The Baba of Melaka Tan Chee-Beng, 2022-12-07. The fullest and most comprehensive ethnography of the Baba community in Malaysia. The author is a meticulous ethnographer and provides three chapters of richly detailed information on Baba kinship and marriage practices, ancestor worship, Chinese folk religion and festivals and a variety of Baba social patterns and organizations. This is certainly a necessary and pleasurable reading material for scholars of Malaysia and for those interested in ethnicity more generally. Professor Judith Nagata, Pacific Affairs 62:2, 1989. Based on a long-term ethnographic study, the new edition of this book provides a comprehensive description of Baba culture and identity in Melaka, Malaysia. Tan Chee Beng's landmark study analyses the term Baba, the development of Baba society, their distribution in Melaka and overt features of identity: the Baba Malay dialect, customs and religion, kinship and social interactions, all of which tie in to changes in Baba identity. By discussing cultural change and ethnic identification of a Chinese Peranakan community in Malaysia, the reader can gain a more complete understanding of this unique minority group within a minority in a rapidly changing Malaysian context.

Conflict Management and Intercultural Communication Xiaodong Dai, Guo-Ming Chen, 2022-11-15. Conflict management and harmony building are two key issues of intercultural communication research and merit particular attention in the globally interconnected world. In the expanded second edition, the book explores the effective ways to manage intercultural conflict and develop intercultural harmony and takes an interdisciplinary approach to address the two issues. The book begins with the theoretical perspectives on conflict management and harmony building. It examines intercultural communication, ethics, diversity and inclusion, conflict resolution, conflict face negotiation and intercultural competence. It presents both Western and non-Western perspectives. The book then addresses in its second section conflict management and harmony building in specific contexts. These include communication in intergenerational relationships, multinational corporations and virtual spaces and covers a range of national cultures including the USA, Japan, Germany and China. Drawing on the current research findings, this book covers the major theoretical perspectives and provides for a wide range of discussions on intercultural conflict management. It is a crucial reference for teachers, students, researchers and practitioners alike.
