Skin Senses:

The Skin Senses Dan R. Kenshalo, 1968 Psychology Problem Solver, 1989-01-01 The Problem Solvers are an exceptional series of books that are thorough unusually well organized and structured in such a way that they can be used with any text No other series of study and solution guides has come close to the Problem Solvers in usefulness quality and effectiveness Educators consider the Problem Solvers the most effective series of study aids on the market Students regard them as most helpful for their school work and studies With these books students do not merely memorize the subject matter they really get to understand it Each Problem Solver is over 1 000 pages yet each saves hours of time in studying and finding solutions to problems These solutions are worked out in step by step detail thoroughly and clearly Each book is fully indexed for locating specific problems rapidly For students taking basic and advanced psychology courses Each chapter provides comprehensive explanations and solutions to problems and ends with a series of short questions and answers to help in preparation for exams Also included is a particularly helpful guide to writing experimental reports Art and the Senses Francesca Bacci, David Melcher, 2011-08-04 The senses play a vital role in our health our social interactions and in enjoying food music and the arts The book provides a unique interdisciplinary overview of the senses ranging from the neuroscience of sensory processing in the body to cultural influences on how the senses are used in society to the role of the senses in the arts Sensory Functions of the Skin of Humans Dan R. Kenshalo, 2012-12-06 This volume represents the Proceedings of the Second International Symposium on Skin Senses held on the campus of Florida State University Tallahassee Florida The symposium was held on June 5 through 7 1978 in honor of Professor Yngve Zotterman to commemorate his 80th birthday and his more than 50 years of energetic involvement in physiological and psychophysical problems of cutaneous gustatory and olfactory sensitivities The First International Symposium on Skin Senses was intended to stimulate dialogues between electrophysiologists and psychophysicists in order to examine the mechanisms of cutaneous sensitivity by way of a multidisciplinary approach The 12 years since that meeting has seen much progress in the morphology electrophysiology and taxonomy of cutaneous receptors There has been a growing awareness among psychophysicists that not only are psychometric threshold functions of importance but descriptions of the growth of sensations to suprathreshold stimuli are of at least equal importance One of the most exciting recent events has been the development of a technique that permits recording activity in single primary afferent nerve fibers by poking a microelectrode through the skin into a nerve bundle microneurography This development allows one to conduct psychophysical measurements of sensation and at the same time to sample the primary neural activity associated with the same stimuli The aim of this symposium was to bring together psychophysicists and microneurographers in order to explore the power and the limitations of such an approach when applied to the cutaneous senses Culture and the Senses Prof. Kathryn Geurts, 2003-01-09 Adding her stimulating and finely framed ethnography to recent work in the anthropology of the senses Kathryn Geurts investigates the cultural meaning system and resulting sensorium of Anlo Ewe speaking people in southeastern Ghana Geurts discovered that the five senses model has little relevance in Anlo culture where balance is a sense and balancing in a physical and psychological sense as well as in literal and metaphorical ways is an essential component of what it means to be human Much of perception falls into an Anlo category of seselelame literally feel feel at flesh inside in which what might be considered sensory input including the Western sixth sense notion of intuition comes from bodily feeling and the interior milieu The kind of mind body dichotomy that pervades Western European Anglo American cultural traditions and philosophical thought is absent Geurts relates how Anlo society privileges and elaborates what we would call kinesthesia which most Americans would not even identify as a sense After this nuanced exploration of an Anlo Ewe theory of inner states and their way of delineating external experience readers will never again take for granted the naturalness of sight touch taste hearing and smell Study Guide for Psychology, Seventh Edition Richard O. Myers, 2003-06-20 This new edition continues the story of psychology with added research and enhanced content from the most dynamic areas of the field cognition gender and diversity studies neuroscience and more while at the same time using the most effective teaching approaches and learning tools Physiological Psychology Thomas Brown, 2012-12-02 Physiological Psychology explores the trends in physiological psychology a rapidly growing and changing field that deals with the relationship between physiology and behavior It considers the physiological correlates of emotions and how emotions are related to specific kinds of brain activity the plasticity of the nervous system as it relates to learning and memory and higher processes such as thinking decision making reasoning and language Organized into 16 chapters the book begins with an overview of the nervous system and the neuron emphasizing the sensory systems vision audition the chemical senses olfaction and taste and the somatosensory and vestibular systems Then it discusses the physiological bases of some of the more primitive behaviors such as hunger thirst reproduction sleep and emotion In particular it examines the motor system of the brain the motivation for food and water the biological bases of sexual behavior the biological rhythms and sleep and the role of genetics nutrition environment and hormones in development The last chapter deals with the cortex and its role in the higher processes This book is a valuable resource for psychologists biologists chemists physicists engineers nutritionists and many others interested in the relationship between biology and behavior Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), 1968 Includes subject section name section and 1968 1970 technical reports Real World Psychology Catherine A.
