a filmmaker's subjectivity was not fixed or stable but constantly in flux requiring a host of subjectivizing practices to re shape and consolidate it These filmmakers endeavored to reap maximal benefits from Mao's sociopolitical system and minimize the disadvantages that would make them victims under the system In short Qiliang He argues that the filmmakers not only worked under the socialist system imposed upon them but also worked the system in their best interests Through five chosen filmmakers creative control and their negotiation of their professional status within China's newly adopted socialist system the author presents a compelling case that illustrates how individual filmmakers constantly adjusted themselves professionally and ideologically to survive in a fast changing industry and a highly politicized society Lin Feng University of Leicester This book is a strong example of how much more we can learn about Mao era Chinese culture if we approach it less as alien due to Cold War prejudices and instead think of artists as creating under professional constraints in China just as they do everywhere Jason McGrath University of Minnesota Directory of Public Secondary Schools in the State of California , 1929
