Supporting Early Childhood Practice Through Difficult

Times Ute Ward, 2024-08-28 Supporting Early Childhood Practice Through Difficult Times encourages early childhood students and practitioners to take stock of current practices and pedagogies in light of challenges like the COVID 19 pandemic ecological concerns and regulatory pressures The contributions from various scholars and practitioners present a range of theoretical concepts as well as innovative practice examples inviting deep reflection on your own beliefs and attitudes They examine and envisage different ways of working with and for young children their families and communities for a better future Chapters in this timely book include experts from around the globe examining key issues in early childhood education The first section questions the increasing digitalisation in nurseries and pre schools and its impact on staff members parents and children The second section focuses on workforce development management systems and the role of parents in policymaking The third section showcases innovative pedagogical approaches looking beyond widely accepted early learning goals assessments and curricula to develop inclusive environments that foster all children s development and learning Lastly the fourth section steps back from day to day practice and considers what concern for the environment social justice and posthumanism means for early childhood education and pedagogy This book will be a key resource for early childhood education and care practitioners graduate students policymakers and researchers facilitating the step from the

here and now to revised future practice and policy that will enable all children to flourish Social Isolation in Modern Society Roelof Hortulanus, Anja Machielse, Ludwien Meeuwesen, 2006-06-28 Social isolation has serious repercussions for people and communities across the globe yet knowledge about this phenomenon has remained rather limited until now The first multidisciplinary study to explore this issue Social Isolation in Modern Society integrates relevant research traditions in the social sciences and brings together sociological theories of social networks and psychological theories of feelings of loneliness Both traditions are embedded in research with the results of a large scale international study being used to describe the extent nature and divergent manifestations of social isolation With a new approach to social inequality this empirically based study includes concrete policy recommendations and presents a clear insight into personal social and socio economic causes and the consequences of social isolation Delinquency in Society Regoli, John D. Hewitt, Matt
